The King Wrote 'Nothing.' A Smile for Gabriel. 'Gentlemen's Agreement.' One Question. You Answer.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

YESTERDAY FRANCE celebrated her great day, the "Quatorze Juillet" and the tearing down of the Bastille Prison. There were celebrations in the Place de la Bastille and farther on in what used to be called the Place de Trone, with its two big monuments, and all over Paris.

The original July 14 was a great day for France and all the world. The people compelled the three dominating powers, royalty, nobility and clergy, to get off their backs.

The revolution produced Napoleon, "the little Corsican with the itch," sent by the revolution to conquer Italy and Austria, and finally it produced the powerful French republic.

THE WISE, including our best minds, should remember one incident in connection with that original 14th of July. At the end of the day, King Louis XVI, soon to lose his head, wrote in his diary the one word rien—meaning "Nothing." In his shooting at Fontainebleau that day he had not killed anything. But his subjects, in the Place de la Bastille, had killed something. Its name was "the divine right of kings."

DO ANGELS smile? If so, Gabriel smiled when he saw the good ship Transylvania, bound for Bermuda. The American Bible Conference Association, on board, gathered at the bar, and ate straight vanilla or mixed ice cream. No jazz orchestra, no dancing or such frivolity. Six hundred young and old sang "There is a Happy Land, Far, Far Away."

IF ONLY all America were like that, under prohibition, but it isn't. You're told on good authority that France is sending more champagne here now than was sent before prohibition.

It costs more, but there is strange satisfaction for certain citizens in breaking the law.

ITALY, FRANCE, Britain are reported to be united in a "gentlemen's agreement." Under that agreement, according to good authority, not one of those nations will repay any part of its debt to Uncle Sam without the knowledge and approval of the others. If that is called "A GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT" what would Europe call the other kind of agreement?

IT IS ANNOUNCED that President Hoover and Mr. Bennett, of the Canadian government, have agreed on digging the St. Lawrence Canal. It would give ocean ships access to Great Lakes cities and midwestern farms. The price suggested, eight hundred millions, would be cheap.

Ordinarily a canal entirely on United States soil would be demanded, but there is no doubt that our harmonious relations and friendly competition with Canada will last indefinitely.

THE NEXT STEP should be a canal taking ocean ships from Chicago and the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico through the Mississippi Valley, giving a southern as well as an eastern door to the outside world and the oceans.

That would be insurance in case of any accident to the St. Lawrence canal.

THE PROPOSED St. Lawrence canal will have two dams, developing 2,000,000 electric horse power. One will be in Ontario, one in New York state. Will Canada's share of the power be owned and used by the people of Canada, sold to Canadians at half the price charged in the United States, as happens at Niagara Falls?

And will New York's share of the state power be owned by private individuals, taking "all the traffic will bear" and charging double the price of power in Canada, as now happens with private United States companies at Niagara Falls?

How would you bet on that question?

MUCH TROUBLE in South America. Uruguay and the Argentine have broken off diplomatic relations, do not speak.

Brazil's revolution seems serious.

Paraguay and Bolivia have a quarrel about the Gran Chaco boundary. There are revolts in Peru and Ecuador.

Under ordinary conditions all this would be the cue for some other nation, European or Asiatic, to step in and annex territory. The Monroe Doctrine prevents that, and South America ought to know it.

CERTAIN TEACHERS in Chicago, paid no salaries in many months, have been absolutely unable to pay taxes on their homes. Now the city that didn't pay their salaries, threatens to seize their houses and put them out.

The government reconstruction fund was able to advance eighty million dollars to one Chicago bank in trouble, and doubtless advanced it wisely. Why can't it help Chicago in its financial troubles, taking for security Chicago city bonds?

Anybody who knows the people of Chicago know that those bonds would be ultimately as good as any in the world, in principal and interest.

ST. SWITHIN DAY HINTS DROUGHT

Today, St. Swithin's Day, was momentous, if there is any virtue in the ancient English legend which runs like this:

"St. Swithin's Day, if it do rain,
For 40 days it will remain.
St. Swithin's Day if it be fair,
For 40 days 'twill rain nae mair."

Whether rain would fall was uncertain. Forecaster W. S. Brotzman predicted local thundershowers late today or tonight, but no break in the heat wave. Disdaining to take official notice of the St. Swihtin weather lore, quoth he:

"Like groundhog day, just one of those things."

Magee Hurt, Injuries Serious

Former Congressman James M. Magee, 5628 Forbes street, chairman of the Pennsylvania Securities Commission, today was in a critical condition in the Harrisburg Hospital from injuries received yesterday in an automobile collision at Lemoyne, a Harrisburg suburb.

Mrs. Magee was at his bedside. An X-ray will be taken to determine whether Magee has a fractured skull.

The Pittsburgher received his injuries while being driven to the Harrisburg airport where he was to have boarded a plane for Pittsburgh.

W. J. Magoun and his daughter, Margaret, 12, of Steelton, Magee's companions, suffered slight hurts.

20,000 Sailors Drink 'Double Tot' to King

WEYMOUTH, England, July 15.—(INS.)—Twenty thousand officers and men of the home fleet enthusiastically drank the King's health today at the conclusion of the battle maneuvers when by his personal order the command, "Splice the mainbrace," flashed from the royal yacht.

This meant a double tot of rum for everyone and it was the first time that it had been given since the armistice.

HOOVER CUTS SALARY $15,000

Cabinet Members Get 15 Pct. Slash In Pay

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP.)—President Hoover today ruled himself a $15,000-a-year reduction in salary and simultaneously reduced the salaries of his cabinet officers by 15 per cent.

The order, cutting cabinet members from $15,000 a year to $12,750 a year, was issued while the President sat with them at his regular semi-weekly cabinet meeting.

Mr. Hoover himself, it was said, took a 20 per cent cut as the maximum allowed under the law. Ordinarily he receives $75,000 a year.

STATEMENT ISSUED

The following statement was issued at the White House:

"The President has received the unanimous request from members of the cabinet that they should be subject to the maximum reduction of salaries possible under the Economy bill. The President has, therefore, issued the necessary order by which they will be reduced 15 per cent instead of the alternative which would amount to 8 1-3 per cent under the furlough provisions."

It was understood authoritatively that undersecretaries in the various departments would receive a 10 per cent cut under the same orders, and assistant secretaries a 9 per cent reduction.

Under the recent economy bill, the President and other cabinet officials are permitted to return portions of their salary to the Treasury.

CURTIS SMILES

Vice President Curtis was the first member to leave the cabinet meeting after the order had been announced. He read the first line of it, but then smiled and handed the copy back to newspapermen, saying:

"Yes, I signed that order myself yesterday."

He calculated that his monthly pay check now would be reduced from $1,250 to about $1,000.

The salary of the Vice President, like that of members of the cabinet, is $15,000 annually.

The under secretaries of the State Department and Treasury Department receiver $10,000 yearly, as does Solicitor General Thatcher, Assistant Secretary Payne, of the War Department, and Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce.

Other assistant secretaries and the assistant attorneys general draw $9,000 each.

Calles Train Party Passes Through City

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, minister of war and former president of Mexico, passed through Pittsburgh early today en route to Mexico with his wife, who recently underwent an operation in Boston. The Calles party traveled in two private cars.

Except for a detail of Pennsylvania Railroad detectives there was no sign of activity on the two cars. A bouquet of flowers, presumably from the Mexican legation in Pittsburgh, for Senora Calles was placed on the train.

Girl Freed By Jurges' Plea

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP.)—Bill Jurges, star Cub shortstop, stepped into court with a timely assist today to save his gun-toting girl assailant from prosecution on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

After answering two questions put to him by the assistant state's attorney concerning the shooting, in which Miss Violet Popovich Valli wounded him twice and herself once, Jurges suddenly halted in the midst of a sentence with:

"I have no desire to testify."

Judge John Sbarbaro asked:

"Do you think you will have no more trouble?"

"No, I wish to drop this case."

The judge ruled:

"Then the case is dismissed for want of prosecution, and let's hope that no more ball players are shot."

Questioned as to her plans, Miss Valli, a striking brunette dressed in a fashionable white crepe dress, said:

"After what's happened, I feel I owe it to my self-respect to consider the entire matter a thing of the past."

Miss Valli, a divorcee, entered Jurges' room at the Carlos Hotel, adjacent to Wrigley Field, on the morning of July 6. After making another vain bid for Jurges' love, she took a revolver from her handbag and started to shoot. In the struggle for the gun, Jurges was shot in the right side and left hand. Miss Valli was wounded in the left hand, but none of the wounds were serious.

Jurges has recovered sufficiently to don a uniform again and work out with the Cubs during the past two days.

HOOVER YIELDS ON RELIEF BILL

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP.)—Whether the mammoth relief bill will be sent to the White House containing the provision for publicity to Renonstruction Corporation loans remained a question today, while President Hoover served notice that the responsibility would be on Congress if that section is made law.

Representative Rainey, the Democratic leader, said the House would insist on the disputed clause and "we accept the responsibility."

Conferences to adjust the differences between Senate and House on the legislation had yet to agree.

After conferring with Mr. Hoover, Democratic senatorial conferees insisted he would not veto the bill even if publicity for the loans is kept in it. Some of the conferees of the Senate apparently were impressed by the President's objections to that provision, and indicated they were not ready to yield to the House on it.

But Speaker Garner expected the Senate to yield, and told newspapermen Congress probably would adjourn tomorrow in view of President Hoover's "surrender" on the publicity issue.

Garner Demands Law Be Enforced as Men Mass at Capitol

WASHINGTON, July 15.—While bonus veterans continued today their "march of death" before the Capitol, officials clashed over methods of handling the situation and a feeling of tense anxiety spread throughout the city.

Authorities charged with policing the Capitol itself exhibited irritation with the district police, headed by Gen. Pelham Glassford, and Speaker Garner announced that the law prohibiting such demonstrations as that which has now continued for more than 48 hours must be enforced, no matter how many men it might take, nor what source they came from.

POLICE HEAD SCORED

Last night a detachment of Marines arrived at the Capitol plaza, but the orders which summoned them were quickly rescinded. Speaker Garner said he had no responsibility for calling the Marines, adding that he understood Vice President Curtis had asked for them, although he did not get this information direct.

Curtis said he had merely requested some time ago that troops be held in readiness. Nevertheless, Capitol officials appeared angered by Gen. Glassford's part in dismissing the Marines from the scene.

Glassford, who time and again has been cheered by the veterans, took no immediate notice of the criticism of his course, except to say that he was enforcing the law to the best of his knowledge as he saw it.

GARNER UPHOLDS LAW

After conferring with the sergeant-at-arms of the House and Senate, and David Lynn, architect of the Capitol, in his office, Speaker Garner said:

"I have taken the position that the law must be enforced. We have asked the chief of police to furnish enough men to do this. No law should be suspended merely because a number of gentlemen desire certain legislation.

"The law ought to be enforced. No exception should be made simply because they are veterans. If there are not sufficient men here to enforce it, there should be more. It doesn't make any difference where they come from or how many men are brought here."

CAPITOL STATEMENT

The Capitol authorities, with whom Garner conferred, issued a statement which said, in part:

"For three days and nights a

Succop at Butler Court

JUDGE THOMAS D. FINLETTER COL. BERTRAM L. SUCCOP

Col. Succop, convicted and deposed director of supplies for the city, entering the Courthouse today at Butler, where the cases against him and Mayor Charles Howard Kline were argued before Trial Judge Finletter. These are Sun-Telegraph pictures.

Plea Made to Save Kline; Judge Nettled

By WILLIAM PFARR
Staff Correspondent.

BUTLER, Pa., July 15.—With Mayor Charles H. Kline's tenure in office at stake, counsel fought an oral battle today before Judge Thomas D. Finletter, the defense to have him freed, the commonwealth to clinch the conviction of a Butler County jury, thus ousting him as Pittsburgh's chief executive.

Opening the arguments for Kline, Attorney Charles B. Prichard characterized the jury's conviction on one malfeasance chage as "inconsistent and contradictory" in that the Mayor had been acquitted of buying trucks from Henry Braun but had been found guilty of paying for them.

For the prosecution, Attorney W. D. Stewart, special aide of District Attorney Andrew T. Park, declared the high courts have decided each count of an indictment must be considered separately and that Kline's ignorance of details of the Braun purchase was no defense.

APPEAL FOR SUCCOP

Arguments in behalf of Kline's deposed supplies director and co-defendant, Bertram L. Succop, were also to be made by Prichard, under a last-minute change, instead of by Col. E. L. Kearns, personal counsel for Succop.

In each case the court was asked to set aside the verdict, and, failing in that, counsel asked that each be granted a new trial.

Succop was on hand for the arguments. Kline remained in Pittsburgh.

Battling to save Mayor Kline from political oblivion, Prichard declared:

"By acquitting the Mayor on the fourth count, in which he was charged with buying these Braun trucks, the jury agreed no crime was committed. If,

3 Captains, 5 Others Draw Promotions in Kline Shakeup

Three police inspectors were demoted, three captains, two lieutenants and three patrolmen advanced in the long-awaited police shakeup emanating from the office of Mayor Charles H. Kline in a final coup to regain his shattered political power.

Official verification of the shakeup followed close upon the heels of a secret conference between the Mayor, Police Supt. Walsh and Director James M. Clark in Walsh's office at noon.

First to receive official notice of his demotion was Inspector Charles Faulkner, of the North Side. The other inspectors demoted are James N. Hoey, of the Oakland district, and Joseph Elsner, of the West End. Faulkner announced he would resign. The others could not be reached immediately.

BLOCK TO NORTH SIDE

Appointed to Faulkner's place was Capt. Anthony Block, of the North Side. Patrolman John M. Flavin was named to succeed Block.

In the Oakland district former Capt. of Detectives John W. Barry was named to succeed Hoey. Lieut. Thomas P. Lyons was advanced to the rank of captain and Patrolman John A. Showalter was named lieutenant.

In the West End district, Inspector Albert Beebe, of the First District, was transferred to succeed Elsner. Capt. Harry J. Mellon was elevated to the inspectorship of the Downtown district. Lieut. Thomas F. Gross was advanced to captain in the First District.

CAPTAINS SHIFTED

Several other shifts also were announced in the shakeup. Capt. John H. Schnurr, formerly assigned to the Downtown district, was transferred to the South Side, and Capt. John J. McFarland was transferred to the West End to work under Inspector Beebe.

Faulkner, upon receiving official notification of his demotion by special delivery registered mail, put on his hat and coat and walked from his private office into

Three Convicts Shot In Escape Attempt

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(INS.)—One convict was shot to death and two others seriously wounded in a battle with sheriff's deputies here today.

The battle began when one of the convicts slipped a pair of handcuffs off his wrists and attempted to deliver himself and his companions from custody. Officers said the men were being taken to Long Beach for a new trial, after having been brought back to Los Angeles from San Quentin.

Harry Bannister Denies Engagement

LUBBOCK, Tex., July 15.—(AP.)—Harry Bannister, actor and former husband of Ann Harding, stage and screen actress, today said a report that he was engaged to 18-year-old Nanci Lyon, of Los Angeles, "was ridiculous." Bannister, en route to New York in his airplane, said:

"She's a grand little girl, but it doesn't look as though I'm getting married, on my way to England, does it?"

Recorder Foster's Home Ransacked

Thieves entered the home of Samuel D. Foster, county recorder of deeds, 5852 Marlborough avenue, some time since Sunday night, while the family was away on vacation, police were notified today.

Detectives were taking fingerprints found on the safe, but were unable to tell if anything had been taken, they said. Entrance was gained through a cellar window.

Away During Blaze, Clairton Man Says

Marko Mrkonic, 30, of 123 Park avenue, Clairton, was at Conneaut Lake Park when his home burned, he told county detectives today. Mrkonic was arrested at the request of Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr.

Debt Cancellation Plot, Hearst Air Talk Topic

LOS ANGELES, July 15—(INS.)—The topic of William Randolph Hearst's address over a nationwide network of the National Broadcasting Company, tomorrow night, was announced today as "The Debt Cancellation Conspiracy."

Mr. Hearst will speak from Station KFI in Los Angeles, from 7:30 to 7:45 p. m., Pacific Coast time, which is 11:30 to 11:45 p. m. Pittsburgh time. In the East he will be heard through the WEAF-red network of the NBC, including station WCAE in Pittsburgh.

The short-wave facilities of the National Broadcasting Company will be used to carry the broadcast to foreign countries.

DRYS IN WRANGLE OVER STAND ON HOOVER CANDIDACY

INDORSEMENT FOUGHT BY CANNON

Other Report Framed Urges Support of President

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Two reports, one merely citing the records of Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt "and letting the records speak for themselves," and another indorsing Mr. Hoover for re-election, caused a spirited wrangle today at the final session of the prohibition board of strategy.

The first report, drafted by a sub-committee headed by Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington and Bishop James Cannon, Jr., did not indorse either candidate. As soon as it was presented the substitute was reported by another group of drys and threw the gathering in an uproar.

Reporters were barred from the meeting.

Borah Again Spurns Third Party Nomination

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP.)—Senator Borah, of Idaho, received a Prohibition party spokesman today, but reiterated afterward he is not considering a third party nomination "at this time."

Dr. Leigh Colvin, chairman of the Prohibition party which recently offered its nomination to Borah and then turned to William D. Upshaw, of Georgia, for President, visited the Idaho Independent Republican with S. Earl Taylor, of California, secretary of the Federated Church Brotherhoods of California.

Colvin said afterward that there might be some developments later.

DRY ROW FACES OHIO G. O. P.

COLUMBUS, O., July 15.—(AP.)—Despite an impending floor battle, managers of the Ohio Republican platform convention sat back today confident the prohibition plank of the national convention would go over with a bang.

The convention resolutions committee went into a huddle last night and two hours later overrode a minority for a dripping wet plank in favor of the more conservative national plank.

David S. Ingalls, Ohio's "boy" gubernatorial candidate, brought the convention to its feet several times with a declaration that he stood "for repeal of all present prohibition laws." Hardly had he started when a cry of "We want beer" rang from the floor and the galleries.

2 HOLD UP CAR IN EMSWORTH

With drawn revolvers, two men early today robbed Thomas McDonough, operator of an Emsworth street car, of $35 and a watch, near the end of the line in Center street, Emsworth.

The men flagged the car, one boarding it, he said. McDonough, seeing only one man board the car, stopped again and the second man jumped aboard. Then both whipped out revolvers and held him up.

Railroad Cleared In Crossing Death

A verdict of accidental death was returned in the case of Genevieve Barkemyre, 19, of Beaver street, McKeesport, killed in a grade crossing accident. The jury recommended that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad clear the crossing so that motorists may have a better view of the tracks.

Incinerater Plant Damaged by Blaze

Fire in the Pennsylvania Railroad incinerator building, Twenty-first street and Allegheny River today caused $2,000 damage. The two-story building is used for destroying produce yard rubbish.

RAPS CABINET MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS.)—The political activities of three members of the Hoover cabinet were caustically assailed in the Senate today by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader.

Robinson's broadside was directed against Secretary of the Treasury Mills, Secretary of War Hurley and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, whom he charged with neglecting official duties to make partisan political speeches. He said:

"These men are three musketeers of the Hoover administration. They scoff at the proposals of the great Democratic presidential nominee that the people be given a new deal.

"They insist on playing the game with marked cards."

2 Held Without Bail In Robbery Series

CHARLEROI, Pa., July 15.—Robert Chisholm, 28, of Homestead, and Raymond Alberts, 18, of McKeesport, arrested after two Charleroi chain stores were held up, were held for court without bail today on a series of robbery charges. They are said to have threatened to kill a Fallowfield Township constable after they had been arrested. Police said they admitted several robberies.

Dying Boy Wins Mercy for His Assailant

DENVER, July 15.—(AP.)—Eugene Davis, 15, died in a hospital yesterday after asking exoneration of a man who beat him fatally three months ago.

The boy's father, Police Sergt. E. S. Davis, said he would abide by his son's wishes and take no action against the assailant, whose name was not divulged.

Eugene was engaged in a fist fight in Washington Park, his father said. The man involved stopped the fight, knocked the Davis boy down and kicked him into insensibility. Sergt. Davis said:

"The man has three children and has been out of work for a year. My boy had no bitterness for him."

Rocket Builder Out For Altitude Work

BERLIN, July 15.—(AP.)—Johannes Winkler, builder of a liquid fuel rocket which he calls a "space ship," left today for the Island of Griefswalder, in the Baltic Sea, where he expects to set a new altitude record with his rocket No. 13.

Only half the possible fuel capacity will be used for reasons of economy, he said, but even so he expects the rocket to reach an altitude hitherto unachieved by a similar device.

APPEAL TO SAVE KLINE MADE

then, it was not a crime to buy the trucks, how is it a crime to pay for them, as the jury found by convicting the Mayor on the fifth count.

BLAMES CONTROLLER

"Furthermore, responsibility for that payment rests not with the Mayor, but with the Controller who has charge of city moneys.

"The Controller (Evans) approved the Braun bill for $6,700 after a proper audit. If he had not, the bill would not have been paid.

"No verdict based on the fifth count can stand, and how in the world can anybody fail to see that it is inconsistent and contradictory?

"Mayor Kline could not commit a misdemeanor in the Department of Supplies. Only the Director of Supplies could do that.

"Kline and Succop could be charged with assault and battery on, let us say, Judge Galbreath here. But that would be outside their office.

Attorney Stewart for the commonwealth, argued that the Mayor's "ignorance" of certain details in the Braun purchase did not constitute a defense. He said:

"He cannot evade the responsibility so easily as that."

JUDGE NETTLED

Judge Finletter interrupted Stewart to point out that the prosecution must show the illegality of the contract with Braun.

When Stewart answered that Finletter himself had told the jury the transaction was illegal, his honor appeared nettled and answered:

"Never mind what I told the jury. We're arguing this transaction right here now."

Then his honor's nose glasses fell off.

In answer to the defense's contention that the verdict against Kline was inconsistent, Stewart said:

"Higher courts have held that each count in an indictment is to be regarded separately."

Finletter and Stewart clashed a second time on the wording of the fifth count.

The court appeared to find fault with this count because it assumed the Mayor guilty in the fourth count.

Stewart conceded repetition, but contended it was simply for background.

Both sides had briefs ready to file for Judge Finletter's perusal following the oral arguments. It is hardly likely Judge Finletter will announce the decision before one or two weeks.

FACES 29 COUNTS

Succop, discharged as city supplies director by Mayor Kline, was convicted on 29 counts, most of them based on illegal purchases of furniture, meats, trucks, tires and fire hose.

Aiding Attorney Prichard today were Attorney Edward G. Coll, Zeno Henninger and former Judge Thomas Galbreath.

Stewart and Park relied in Special Prosecutor Earl F. Reed and Assistant District Attorney George F. P. Langfitt.

LORETTO BOY'S PRISON CAMP DEATH SIFTED

Governor of Florida Orders New Probe Of Killing

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service.

TALLAHASEE, Fla., July 15.—A sweeping new inquiry into the killing of Harold Bradley, 2 20-year-old Pennsylvania youth, by a guard in Indiantown (Fla.) prison camp last May, was under way today by state prison inspectors under orders from Gov. Doyle E. Carlton.

The Governor apparently was dissatisfied with the meager reports given his office on the Bradley case by state officials. He ordered state prison inspectors to "get all the facts" and "make them public."

This was the Governor's reaction to charges, voiced in Loretto, Pa., the home town of young Bradley, that the youth had been treated "cruelly and inhumanly" at the Indiantown camp.

SEEKS SHOWDOWN

The Governor was determined to end all dispute both over the treatment of Bradley, prior to the killing, and over the manner in which he came to his death.

The Governor was much upset over charges that Bradley was shot four times by the guard, one shot being fired into his body after he had fallen wounded by prior shots. He went so far as to order a new report from Dr. S. L. Parker, the camp physician, who performed an autopsy on the boy's body, calling in particular for the number of wounds.

The Governor and other state officials were disturbed by the widespread publicity given the "torture death" of Arthur Maillefert, 19-year-old New Jersey boy, in a prison camp near Jacksonville, Fla. They feared public reaction against the state of Florida if a fresh scandal developed over the death of Bradley. They saw no way to escape the coincidence that two northern boys were killed in Florida prison camps.

DROPS INQUIRY

A search of records, filed in the office of Agriculture Commissioner Nathan Mayo, revealed that Capt. Peter Tomasello, Sr., in charge of the camp where Bradley met his death, asked permission to deny reports that the boy had been treated "cruelly and inhumanly" and to stage an independent investigation of the killing.

When he was granted that permission, the camp captain announced he would issue no such denial and make no such inquiry because he did not desire to get into a newspaper controversy.

TORTURE PROBE RESUMED

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 15.—(INS.)—The Duval County grand jury resumed its secret inquiry today into conditions at nearby prison camps, including the Sunbeam camp, at which Arthur Maillefert, 19-year-old New Jersey boy, was the victim of a "torture death."

Al F. Gorman, grand jury foreman, led the inquiry, after paying a surprise visit to the Raiford prison farm, where 15 guards and 79 prisoners were transferred from the Sunbeam camp following public outcry over the Maillefert death.

The New Jersey boy was strangled to death, when two guards chained him by the neck in a sweatbox.

The guards, Capt. George W. Courson and Solomon M. Higginbotham, have been indicted for first degree murder.

Cooper Selected For Eslick's Post

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS.)—Representative Jere Cooper, of Tennessee, today was named by the Democratic caucus to succeed the late Representative Edward R. Three Police Inspectors Hit by Kline Ax the courtroom. The notice stated the demotion was "for the good of the service."

Approaching the desk where sat Sergt. David Cloughly, Faulkner casually remarked:

"Well, I got the gate. I'll see all you boys in September."

To newspapermen, he said:

"I'm going over to Walsh's office to tender my resignation and apply for a pension. Then I'm going to Conneaut Lake to spend the summer with my family."

The police shakeup has been looked for for several months. A general program of transfers and shift of police and fire officials has been forecast and in practically every precinct, those anticipating the Mayor's orders were prepared for sudde naction.

The shakeup, predicted these several months back, reveals the Mayor's hand in a last effort to regain control of his shattered political power.

Faulkner, linked with Sam Grenet, Kline political foe in the North Side, was booked for the skids, close observers said, following the ultimatum of Councilman Harry Little, who told the Mayor:

"It's either Faulkner or me."

HOEY AIDE OF COYNE

Hoey, a political lieutenant of State Senator James J. Coyne, has appeared lately in the role of the "bad boy" who got himself "in Dutch" with Councilman Michael J. Muldowney's Soho faction. Hoey, it is reported, went to Coyne and offered to step down if his feud with the Muldowney clan was embarrassing to the Senator. Coyne and Kline are still friends.

Elsner went against Kline in the last election by carrying on the campaign under the banner of Congressman P. J. (Paddy) Sullivan. Kline is reinforcing his bulwarks by the removal of Elsner. Councilman Little and Twenty-first Ward Chairman William J. Herd have been gunning for Faulkner's scalp since the April primaries, when Faulkner and his henchmen attempted to balk Little's efforts to control the Twenty-first Ward organization.

Little said:

"I have been making an effort to have Faulkner let out since last April. He is a foe of the Kline administration and I have it on good authority from the Mayor's office that if Kline's attempts to have his conviction thrown out at Butler are successful, Faulkner soon will be among the jobless."

Meanwhile, a committee from the Central Labor Union, headed by Acting Secretary John Hoehn, was making preparations to present a compromise plan to Mayor Kline, in an effort to have 31 police and firemen—fired as an "economy" measure—reinstated to the ranks as soon as possible.

Body Found in River At New Kensington

The body of an unidentified man, aged about 35, was recovered from the Allegheny River near the west end of the New Kensington Bridge today, according to a coroner's report. The body had been in the water a week. A purse containing $23, automobile keys, a handkerchief initialed "A," a hat bought in Indiana, Pa., and a suit bought in Ohio were the only clues.

McKeesport Man Held in Killing

Ray Ethridge, of 337 Shaw avenue, McKeesport, was held on a charge of manslaughter at a Coroner's inquest today into the death of Dennis J. McCarthy, of 2447 Cass avenue, Detroit.

It was testified that Ethridge pushed McCarthy, causing him to strike his head on the pavement. McCarthy died June 12 in McKeesport Hospital.

Fried, Ocean Hero, To Get New Liner

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—Capt. George Fried, hero of many sea rescues, brought the liner President Roosevelt into New York as commander for the last time today.

He is to take command of the new United States liner Manhattan, largest liner constructed in the United States since the war.

Menocal Predicts Machado's Overthrow

CORUNA, Spain, July 15.—(AP.)—A prediction that a new revolution would soon break out in Cuba and overthrow the government of President Machado was made here today by Mario G. Nemocal, Cuban opposition leader, when he arrived on his way to France.

The City Department of Health today reports the following new cases in quarantine: Scarlet fever, 5; measles, 2; whooping cough, 5; chicken pox, 4; mumps, 1; pneumonia, 2.

U. S. ON GUARD FOR NEW MOVE ON DEBTS

Waits Europe's Action After Hoover Bans United Parley

By HOBART C. MONTEE
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—State Department officials stood on guard today, prepared to intercept a possible rebound of the football of European debts which President Hoover kicked deep back into European territory.

His letter to Senator Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was considered a definite pronouncement of this government's attitude toward the celebrated "gentlemen's agreement" signed at Lausanne and the subsequent entente cordiale negotiated by Great Britain and France, and joined in by Italy and Belgium. The President said bluntly the United States was not a party to those agreements; that this government would not be forced into any line of action or negotiation by any agreements or combinations for joint action which the European governments might form.

REFUSE JOINT PARLEY

While Mr. Hoover did not specifically say so, his letter implied that this government had not budged from its long-held stand that it will not negotiate with its European debtors except singly and then only upon the specific request of each individual government concerned.

He did not close the door to negotiations with the European debtor nations regarding readjustment of their obligations on a basis of capacity to pay. The administration is officially on record with a promise to give friendly consideration to individual requests for such negotiations.

Officials here believe, however, that the President did close the door to attempts by the European nations, by united action, to pass on to the United States the sacrifices in reparations payments which Germany's creditor nations had forsworn.

SCORES PRESSURE

To the extent to which the "gentlemen's agreement" and the Franco-British-Italian-Belgian entente cordiale was intended to apply to Europe's debts to the United States, President Hoover's letter would indicate those agreements died a-borning. Despite the frank suspicion with which most officials here regarded the two sub-cellar-hatched agreements, Mr. Hoover gave them the benefit of the doubt in his letter. He said:

"Our people are, of course, gratified at the settlement of the strictly European problem of reparations or any of the other political or economic questions that have impeded European recovery. Such action, together with the real progress in disarmament, will contribute greatly to world stability.

"I wish to make it absolutely clear, however, that the United States has not been consulted regarding any of the agreements reported by the press to have been concluded recently at Lausanne, and that of course it is not a party to, nor in any way committed to any such agreements.

"While I do not assume it to be the purpose of any of these agreements to effect combined action of our debtors, if it shall be so interpreted, then I do not propose that the American people shall be pressed into any line of action or that our policies shall be in any way influenced by such a combination either open or implied."

Low pressure now dominates the weather over most of the country, with centers in the Far Northeast, over Wisconsin, Kansas and Saskatchewan. The lake region disturbance is causing cloudy weather over a portion of the lake region and eastward to the coast and light showers occurred at scattered places. For the country as a whole, the skies are mostly clear and the rainfall for the 24 hours was very light and scattered. The warm weather continues. Maximum temperatures of 90 degrees or above occurred over most of the plains states and eastward to the coast and 100 degrees reported at six places in the plains states and the Mississippi Valley.

REYNOLDS' BROTHER EXPECTED TO PRESS DEATH PROBE

MAID DESCRIBES GAY PARTY AT ESTATE

Tobacco Heir Irked By Wife, Witness' Story Says

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., July 15.—The next move in the Smith Reynolds death mystery today awaited the return from abroad of dashing Dick Reynolds, elder brother of the 20-year-old scion of a famous tobacco family.

Richard J. Reynolds was not expected to return here until late next week, according to Stratton Coyner, secretary of his uncle, W. N. Reynolds.

The elder Reynolds was cruising off the African coast when he received word that his brother was found dead with a bullet hole through his head on the sleeping porch of his home.

HEAD OF FAMILY

When he returns there will be a family conference and a decision reached as to whether a reward will be offered for information about his brother's death, and whether private detectives should be employed to aid Sheriff Transou Scott in his investigation.

Since a Coroner's jury brought in a verdict of death by a person or persons unknown, the Sheriff has unearthed several promising leads which call for a detailed checkup in New York and other cities.

Sheriff Scott, being virtually a "one man" investigating office, has not the facilities or the funds to make a far-flung inquiry into the case.

DE VALERA GOES TO LONDON TO TALK TARIFF

Free State President, MacDonald to Seek Settlement

International News Service.

LONDON, July 15.—In an effort to avert a tariff war between England and his country, President De Valera came here from Dublin today for a conference with Prime Minister MacDonald.

The British Prime Minister and the Free State President were scheduled to meet at No. 10 Downing street, the Prime Minister's official residence, tonight.

The Irish executive came at the latter's invitation after a series of dramatic events in which the Irish Labor party took a leading part in the attempt to prevent a dispute over the land annuities issue fast developing into a retaliatory campaign that would make thousands idle.

DUBLIN, July 15.—(INS.)—The emergency duties act, with which the Irish Free State hopes to defend itself in its tariff war with Great Britain, was rushed through the final stages in the Dail Eireann today and sent to the Senate for consideration Monday.

The bill passed its third and final reading, 68 to 57. It provides for new high duties on British imports as a retaliatory measure for the new British taxes on Irish goods.

The Dail declined to await the outcome of today's London conference between President De Valera and Prime Minister MacDonald, rushing the emergency bill through its committee and report stages and its second and third readings.

Hint Shooting of Pilot In Air Tragedy Killing Two

International News Service.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 15.—Sensational developments were expected in the investigation of the death of Thomas Bata, the European "shoe king," and his pilot, Heinrich Broucek, it became known today. Bata was killed in an airplane crash Tuesday in Zlin, Moravia.

The tragedy was supposed to have been caused by the airplane hitting a tall chimney, but the investigation has revealed some mysterious features.

Examination of the chimney revealed no marks bearing out the first theory of the crash. Another theory that the machine hit a wire received no confirmation.

Because of these facts, the authorities ordered an autopsy on the body of Broucek. The result of the autopsy has not been made public, but a report was circulated that a hole had been found in Broucek's temple, apparently made by a bullet.

Authorities denied this, but withheld their report on the autopsy.

AIMEE TO SELL TEMPLE

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(INS.)—Aimee wants to sell Angelus Temple. Her singing husband, David Hutton, Jr., today was negotiating to sell the property to the Rev. William B. Hogg, an associate of the Rev. Paul Rader, evangelist.

They were in conference with Aimee at her Moorish temple at Lake Elsinore, where she has been ill.

Aimee (Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton) was advised that in order to get well she must free herself from all business worries.

Loss of a $10,000 judgment to a scenario writer, and loss by Hutton of a $5,000 judgment to Myrtle Hazel Joan St. Pierre, who charged he betrayed her under promise of marriage and discarded her for the woman evangelist, agitated Aimee's mental and physical condition and she wants to make a long trip with David.

Roy Stewart, film director, lodged a $250,000 breach of contract suit against Aimee, to add to her troubles, which also included recent charges of "charity racketeering" at Angeles Temple.

Parents Murdered, Hill Youth Held

BIRCH TREE, Mo., July 15.—(AP.)—Earl Raymond Phelps, 19, of the Ozark Hills, was held in jail today for the slaying of his own father, Felix Phelps, and his stepmother in an attempt to rob them of $2,000 inheritance money.

Phelps and his wife were beaten with a hammer and stabbed with a butcher knife in their hill farmhouse south of here Wednesday night.

Zoo Pythons in Death Battle for Pig Dinner

Wreck Cage in Fight For First Meal In 18 Months

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—(AP.)—Grim evidence of a jungle-like drama in the snake house of the Philadelphia zoo had been revealed to keepers today. They found a large python crushed to death by another python, apparently in a terrific struggle over a 25-pound pig.

The thick glass about the enclosure was shattered, and other marks about the cage indicated that the two huge reptiles, one 20 feet long and the other 18, had engaged in a titanic struggle.

The 18-foot snake lay dead in one corner, while in another corner, placidly coiled, was the victor, a bulge in his middle indicating that he had won, not only the death battle but the pig. The pig was, in fact, the first meal the python had eaten in 18 months.

The two snakes had lived in lethargic harmony in the same cage for four years. Wednesday night keepers noticed on the part of the smaller python the activity which denotes hunger. A pig was placed in the cage, the smaller snake wrapped its coils about the meal, and the keeper left.

He returned to the cage yesterday to find the evidence of the fight.

The pythons were brought here from the Philippines. The dead one was valued at $500.

SUSPECT HELD IN EXTORTION

County detectives today were checking the activities of William Scott, 32, Aspinwall dairyman, held in an alleged extortion plot against Louis Beffney, proprietor of the Beffney Baking Company, Aspinwall. Scott was arrested last night by County Detectives John Duderstadt and Harry Barker when he passed the spot near the Guyasuto Boy Scout camp where $1,500 in small bills had been cached in response to a threatening letter sent Beffney. He is said by detectives to have picked up the package, then dropped and kicked it. He was arraigned before Alderman Thomas N. Geary on a charge of extortion. He waived hearing for court and bail was fixed at $2,000.

Scott denied knowledge of the alleged plot and declared he absentmindedly kicked the package.

Father Kills Blind Son and Himself

GLENDALE, Cal., July 15.—(Universal.)—E. M. Shutt, 61, yesterday ended the suffering of his blind son, Lawrence, 38, by shooting him to death with a long-barreled six-shooter he had used years ago when he was sheriff of Morrow County, Ore.

Then the father took his own life by swallowing a poison tablet and then sending a bullet into his head.

DRIVER DOPED BY HITCH-HIKER

One piece of candy which T. M. Adrian, 52, janitor supply salesman, of 476 Carnegie drive Mt. Lebanon, says he ate, cost him $141, he told police.

The candy, he related was given him by a hitch-hiker he picked up near Brown's Bridge, last night. After eating it, he became unconscious, he said, and remembered nothing until he was found in his car, gas tank empty, near Indian Spring, Schenley Park, the $141 missing.

At the Homeopathic Hospital, where Adrian was taken for observation, physicians said his condition was good.

Cripple Who Took Spool of Thread Released

Harry Lakoski, 50, of 21 South Tenth street, a cripple, today was sent home to care for his 2-year-old son, when arraigned in South Side Police Court, accused of stealing a spool of thread.

Lakoski admitted to Magistrate John J. Sweeney that he had taken the thread from a Carson street five-and-ten-cent store. He said he needed the thread to sew on buttons.

He told the magistrate he was out of work, is separated from his wife and is caring for his son. He displayed discharge papers from a hospital and said he was unable to do heavy work because of injuries which had crippled him.

MARCH OF VETS STIRS CAPITOL

large group of bonus veterans has been violating the act of Congress approved July 1, 1882, in picketing the Capitol and defying the government. Superintendent Glassford, wholly without authority, suspended the law and permitted the bonus marchers to remain on the Capitol grounds day and night. The members of the police force called this morning on Speaker Garner and Vice President Curtis and were informed by both of them that they had not consented to the suspension of the law and were in hearty sympathy with the efforts of the Capitol police force to enforce it."

REQUEST FOR TROOPS

All day the steady shuffle of the marchers continued, except for a stop at midday, when food arrived outside the grounds for the veterans. The marchers, most of whom came here from California, made a rush for the dilapidated automobile in which the food arrived and there was no relay to take up the parade. Once they had eaten, most of the men returned to the patrol in front of the Capitol.

During the morning a left-wing group of veterans marched down Pennsylvania avenue, but stopped at the Capitol grounds to await Gen. Glassford's decision on whether they could enter. The men broke ranks and rested under the trees in the Botanical Gardens.

Vice President Curtis' statement on last night's incident was as follows:

"Why the Marines were sent I do not know. I do not see that the situation warranted such action. At the request of the police board I wrote a letter several days ago, asking that the Marines be held in readiness to reinforce the Capitol police in case of an emergency. I also requested the Army to send troops in case they were needed."

Old and Young 'Kids' Greet Circus Here

The Ringling and Barnum and Bailey Circus came chugging into Pittsburgh at dawn today, but it wasn't too early to avoid an army of "kids," some with whiskers, who last night rigged up alarm clocks not used for at least a year.

Within a few hours a miniature city of 1,800 circus folk had sprung up mushroom-like, at Fifth and Penn avenues, and the buzz of the circus was at its height.

Four trains were used to transport the circus into town. In addition to dozens of specimens of animals from all parts of the world, there were people you read about often in story books, but see only in circuses. The duck-billed Ubangi flappers, from the interior of Africa; the cowboy giant and Major Mite, 27 inches tall; the only Hindu acrobat in captivity; jugglers from Japan, mystic men from Bombay-way, and a host of others in confusing array go toward completing the personnel of the big show.

Performances will be given twice daily today and tomorrow.

Mt. Lebanon Official Is Held for Court

Charged with assault and battery and reckless driving, L. C. Clark, chairman of the Board of Township Commissioners of Mt. Lebanon, was held for court in $1,800 bond after he had waived hearing before Justice of the Peace Ira F. Edmundson.

Clark was accused by Earl Gangewere, of Florence place, Mt. Lebanon; his wife, Mrs. Alma Gangewere, and A. C. Feagen, of Beechview, of having attacked them when they asked him to cease bumping into the automobile in which they were riding during a traffic jam on Washington road, July 4.

DUNCAN MONEY SEARCH SLOW

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP.)—It may be slim pickings for the creditors of the Duncan sisters.

Some months ago the famous comedy team of Rosetta and Vivian, perhaps better known as "Topsy and Eva," went into voluntary bankruptcy owing more than $400,000, or so their creditors claimed. O. T. Gilbank, federal trustee, went to work.

Today his labors had netted $200 in cash and two $1,000 bonds for which he has been offered less than the fare to St. Louis and back, and at the railroads' reduced rates, too. The possibility of raising any more money rested, he said, on liquidation of equities in Duncan properties in New York. So far not a creditor has received a cent.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN CONEY RUINS

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—A renewed search of the ruins of the fire that swept several square blocks of Coney Island Wednesday afternoon was ordered today when it was reported that a Brooklyn woman had been missing since she went to the amusement resort Wednesday.

A son told police his mother, Mrs. Fanny Belford, 75, usually engaged a room at Silver's baths when she went to the island for a swim.

Silver's was one of the bath houses destroyed in the fire. Police ordered a renewed search of the ruins of the bath houses.

Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy announced last night that an investigation had disclosed the fire, which caused damage of $2,500,000 to $3,000,000, was started accidentally by a group of boys who built a bonfire under the boardwalk without malicious intent.

HEIRESS' DEATH PROBED IN PARIS

PARIS, July 15.—(INS.)—Police launched an investigation today into the strange death of Mrs. Katherine Whelan Gordon-Ellis, adopted daughter of the late Frederick Whelan, former vice president of the United Cigar Stores, to determine whether she had committed suicide or died accidentally.

An autopsy is to be performed on the body of the young woman, a native of Syracuse, N. Y., who apparently died from an overdose of sleeping potion.

The homicide division is endeavoring to obtain statements from Miss Ruth Wise, formerly of Long Branch, N. J., and New York, and Miss Diana Haskell, an English girl, who were intimate friends of Mrs. Gordon-Ellis and who accompanied her to the hospital. Miss Wise, however, had departed for Spain and Miss Haskell could not be found.

SLAYING HINTED IN BABY'S DEATH

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 15.—(INS.)—Mystery, surrounding the death of Leslie Delano, 20-months-old, deepened today when investigators reported that the opening of a cesspool in which the baby's body was found is only eight inches wide.

While the Coroner prepared to summon a jury for an inquest, police pursued their investigation on the theory that the infant may have been murdered and his body stuffed through the narrow aperture into the pool, located near the Delano home.

Discovery of the child's body ended a state-wide search which lasted nearly a week, and engaged the efforts of the National Guard, as well as city and county authorities. The baby disappeared last Friday and it was at first feared that he had been kidnaped.

turn he will pledge his time and fortune to solving the mystery of his younger brother's death.

Aside from the return of the eldest heir to the R. J. Reynolds tobacco millions, no definite development was anticipated before the convening of a new grand jury on July 25.

Meanwhile Ab Walker, friend of the dead boy, held during the inquest as a material witness, was living quietly with his parents here. He declined to be interviewed.

PARTY DESCRIBED

Meanwhile, a picture of a gay party on the Reynolds estate was repainted from the testimony given in a secret hearing before the Coroner by Plummer Walker, Negro maid, who tended the guests.

The maid pictured Smith Reynolds, whom she had known since he was a child, as disgusted with the proceedings. She said:

"You know, Mr. Smith just liked anything to be straight. I was here when he was a little boy. When he doesn't like things, I can tell by looking at him; he don't have to speak. I noticed down there by the lake where drinks and barbecue were served that he didn't just exactly like the way things were going."

Q.—"When you talk about the way things were going, you are talking about the fact that his wife was drinking?"

A.—"Well, they were just cutting up, and he happened to look up—that is when I happened to notice him."

Q.—"Did you see Mrs. Reynolds have her arms around Mr. Walker?"

A.—"No."

Walker had testified that at the barbecue Mrs. Reynolds was drunk and put her arms around him. Later, Walker said, Smith spoke to Walker about it, but said he didn't blame him for what happened.

WANTED TO SING

Q.—"What was she doing?"

A.—"She was standing up on the block there, and she said to to Mrs. Vaught (Mrs. Babe Vaught, comely widow), 'Let's do something; let's sing,' and she said, 'Well, what shall we sing?'

"Mr. Smith was at the table eating and Mrs. Reynolds stepped up on this block, and in some way she stumbled, a bottle of pop fell over, and she like to fell because she was upon a high thing. Mr. Smith looked up and I looked at him. He looked like he was disgusted. So finally he got up and went over to her and went to talking to her. What he said I don't know. I know he wasn't satisfied. He liked for things to be straight because he was raised that way. You all know that."

Q.—"Was she under the influence of liquor down at the boathouse noticeably, so you could tell it?"

A.—"Well, Mrs. Reynolds was jolly. Mrs. Vaught was drinking."

Q.—"What do you say about Smith?"

"A.—Well, I must say for him he was unusually calm because I spoke about it afterward. He didn't seem to take on to the party, didn't seem to get into it. I offered to fix him a plate, but he didn't eat but very little because he got up and went over to speak to Miss Libby."

Holman Mystery Recalled By Reynolds Shooting

CINCINNATI, O., July 15.—(AP.)—The fatal shooting of Smith Reynolds, at Winston Salem, N. C., nine days ago, recalled today an earlier mystery in the family of Libby Holman, his widow.

While North Carolina authorities struggled with a maze of puzzling clues in the death of Reynolds, acquaintances of the Holman family in Cincinnati harked back to the unknown fate of the widow's uncle, who mysteriously disappeared 27 years ago.

Alfred Holman, father of Libby, who aided her during recent days when she was subjected to questioning at Winston Salem, was apparently the last man who saw her uncle alive.

Mrs. Reynolds, now in virtual seclusion with her family here, was still unborn when her father's brother, Ross Holzman, as they then spelled the name, disappeared.

Alfred and Ross Holzman were the affluent heads of a prosperous Cincinnati brokerage house, Holzman & Co., when it failed in 1905, with what was then reported a $250,000 loss.

Locally, the failure was a big sensation, but Cincinnati was more startled June 26, that year when Alfred announced his brother had left for Sidney, O., in search of cash to save the company, had not returned, and that his whereabouts were unknown.

Though 27 years have passed, Ross Holzman never returned, and has not been seen or heard from since.

Wife Sues Banker, Involving Daughter

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP.)—A suit for separate maintenance was filed yesterday against George Christopher Bates, retired Columbus, Ga., banker, by Mrs. Clara Louise Bates, who charged him with neglecting her for his daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Elizabeth Burr, wife of Hallam Cooley, film actor.

A few days ago Mrs. Bates sued Cooley and his wife for $100,000, charging they alienated Bates' affections.

P. R. R. SPREADS EMPLOYMENT

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—(INS.)—A series of conferences, which, it was reported, had as their purpose the "spreading out" of work among employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad, have been held here since Tuesday, it was learned unofficially today.

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Enginemen met Tuesday with Pennsylvania officials; firemen, Wednesday, and conductors yesterday. Today at 9:30 o'clock representatives of the Brotherhood of Trainmen went into conference with the officials.

It was understood that a proposal was presented to the various brotherhoods to cut down the maximum mileage of employment of the respective classes of railroad men per month.

Argentina, Uruguay War Menace Passes

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine, July 15.—(INS.)—The crisis in the diplomatic rupture between Argentina and Uruguay was safely passed today, prompt offers of mediation by Brazil, Colombia and several other countries having averted any probability of war.

The acute tension that existed for a few hours relaxed perceptibly when President Justo, of Argentine, indicated his willingness to accept mediation.

Head of Wartime Court Martial Dies

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 15.—(AP.)—Rear Admiral Albert Sydney Snow, 66, U. S. Navy retired, former commandant of the Boston Navy Yard and president of the General Court Martail during the World War, died late yesterday at Corey Hill Hospital, Brookline.

ARSON SUSPECT CAPTURED

Sought by authorities since April 8, Frank Nanci, owner of a building in Collingwood avenue, Swissvale, damaged by fire, is under arrest today on charges of arson and conspiracy.

He was taken into custody by Police Chief Thomas Cummings and County Detective John T. Burke last night. Detective Burke declared he wished to question Nanci about numerous fires and arson plots uncovered here recently.

Vincent Prado, alias John Simons, brought back from New Orleans Monday in connection with the alleged plot, signed a 24-page confession last night, detectives reported, in which he implicated 12 other members of a gang already in custody.

Three detectives say, are charged with aiding the escape of Prado, and the others are charged with conspiracy and arson.

Athlete Sued by His Wife Wishes Her Luck

OAKLAND, Cal., July 15.—(AP.)—Mrs. Virginia K. Carr, filed a divorce suit here yesterday against Sabin W. Carr, pole vaulter and former captain of the Yale track team. She charged her husband treated her cruelly and became intoxicated periodically.

Learning of the action, Carr called at the residence and said he wished they could still be the best of friends, and that Mrs. Carr might have "the best of luck."

Realtor Enters Bankrupt Petition

Assets of $155 are listed with liabilities of $52,751 in a voluntary petition for bankruptcy filed today in Federal Court by James Y. Hambley, who styles himself a Pittsburgh realtor.

COOLIDGE GIVES SUPPORT TO SALES TAX

Universal Service.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Former President Calvin Coolidge advocates the sales tax as a counter measure to the "soak-the-rich" policy, which he considers a grave threat to the structure of American democracy in an article in today's issue of Collier's Weekly. He writes:

"Many are beginning to wonder if it would not be wise to supplement our system of taxation by providing that a large number of people should pay a small but certain direct tax.

"The levies on tobacco and gasoline produce a very large revenue, which is not burdensome to the consumer. The extension of such a system to many other commodities would seem to be in complete harmony with the spirit of a self-governing people.

PEOPLE MUST PAY

"If we delegate the paying of our taxes, we shall find we have delegated the control of our government. Nothing seems clearer than that, if the people are to control the government, they must pay the taxes to support it. These two go together.

"And, secondly, if the people are to have an opportunity to own the property of the nation, they must pay the taxes on it. These two go together. Power and responsibility cannot be separated, politically or economically.

"If it is necessary to meet an emergency, excessively high taxes on a few large incomes and inheritances might be made temporarily without great injury. But to adopt such a system permanently and under the pretense of raising revenue, pursue a policy of expropriation and redistribution of wealth would have the gravest consequences.

WOULD PROLONG SLUMP

"One of two things would be likely to result:

"Enterprise would be stifled, accumulations of property would be dissipated and a condition of depression would become chronically progressive, with a falling standard of living, economic suffering and great poverty on the part of the people.

"The other alternative would be the creation of a class of great wealth who would have a large control of the government because it would be dependent on their money for its support. Only under some system of privilege and by exploiting the people could such a class continue to pay the high taxes required. That would be the recreation of the age of overlords. The rest of us would be reduced to dependency. In either case the people lose."

ROOSEVELT SEA TRIP NEAR END

ABOARD YACHT MARCON, Sippican Harbor, Mass., July 15.—(INS.)—With the end of his "presidential cruise" 48 hours away, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and his three sons weighed anchor on their 40-foot yawl, Myth II, in this small, sheltered harbor today and headed through the Cape Cod Canal.

In high spirits after his four-day sail through Long Island Sound and Buzzard's Bay, the Governor looked forward eagerly to the final stages of his sea holiday along the Massachusetts coast.

With a good wind the Governor hopes to reach Gloucester tonight and continue Saturday to Portsmouth, N. H.

Sixty miles of water, however, stretched ahead between this harbor and Gloucester, and the Governor was not sure he would be able to make good time after he entered Massachusetts Bay.

WELFARE FUND WORK PRAISED BY MRS. RAUH

Allegheny County has met its welfare needs in the present emergency better than almost any other community in the country, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, director of the Department of Public Welfare, declared today. In a statement she said:

"The welfare program here has been co-ordinated to a remarkable degree. Every practicable measure has been taken with the least possible waste and confusion. Public and private agencies, business leaders, social workers and the contributing public have worked together in doing the finest piece of work which has come to my knowledge in all the years I have been actively interested in both public and private welfare activities. A large share of the credit for this achievement should go to the Welfare Fund."

COSTS KEPT LOW

Under direction of Wilbur F. Maxwell, the Welfare Fund of Allegheny County has operated at lower cost than any comparable organization in the country. The total cost of operation this year, including campaign expenses, is 2.3 per cent of the total amount raised.

The organization will handle funds totaling over $6,000,000 this year. This $6,000,000 business is carried on by a staff of about 20 paid workers. Clerical help in the office is paid as a rule $70 to $75 per month. The whole scale of wages paid by the fund is lower than wages paid for similar positions in the commercial field. In nearly every case these workers are the sole wage-earners of families without other resources.

COLLECTIONS GOOD

The collection record of the fund, its directors declare, shows it has held the confidence of the contributing public. A recent analysis of percentage of pledges collected by funds and community chests shows that the Allegheny County fund is ahead of every other city in the United States and second to only one on the list—Montreal, Canada. In 1929, the fund collected 99 per cent of its pledges; in 1930, 98.7 per cent; in 1931, 97.6 per cent.

This year, in spite of the increasing pressure of hard times upon contributors of all classes, the amount collected on last fall's pledges stands at present at 84.5 per cent of the total pledged, with some $500,000 additional payments due this month.

This figure is only 0.1 per cent below the collection of last year's pledges at the same date.

SHIP BARS SHUT ON BIBLE TRIP

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—The liner Transylvania, a shining new soda fountain set up in the verandah cafe and the smoking room bar transformed into soft drink station, sailed yesterday with 600 members of the American Bible Conference Association on a seven-day cruise to Bermuda and Halifax.

All of the other bars on the ship, together with the supply of liquors, were under lock and key.

Dr. Donald Grey Barnhouse, pastor of the Tenth Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, who organized the cruise, said there would be no dancing and no playing of popular music during the cruise. Three meetings will be held daily and the speakers will include William Allen Dean, pastor of the Aldan Union Church, Philadelphia; Harry A. Ironside, pastor of the Moody Memorial Church, Chicago, and Roy Talmage Brumbaugh, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Tacoma, Wash.

Town Wars Against Mail by Freight

MT. STERLING, O., July 15.—(AP.)—Mail delivery by freight does not satisfy residents of Mt. Sterling, Orient, Harrisburg, Derby and Bloomburg. and bloomingburg.

The citizens are up in arms because, since the Baltimore and Ohio mail train was discontinued, first class mail comes in by freight, five to 10 hours later than usual. Mayor C. M. Neff, of Mt. Sterling, has launched a movement to obtain better service.

Pittsburgh Officer Gets Promotion

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 15.—Two Western Pennsylvania National Guard officers were advanced from second to first lieutenancies, an announcement here today revealed.

Those receiving promotions are Lieut. Bernard King Shaner, Battery E, 107th Field Artillery, and Lieut. William Henry Tuttle, Company A, 110th Infantry. Shaner is stationed at Pittsburgh and Tuttle at Monongahela.

Councilmen Inspect City Playgrounds

The annual councilmanic inspection of the North Side playgrounds, under supervision of Mrs. Mary J. Cowley, was made yesterday.

Councilmen Harry A. Little and Clifford B. Connelley, with Budget Controller Robert J. Alderdice and Assistant City Clerk Edward J. Lindsay, were the guests of Mrs. Cowley at a luncheon in the field house of the Cowley playgrounds, Troy Hill.

County Board Will Convene Monday

The County Commissioners will meet Monday morning. No meetings have been held since Commissioner C. M. Barr left for his vacation 10 days ago. He will return to the city Sunday.

TEACHER GIVEN DIVORCE, JUDGE BLAMES WIFE

A divorce was granted Strawder A. Ringer, of Pasadena street, former teacher in South Hills High School, from Frances M. Ringer, Pasadena street, by Judge Samuel H. Gardner in Common Pleas Court yesterday, Ringer charged cruelty and indignities.

Judge Gardner said in his opinion:

"If she had given him some support during his school troubles, when he was fighting to vindicate his good name and reputation, the present domestic condition would not have existed."

Ringer was transferred to South High School, following charges that envolved a girl pupil. He sued Harry A. Winner, principal of South Hills High School, on a charge of slander. The suit was not brought within the legal time limit.

Divorces were granted to Ottilie Voght from Herman Voght, and to Leo Krenyiczky from Margaret Krenyiczky.

SALE OF STORY IRKS RUTH JUDD

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 15.—(INS.)—Ruth Judd, convicted of the trunk murders of two young women, is reported greatly displeased with news that her brother, Burton J. McKinnell, is engaged in circulating "The Truth About Ruth Judd."

Under sentence to die, Mrs. Judd is in the death cell of the Arizona State Prison at Florence, while attorneys are preparing an appeal for a new trial. She sees only her aged parents, the Rev. and Mrs. B. J. McKinnell, who have taken up residence not far from the prison.

News that young McKinnell was circulating, in Los Angeles, a pamphlet purporting to tell her "true story" was conveyed to Mrs. Judd by the warden and the prisoner was reported greatly angered. She was understood to have declared that it was to have been proof-read by her father and mother before its release.

WILL EAT PETS TO KEEP WIFE

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP.)—Nicholas Gimpel must eat his way back to domestic harmony.

When his wife, Theresa, appeared before Judge Daniel P. Trude seeking temporary alimony pending hearing of her divorce bill, she complained that Nicholas spent more money on his pet chickens and pigeons than he did on her and that his affections were alienated when the fowl came into his life.

The Judge advised Gimpel:

"The only thing for you to do is to eat your pets and settle your differences."

Nicholas agreed to try it.

NO. 203.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing an increase of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars and providing for the issue and sale of bonds of said city in said amount to provide funds for the following purposes, viz: Providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for and otherwise assisting residents of the City of Pittsburgh who are without adequate means of support and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon.

WHEREAS, the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh, by ordinance duly enacted by the Councils thereof and approved by the Mayor thereof on March 15, 1932, and duly recorded and published as required by law, signified their desire that the indebtedness of said city be increased in the sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000.00) for the purpose described in the following ordinance, and provided that the question of increasing the indebtedness in said amount for said purposes be submitted to a vote of the electors of said city at a special election held on April 26, 1932; and,

WHEREAS, after due legal notice, said election was held and conducted as required by law, and a majority of the electors who voted at said election voted in favor of said increase of indebtedness, and the vote was duly counted by the Court of Quarter Sessions as required by law, and the Clerk of Quarter Sessions made a record thereof and a certified copy of such record under seal, showing the result, was furnished as required by law, to the corporate authorities of the City of Pittsburgh and the same has been placed on record upon the minutes thereof; Now, therefore

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh be increased by the amount of eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars to provide funds for the following purposes, viz: Providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for and otherwise assisting residents of the City of Pittsburgh who are without adequate means of support.

SECTION 2. That bonds of the City of Pittsburgh in the aggregate principal amount of eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars be issued for the purposes aforesaid. Said bonds shall be in denominations of one hundred ($100.00) dollars or multiples thereof; shall be dated as of the first day of August, 1932, and shall be payable in twenty (20) equal annual installments of forty thousand ($40,000.00) dollars each, one of which shall mature on the first day of August in each of the years 1933 to 1952, inclusive. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-quarter per centum (4¼%) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of August and February in each year, without deduction for any taxes which may be levied thereon by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania pursuant to any present or future law, the payment of which is hereby assumed by the City of Pittsburgh. The principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the City Treasurer of said city. Said bonds shall be coupon bonds, exchangeable at the option of the holder for a registered bond or bonds of the same maturity and of the denomination of one hundred ($100.00) dollars or a multiple thereof, not exceeding the aggregate principal amount of the coupon bond or bonds surrendered in exchange therefor, by surrendering such coupon bond or bonds, with all coupons not then due, at the office of the City Controller, and the City Controller is hereby authorized and directed to cause such coupon and registered bonds to be engraved and to issue the same in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, the expense thereof to be charged to Appropriation No. 42, Contingent Fund. Registered bonds shall be registered with the City Treasurer, and shall be transferable only on the books of the said City Treasurer. Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor, countersigned by the City Controller and sealed with the corporate seal of the City of Pittsburgh, and the coupons attached thereto shall be authenticated with a facsimile signature of the City Controller.

IN CASE of the absence or disability of any of such officials, the bonds shall be signed by the city official authorized by law or by resolution of Council to act in his place.

EACH OF said bonds shall be known and designated as PUBLIC WELFARE RELIEF BOND 1932.

SECTION 3. That said bonds shall be sold by the Mayor and the City Controller, at not less than par and accrued interest, after giving such notice of sale as may be required by law.

SECTION 4. That until said bonds, issued as herein provided, shall be fully paid, there is hereby levied and assessed annually upon all subjects now by law liable, or hereafter to be made liable, to assessment for taxation for city purposes, an annual tax, commencing the first year after said debt shall have been increased or incurred, namely the year 1933, sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as the same shall accrue and become payable, and any tax on said interest which by the terms of said bonds is assumed by the city and also an annual tax commencing in said year equal to five per centum (5%) of the total amount of said bonds hereby authorized, to be set apart as a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and redemption of said bonds as they become due and payable according to their terms, and the same is hereby appropriated out of the revenue of said city for the payment and redemption aforesaid. There is also hereby appropriated out of the general fund of said city an amount sufficient to meet the installment of interest due on said bonds during the current fiscal year.

SECTION 5. That all bonds issued by the authority of this ordinance and the Acts of Assembly authorizing the same shall be and become part of the funded debt of the City of Pittsburgh, and shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities thereof, and shall be free from taxation, as aforesaid, and for the payment of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon semi-annually as the same shall become payable, the faith, honor, credit and property of said city are hereby pledged.

SECTION 6. That the form of coupon bonds issued in pursuance of this ordinance shall be substantially as follows:

No..... No.....

PUBLIC WELFARE RELIEF BOND, 1932.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That the City of Pittsburgh, a municipal corporation, created by and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is indebted to the bearer in the sum of ..... ($.....) dollars, lawful money of the United States of America, which sum the said City of Pittsburgh promises to pay to the said bearer at the office of the City Treasurer of said city on the first day of August, A. D. 19..., with interest thereon from the date hereof at the rate of four and one-quarter per centum (4¼%) per annum, payable semi-annually to the bearer of the annexed coupons at the time and place therein specified without deduction for any taxes which may be levied thereon by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania pursuant to any present or future law, the payment of which is hereby assumed by the City of Pittsburgh. And for the true and faithful payment of the principal of this bond and the semi-annual interest thereon, as aforesaid, the faith, honor, credit and property of the said City of Pittsburgh are hereby pledged.

Any one or more of the coupon bonds of the series of which this is one may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged at any time for a registered bond or bonds of the same maturity and of the denomination of

ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS or a multiple thereof, not exceeding the aggregate principal amount of the coupon bond or bonds surrendered in exchange therefor, by surrendering the said coupon bond or bonds, with all coupons not then due at the office of the City Controller of said city.

This bond is one of a series of bonds amounting in the aggregate to eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars issued by the City of Pittsburgh for valid municipal purposes by virtue and in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities, to provide for the redemption of the same, and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof," approved April 20, 1874, and the several supplements and amendments thereof; and by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An act for the governments of cities of the second class," approved March 7, 1901, and the supplements and amendments thereof; and an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An act to authorize the registry or transfer of certain bonds," approved May 1, 1873; and by virtue of a special election duly called and held in said city on April 26, 1932, and in pursuance of an ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh entitled, "An ordinance authorizing and directing an increase in the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars and providing for the issue and sale of bonds of said city in said amount to provide funds for the following purposes, viz: Providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for and otherwise assisting residents of the City of Pittsburgh who are without adequate means of support and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon,' duly enacted by the Council thereof and approved by the Mayor thereof on July ....., 1932, and duly recorded and published in the manner required by law.

It is hereby certified and recited that every requirement of law affecting the issue hereof has been duly complied with; that provision has been made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest, and also the principal hereof at maturity; that the total amount of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh, including the entire issue of the above-mentioned bonds, aggregating eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars, of which this is one, is less than seven per centum (7%) of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property therein; and that this bond and the debt created thereby are within every debt and other limit prescribed by the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And for the true and faithful payment of the principal of this bond and the semi-annual interest thereon, as aforesaid, the faith, honor, credit and property of the said City of Pittsburgh are hereby pledged. This bond is transferable only on the books of the said City Treasurer.

This bond is one of a series of bonds amounting in the aggregate to eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars, issued by the City of Pittsburgh for valid municipal purposes by virtue and in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities, to provide for the redemption of the same, and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof," approved April 20, 1874, and the several supplements and amendments thereof; and an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled, "An Act to authorize the registry or transfer of certain bonds," approved May 1, 1873; and by virtue of a special election duly called and held in said city on April 26, 1932, and in pursuance of an ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh entitled, "An ordinance authorizing and directing an increase of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars and providing for the issue and sale of bonds of said city in said amount to provide funds for the following purposes, viz: Providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for and otherwise assisting resident of the City of Pittsburgh who are without adequate means of support and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon," duly enacted by the Council thereof and approved by the Mayor thereof on August ....., 1932, and duly recorded and published in the manner required by law.

It is hereby certified and recited that every requirement of law affecting the issue hereof has been duly complied with; that provision has been made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal hereof at maturity; that the total amount of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh, including the entire issue of the above-mentioned bonds, aggregating eight hundred thousand ($800,000.00) dollars, of which this is one, is less than seven per centum (7%) of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property therein; and that this bond and the debt created thereby are within every debt and other limit prescribed by the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Given under the corporate seal of the City of Pittsburgh, signed by the Mayor thereof and countersigned by the City Controller as of the first day of August, 1932.

(Seal of the City of Pittsburgh).

Registrar.

SECTION 7. Pending the execution and delivery of the permanent bonds to be issued under this ordinance, the Mayor and City Controller are authorized to have prepared, and to execute and deliver to the purchaser of the bonds hereby authorized, one or more temporary typewritten or printed bonds for the aggregate principal amount of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, which temporary bonds shall be in such denominations and amounts as the Mayor and Controller may determine, and shall be substantially of the tenor of the registered bonds to be issued hereunder, with such appropriate omissions, insertions and variations as may be required. Each of said temporary bonds shall bear on its face the words "Temporary Public Welfare Relief Bond 1932." Such temporary bonds shall be exchangeable at the office of the City Controller for a like principal amount or amounts of permanent bonds, when such permanent bonds are ready for delivery.

Upon every such exchange the temporary bonds surrendered shall forthwith be canceled by the City Controller. Until so exchanged the temporary bonds shall be in full force and effect according to their terms, and shall bear interest from the date thereof.

SECTION 8. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

Passed in Council July 5, 1932.
Approved July 13, 1932.

NO. 207.

AN ORDINANCE—Supplementing Section 1 of Ordinance No. 159, entitled "An Ordinance—Authorizing and directing the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works, for and in behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, to enter into an agreement with the County of Allegheny relating to the construction of a new bridge with its approaches and appurtenances at South Tenth street, from Carson street East across the Monongahela River to Second avenue at the Armstrong Tunnel, and over streets and private properties and rights of way in the city of Pittsburgh, including the necessary changes of lines or grades of the highways affected by the said construction and providing for the city's share of the cost thereof and granting the consent of the City of Pittsburgh to the construction by the County of Allegheny," approved April 22, 1930, and recorded in Ordinance Book Volume 42, Page 455, by providing for the payment by the city for pipe line hangers and appurtenances to be attached to the said bridge by the County of Allegheny.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the ordinance entitled "AN ORDINANCE authorizing and directing the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works, for and in behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, to enter into an agreement with the County of Allegheny relating to the construction of a new bridge with its approaches and appurtenances at South Tenth street, from Carson street East across the Monongahela River to Second avenue at the Armstrong Tunnel, and over streets and private properties and rights of way in the City of Pittsburgh, including the necessary changes of lines or grades of the highways affected by the said construction and providing for the city's share of the cost thereof and granting the consent of the City of Pittsburgh to the construction by the County of Allegheny," approved April 22, 1930, and recorded in Ordinance Book Volume 42, Page 455, be supplemented by adding between items (6) and (7) of the Articles of Agreement set out in Section 1, a new paragraph—(6a)—in the following language:

(6a) The city agrees to pay to the county the cost to the county for attaching to said bridge pipe line hangers and appurtenances for the purpose of supporting two (2) twenty-four (24) inch pipe lines.

SECTION 2. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

Passed in Council July 5, 1932.
Approved July 13, 1932.

NOTED SOPRANO RETURNS -:- Composer Plays 'Jazz Nocturne' -:- ROYAL HAWAIIANS ON AIR

New British Prize Drama Among Features on Radio Tonight

One of radio's best-known sopranos, Virginia Rea, returns to the air as a featured soloist with Paul Whiteman and his orchestra on WCAE tonight at 10. Formerly known to listeners as Olive Palmer, Miss Rea was heard over NBC networks each week for four years, and has been on her first extended vacation in several years.

Miss Rea

Miss Rea, singing popular concert and semi-classical selections, will be presented each third Friday over the same network with Whiteman's orchestra. A group of other featured soloists will be heard on the intervening Friday nights.

The young songster obtained her first engagement by singing over long distance telephone from her home in Louisville, Ky., to William Wade Hinshaw, discoverer of many musical celebrities, in New York. Previous to her radio debut she sang in opera in New York and in concerts throughout the United States and Europe.

"The Poacher," which received second place in the recent British Drama League Competition, is presented over an NBC network including KDKA tonight at 8:30. The play, the second of two English dramas being presented by NBC, was performed in London after its premiere in South Wales, and was chosen by the British Broadcasting Corporation as the best play for broadcasting. The first radio drama, "Danger," was heard on WCAE Wednesday night.

Compositions by Brahms, Dvorak and Goldmark are featured during a Toscanini Fund Concert by a 52-piece orchestra directed by Sandor Harmani, prominent Hungarian conductor and composer, over a Columbia chain including WJAS today from 3:30 to 4:45. Solos by Ivan Ivan-Ivantzoff, operatic and concert tenor, are included on the program.

Program Pointers

Edna Kellogg, soprano, offers the popular melody "Come to Me" and Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Song of India" as her solos with Roy Shield and his orchestra on KDKA tonight at 9:30. Quartet selections also are heard... Up-to-the-minute dance music with mingled tempos comprise the program presented by Leo Reisman's orchestra on WCAE at 9:30. Featured numbers include "Ballyhula," from "Connie's Inn Revue;" "Karaball," a rumba, and "The Night When Love Was Born."

Miss Kellogg

"The Jazz Nocturne," by 19-year-old Dana Suesse, with the composer at the piano, is a highlight of the concert on WCAE tonight at 8 with Rosario Bourdon's orchestra, Countess Olga Albani and the Cavaliers.

The origin of the legend of St. Swithin's Day is depicted in a special dramatic program presented over KDKA tonight at 10.

Pacific plaints plucked on steel strings by Holoua's Royal Hawaiians are heard during the Week-end Hour with Nat Shilkret's Orchestra and a male quartet on WJAS at 9 o'clock.

The KQV Players present the first episode of their new 10-week mystery serial, "Marco Polo's Joss House," tonight at 9.

Ravel's famous Spanish dance, "Bolero;" Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 5" and Helen Board's interpretation of "Bill," from "Show Boat," are included on Andre Kostelanetz' concert on WJAS at 8:30.

A new piano team, composed of Ingrid Nystrom and Marion MacMillan, is introduced on WWSW tonight at 8. Both have been heard as soloists.

Fan Fare

Bill Hay, announcer for Amos 'n' Andy, is vacationing in Alaska with Mrs. Hay . . . Although Ole Olsen, half of the comedy team, Olsen and Johnson, has been on the stage for years, he has seen only four shows on the legitimate stage during the last decade . . . Like Bing Crosby, Russ Columbo has signed to go into the movies . . . In the meantime, he's left the air temporarily for a tour . . . Ralph Kirbery takes over his 10 p. m. spot.

Mr. Hay

Vincent Lopez plans to take his orchestra to the Pacific Coast for a tour . . . The organization's place on the air and otherwise will be taken by Dick Gasparre's orchestra.

James Melton is showing only mild interest in motion picture offers to star him this fall in a full-length feature . . . Leo Reisman has devoted two hours a day for more than two years to composing, but refuses to submit a single score to publishers . . . He claims he's not yet ready to offer one of his own serious works for public consideration.

Buddy Rogers' fan mail includes many letters from young boys who want to know about being a band leader and a movie actor . . . One young lad, 10 years old, wrote and asked, "Did you have to practice three hours a day to play all the instruments you play?" and Buddy, hoping to help harrassed parents, wrote back that he did. A week later he received another letter from the boy thanking him and saying he would continue practicing . . . with a postscript which read, "When did you sleep if you play 10 different instruments?"

Question Box

Who takes the leading roles in "The Unseen Hand" on KDKA?—W. L. B., Homestead.

They are Helen Wayne, who plays Dorothy Donaldson; Raymond Nyehardt, Sammy Scribner; Alma Lynd, Molly Chapman; Claude Morris, Nelson Abbott, and Leon Churcheon, Jonathon Tibbetts.

Long's Sport Talk Feature on Air

James J. Long, sports columnist of the Sun-Telegraph, reviews and comments on sports activities, both local and national, during his weekly talk on WCAE tonight at 7 o'clock.

An entertaining program for the children is presented under the direction of Jane White during the Sun-Telegraph Family broadcast today from 4:45 to 5:15.

Stars featured on the Sun-Telegraph Nite Club of the Air tonight at 11 are Betty Cruikshank, contralto, and Jeanne Clasky, soprano, with David Levin's Orchestra. Pat Haley is master of ceremonies.

A program of interest to all boys is presented during the Sun-Telegraph Boys' Club tomorrow morning on WCAE at 11:45.

"FLIES..in My Baby's Food"

GET RID OF THEM ..THIS QUICK WAY

"IN another second the child would have eaten it!"

"It makes me shudder . . . What can I do to get rid of these flies?"

Don't waste another minute. Flies carry terrible diseases. Be safe!

Order some Bee Brand Liquid Spray . . . declare war on flies . . . and free your home from these deadly germ carriers!

Just spray it around . . . and the flies drop dead. It doesn't stain . . . it has a pleasant cedar odor.

Flies, mosquitoes, ants, bedbugs, roaches . . . all die after a few whiffs of Bee Brand. It's a killer in liquid form . . . yet it's not poisonous.

Bee Brand is double strength and cheaper to use because it's more effective. Get some . . . don't delay another day.

NEW LARGER SIZES

greatest bean values in Heinz history!

YOU GET MORE BEANS IN THIS BIG NEW CAN ...FOR THE SAME OLD PRICE YOU PAID FOR THIS ONE!

4 KINDS —ALL IN BIGGER CANS!
1—Heinz Oven-Baked Beans with Tomato Sauce and Pork—plump, luscious fellows that will make any husband hurry home for supper!...
2—"Vegetarian" Style in Tomato Sauce, without Pork—rich, savory and downright delicious!...
3—Boston Style—with Pork—the kind of beans that makes New Englanders pray for Saturday night!...
4—Red Kidney Beans—with Pork—the big, juicy, melt-in-your-mouth kind!
ALL OVEN-BAKED!

Get out your biggest serving dish! Your grocer has Heinz Oven-Baked Beans in New Bigger Cans—at the same old prices! Bigger cans? They're bigger by a whole man-size serving than the cans you bought last year!

More baked beans for your money—and finer baked beans. Not like most so-called "baked beans" that are only steamed or boiled. Heinz Beans are oven-baked—baked as beans should be, in the dry heat of an oven. Result: beans that are lighter, tenderer, more digestible—golden-brown beans with the famous Heinz sauce sending its spicy, savory flavor through and through them.

So hurry to your grocer's. Treat your budget to these bigger values! Treat your family to America's finest baked beans.

Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the width and position of the roadway and sidewalks and the grade of the southerly curb line of Carson Street West, from Corliss street to Fernwood street, be and the same are hereby refixed and re-established as follows, to-wit:
The following described southerly curb line shall be used as a reference line for the purpose of this ordinance:
Beginning on the westerly line of Corliss street, as opened by Ordinance No. 299, aproved July 14, 1913, at the point of tangent on the same described in the above-mentioned ordinance as being opposite Station 0+39.77 on the easterly 4-foot running line, tangency to the following described arc at said point of beginning, coinciding with the westerly line of Corliss street; thence northwardly and westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 30 feet and a central angle of 61 degrees 56 minutes 35 seconds for an arc distance of 32.38 feet to a point of compond curve; thence northwestwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 50 feet and a central angle of 32 degrees 32 minutes 40 seconds for an arc distance of 28.40 feet to a point of reverse curve; thence westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 4,523.57 feet and a central angle of 3 degrees 10 minutes 05 seconds for an arc distance of 250.12 feet to a point of tangent, said point of tangent being at a perpendicular distance of 3.25 feet south of the southerly 5-foot running line of Carson Street West, as described in Ordinance No. 512, approved February 16, 1911, at Station 26+25.85 on the same and being also at a perpendicular distance of 6.75 feet north of the southerly line of Carson Street West, as widened by Ordinance No. 140, approved May 7, 1932; thence westwardly, parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 6.75 feet north of the southerly line of Carson Street West, as widened by the last above-mentioned ordinance, to a point of curve perpendicularly opposite Station 54+03.34 on the above-mentioned southerly 5-foot running line; thence westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 592.75 feet and a central angle of 4 degrees 05 minutes 41 seconds for an arc distance of 42.37 feet to a point of tangent; thence westwardly by the tangent 50.69 feet to a point of curve; thence westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 450.50 feet and a central angle of 3 degree 27 minutes 44 seconds for an arc distance of 27.22 feet to a point of tangent perpendicularly opposite Station 55+23.21 on the above-mentioned southerly 5-foot running line; thence westwardly by the tangent, parallel to and 5 feet north of the southerly line of Carson Street West, 157.75 feet to a point of curve perpendicularly opposite Station 56+60.81 on the above-mentioned southerly 5-foot running line; thence westwardly by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 800.88 feet and a central angle of 7 degrees 33 minutes 20 seconds for an arc distance of 105.61 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular or radial distance of 6.75 feet north of the southerly line of Carson Street West, as widened by the above-mentioned ordinance, to the easterly curb line of Fernwood street.
The roadway from Corliss street to Station 54+03.34 on the above mentioned southerly 5 foot running line shall have a general width of 38 feet; thence to Station 55+23.21, a variable width ranging from 38 feet at the former to 37 feet at the latter mentioned point; thence to Station 56+60.81, a general width of 37 feet; thence to Station 57+81, a variable width ranging from 37 feet at the former to 38 feet at the latter mentioned point; thence to Fernwood street, a general width of 38 feet. The roadway shall lie along the northerly side of and contiguous to the above described southerly curb line throughout.
The southerly sidewalk from Corliss street to Station 54+03.34 on the above mentioned southerly 5 foot running line, shall have a general width of 6.75 feet; thence to Station 55+23.21, a variable width ranging from 6.75 feet at the former to 5 feet at the latter mentioned point; thence to Station 56+60.81, a general width of 5 feet; thence to Station 56+28.38, a variable width ranging from 5 feet at the former to 6.75 feet at the latter mentioned point; thence to Fernwood street, a general width of 6.75 feet. The southerly sidewalk shall lie along the southerly side of and contiguous to the above described roadway throughout. The northerly sidewalk shall have a variable width and occupy the portion of the street lying between the above described roadway and the northerly street line.
The remaining portions of the street lying without the lines of the roadway and sidewalks, as above described, shall be used for slopes, parking, retaining walls and steps.

Official—Pittsburgh 111

STAFF OF PLAN COMMISSION TO BE CUT

Further reductions in the county payroll will be made by the Planning Commission, County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern at the commission's meeting yesterday said many of the 49 employes recently transferred from the Department of Highways were shifted for "fiscal purposes only," and any not needed by the commission are to be dismissed.

JOBS TO VANISH

Some of the employes are on bond issue payrolls and when the projects are completed their jobs will vanish, McGovern said, "like snow in the springtime."

Explaining how he happened to transfer the 49 employes to the planning commission, McGovern declared he used the "four horsemen" method, saying

"There were four horsemen in the old Department of Public Works. I enlisted their aid to eliminate the barnacles from the payrolls. They suggested the names of people who could be dispensed with. I took their suggestions and then included three of them when we ousted the unnecessary employes.

"There is only one of the horsemen left, V. R. Covell. There were engineers working as stenographers and draftsmen as chauffeurs. Those remaining after their suggestions were made we transferred to the planning commission. If you want to keep some of them it's all right with me. If you want an entire new outfit that's all right too."

E. R. Crawford's plan to employ an executive engineer responsible for the work of the commission was adopted. A special committee was named to confer with leaders in the engineering field on suggestions for a man to fill the post.

BOULEVARD ROW ADJUSTED

A definite written agreement has been reached between County Commissioner William D. Mansfield and officials of the Pennsylvania Water Company in the Allegheny River boulevard controversy. It probably will be made public Monday morning.

When the County Planning Commission met yesterday Commissioner Charles C. McGovern asked Mansfield, who had been named a committee of one, what progress had been made in the negotiations, he replied:

"We have a definite agreement in writing. It now requires only approval of the terms."

Mansfield will probably confer with McGovern and Commissioner C. M. Barr before the terms are made public.

3 RAIDS MADE, RUM CAR SEIZED

Three places were raided and a liquor-laden automobile was seized by prohibition agents yesterday. A 25-gallon still, 5,500 gallons of mash and a half-gallon of whisky were reported found in a house in Washington street, Bellevernon.

Fourteen pints of whisky were reported confiscated in an alleged speakeasy in Kirkpatrick street, where Daniel Cuneen was arrested.

In a store in East Carson street, the agents reported seizing 1,074 bottles of beer, one pint of wine, 34 pints of whisky and 30 gallons of beer mash, arresting Stanley Petrauskas and Walter Petrauskas.

An automobile in which agents found five gallons of moonshine was seized in an alley in the rear of the 500 block of Second avenue.

U.S.-Canada Peace Garden Dedicated

DUNSEITH, N. D., July 15.—(AP.)—The International Peace Garden, marking more than 100 years of peace between Canada and the United States, was formally dedicated yesterday.

Representatives of both countries came to attend the ceremonies at the park, consisting of 3,000 acres of land along the Canadian-United States border. A cairn, constructed of rough boulders, was unveiled.

Saturday at FRANK & SEDER

In Mayfair

—With—

Patricia Pitt

And the East, meaning at this time of year, the northeast section of the country washed by the Atlantic, is attracting more folks every day.

That popular young woman, Mary Childs, left yesterday for York Harbor, Me., to be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook at her summer place. Later Mary will go to Milton, Mass., to be the guest of the Tarrant P. Kings, father and mother of her fiance, William T. King. She doesn't plan to be back in town until late August.

Mrs. James W. Scully will be at York Harbor for the summer, by the way.

Visit In East

Mrs. T. Clifton Jenkins and her daughters, Elizabeth and Clara Dorothea, are at "Swanhurst," their summer place at Spring Lake, N. J.

Mrs. J. Frank Drake and her daughters Virginia and Constance and son James are at "Out-o-Bounds," their summer home at Hyannisport.

Going to Bay Head, N. J., next week for the remainder of the summer will be the John G. Frazers and their daughter, Katharine, and son, John G. Frazer, Jr.

To Wed Sept. 8

September 8 will bring a marriage of interest here, although it will not take place here. For the father and mother are former Pittsburghers, and they and their daughter have visited here often.

On that day Gertrude Speer, daughter of the J. Ramsey Speers, of the Eastern Shore, Md., will marry Frank Wattles, Jr., son of the Frank Wattleses, of Buffalo.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold J. Dorrance, of North Negley avenue, and their daughters, La Salle and Eloise, are at their summer place in Foxburg, Pa.

Social Notes

Visit at Summit

Pittsburghers at the Summit Hotel and Country Club recently were Mrs. H. E. Dunn and Miss Wilma Dunn, of Crafton, Miss Edna Murphy and E. C. Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gannon motored up for the day on Tuesday. Mrs. J. F. Boyle, Miss C. Boyle and Oliver Boyle were there with Mrs. Margaret Swane. Mrs. J. A. Daley motored up from Pittsburgh to have luncheon with Mrs. Catherine Thompson at the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McKelvey were among those from Pittsburgh seen at luncheon on Tuesday.

A party from Cannonsburg motoring up to Fort Necessity and stopping in for luncheon included Mrs. James Shaw, Mrs. E. S. Croft and Mr. Edward Croft. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kraus, of Pittsburgh, are registered for a sojourn. Others are David J. Buckingham, O. W. Grasshoff, H. B. Thompson, C. R. Hindley, R. C. Angle and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shiplet.

A bingo party will be given for the benefit of Hazel Court, No. 59, Order of the Amaranth, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall, Hazelwood.

Minutes of 1782 Court Are Heard

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 15.—A special order of court was necessary to use the minutes of the last court proceedings held at Hannastown, during the sesquicentennial held for the burning of the famous old village by Indians and Tories in 1782.

The minutes, after the village had been set on fire, were read by the present prothonotary, J. Arthur Thomas.

Man Badly Injured As Wagon Upsets

ROCHESTER, Pa., July 15.—Pinned on a log under a hayrack when the wagon overturned, Charles P. McCullough, 47, of near Baden, was taken to Rochester Hospital with serious injuries.

Blessed Food Sent To Help Porto Rico

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(AP.)—Forty tons of food for starving children in Porto Rico were in the holds of the freighter West Notus as the vessel sailed yesterday after being formally blessed.

The blessing took place at a ceremony attended by clergymen and members of community organizations. The food was given by the Northern California division of the Porto Rico child feeding committee.

HONEYMOONING McKAYS IN BERMUDA

THE JAMES C. M'KAYS

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. James C. McKay, pictured at "Old Homestead," Warwick, Bermuda, on their wedding trip which will be completed with a Canadian visit. Mrs. McKay is the former Miss Francis Reed, daughter of Mrs. James H. Reed, Jr., of Castleman street, niece of U. S. Senator Reed. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

Uninformed of Dry Law, Man's Defense

PASADENA, Cal., July 15.—(Universal.)—Walter Hamilton's novel defense when haled into court on a liquor charge was that he had never heard of prohibition. The jury of 12 men either had or took the prosecution's word that such a law is in the statutes. Hamilton was found guilty.

College Club Activity Unabated With Many Meetings Held in Interest of New Home

By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

Except that there are no Friday afternoon lectures at the College Club, you might easily imagine the season was still in full swing at the clubhouse. People are constantly coming and going and there are committee meetings of various kinds—all of course in the interest of the new clubhouse. Its rooms, by the way, are now open for inspection to business and professional women who are prospective tenants.

Aides have been announced for the benefit bridge tea to be given Tuesday afternoon at the Edgewood Country Club for the "budget of extras." These aides include Mrs. C. A. Carpenter, Mrs. E. W. McCallister, Miss Helen Bennett, Miss Evaline Chalfant, Miss Katherine Shuman, Miss Bertha Steiner, Miss Emma Steiner, Mrs. Marc Darrin, Mrs. Bryan B. Paul, Mrs. Thomas Spooner, Mrs. M. Jay Ream, Mrs. G. Harold Moore, Miss Emma M. Campbell, Mrs. C. Dixon Harnack and Miss Ella English.

Miss Monahan

Miss Catherene J. Monahan is chairman of the dance committee for the joint Catholic Daughters of America-Knights of Columbus outing at Kennywood Park on Tuesday. Forty-eight courts are participating in the affair, with Miss Margaret C. Rogers, grand regent of Court Chartiers, as general chairman.

* * *

The proceeds of the all-day boat trip of the Congress of Clubs on Tuesday will be used to pay the taxes on the clubhouse which are due this month. Dancing, cards and other games, a program of dances and musical entertainment, together with special stories and games for the very young guests are on the schedule for the day.

Juniors To Meet

An outline of next season's program will be made Sunday evening at the meeting of the Bradford Woods Junior Club in Mrs. William A. Marter's home. Summer social activities also will be discussed.

Swarthmore Girl Being Married Here Today

Miss Jane Worthington Michener, daughter of J. W. Michener, of Swarthmore, Pa., is being married to Donovan B. Spangler, of Pittsburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Spangler, of Swarthmore, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the bridegroom's home in Hampton avenue, Wilkinsburg. Officiating is the Rev. Dr. Jacob Payton.

The bride is wearing a gown of dark and light blue chiffon with a matching hat, and is carrying spring flowers. Miss Eugenie Harshbarger, as maid of honor and only attendant, is wearing flowered chiffon.

Both Miss Michener and her fiance are graduates of Swarthmore College, and she is a member of Kapa Kappa Gamma, and he of Sigma Tau, Sigma Xi and Phi Delta Theta. They will be at home immediately in Hampton avenue.

SO BIG

and so inexpensive, too . . .

The Champagne of Ginger Ales

HERE's the big bottle of Canada Dry at just the same price as you pay for ordinary ginger ales!

Twenty cents for five full glasses! . . . there's a value that speaks for itself. More particularly so, because until you taste Canada Dry, you can't imagine how good a ginger ale can be.

For flavor, for aroma, for sparkle . . . you'd have to scan a wine list of fine old vintages in France to find a beverage that equals it.

Just to learn how to keep cool for a week—order a case of The Champagne of Ginger Ales. Or buy it by the bottle. Ask for "Canada Dry" by name.

Cheer up with a glass of Canada Dry made-to-order at the soda-fountain. Only 5c and 10c a glass.

EVERY MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY — Jack Benny, inimitable master of ceremonies — George Olsen's Music and Ethel Shutta — a half-hour of sparkling wit and music. 9:30 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) over WJZ and associated N.B.C. stations. A new radio program as distinctive as The Champagne of Ginger Ales.

THE WELL DRESSED WOMAN'S ACCESSORIES ARE JUST RIGHT

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, July 15. — Probably never before in the history of Paris fashions has a hat angle meant so much. Probably never before has the handle of a handbag had so much to contribute to a woman's good looks and charm. Carry your bag the wrong way, put your belt a shade too low, and you spoil the loveliest frock.

THIS IS AT least the Paris opinion of accessories. Bags, belts, shoes and hats have become so important to fashion that practically every important dressmaker in Paris plans them along with each dress. Schiaparelli and Worth are among those designers who have special shops for the little odds and ends of a wardrobe—showing how hats should be worn, folding a handkerchief a new way, tying a scarf in a new manner.

BRUYERE PUTS her creased hats on all her mannequins, showing how sharply the brims should tilt. As the felt hat in the sketch shows, the lines of these hats are sharply marked; the brims are turned at the same angle all the way around, the simple grosgrain band around the crown is severely tailored.

MAINBOCHER'S turban, on the other hand, should be worn rather straight and tipped well forward. The one sketched is of fabric, in white linen and silk.

* * *

THE HOOKED belt, from Bruyere, is of leather, with steel eyelets and steel hook. Fauvety's belt, of black cord, has a metal anchor for its buckle. It is worn with the anchor at the side. The Maggy-Rouff bag, of red leather, has a black galalith handle which may be turned flat against the side of the bag. There is a metal accent in the little gold knobs terminating the handle.

DAUM FUNERAL TOMORROW

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Ernest C. Daum, president of the Daum and Helm Hardware Company, who died Wednesday. He came here from Germany with his family in 1862 and had lived here since.

Mr. Daum

At 16 he served for the last three months of the Civil War with the Union Army. In 1876 he bought an interest in the hardware firm of Billeter and Strauch. The business was moved to its present location, 625 East Ohio street, in 1896, after Mr. Daum became associated with John G. Helm, Sr.

Thugs May Scorn $850 Old Coin In Their Loot

CHICAGO, July 15.—(AP.)—Unless the two holdup men who robbed Albert H. Winkler are numismatists, they probably think scornfully of their loot.

Winkler, a commercial artist, gave up $2 in good United States money and a Macedonian coin.

The Macedonian piece of change, Winkler said, was presented him by an archaeologist friend who dug it up during an excavating expedition. It bears the visage of Alexander the Great, was minted in 300 B. C., and is worth $850, Winkler told officers.

America War Ace Killed in Austria

SALZBURG, Austria, July 15.—(INS.)—Edward Kuhn, 38, an American war ace, and Dr. Karl Nather, his flying pupil, were killed today when their plane crashed at the Salzburg aerodrome. The crash was preceded by an explosion in the air.

PINCHOT CAMPS AT MT. GRETNA

CAMP O'NEIL, MT. GRETNA, Pa., July 15.—(INS.)—Gov. Gifford Pinchot, commander-in-chief of the Pennsylvania National Guard, made an observation tour of the training area here today.

The Governor motored from Harrisburg last night and "turned in" under canvas with the troops. Maj. Gen. William G. Price, Jr., commander of the 28th Division, and David J. Davis, adjutant, welcomed him to division headquarters.

Welcoming opportunities to escape the heat of the capital, the Executive every summer spends several nights at the guard encampment, occupying the big tent on Division Hill which is always kept ready for him.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

I prefer to believe that Reynolds knocked himself off—during one of his melancholy spells . . . He was like that . . . Imagine being 20—with nothing but coin to waste . . . He was always moody, anyhow . . . Bored with being bored . . . Everytime I saw him in the gay spots he'd sit and stare—all night, I mean . . . The most listless of the so-called playboys . . . The peculiar set with which he mingled probably got on his nerves, too, and little wonder . . . They'd get on anybody's . . . Wonder if the next "sensation" on the front pages will be that threatened story of a well-known star? . . . Who is weary of waiting for his adored one's husband to agree to a divorce . . . The shelved groom, it appears, just won't go gay—and put himself in a spot to be trapped . . . And so his wife and her lover flaunt themselves, anyhow . . . And the latter is plotting to make a confession to the public—and charge the husband with once breaking up his own home! . . . What a story it would make! . . . But nothing good will come of it—and he will be charged with poor sportsmanship and ostracized . . . And another pair of careers will fade . . . I shudder for them both.

The tragedy, however, at Winston-Salem, revives talk about the late Hans Stengel, another sophisticate, who pardoned himself from his guests one night and went to his room where he killed himself . . . Stengel, a genius at caricature, died because he was fed-up . . . And after he perished they found one of his manuscripts which he was readying for a magazine, in which he lamented the passing of fellowship . . . "Alas!" he penned, "the American guest is gone. Look at the men who come into your home. No more may you see the affable fellow who came into festive houses, mayhap tendering a dainty nose-gay to the mistress of the house. Forgotten are the days of clinking crystals and witty toasts. Gone are the mellow evenings of grateful sipping. The bon mot died with the connoisseur of vintages and gave place to the pun and gin. The frail goblet surrendered to the uncouth demijohn, and the guest has become a customer—the host a graceless tenderer of voluminous intoxicants" . . . It was a thrust at those those whom he abhorred—yet they were his set—and they served in a way to divert him . . . What I liked about him was his gallant manner . . . in night clubs . . . Twice I saw him come to the rescue of strangers—women both times, who were being abused by their men . . . Hans told the abusive escorts that in his country men were gentlemen—and so asserting himself he punched hard . . . But on these occasions his victims were gangsters, and so he came in second.

Interesting tale about Herbert Lubin, who is listed high on the list of fellows who lose without blinking an orb . . . When money was worth a good deal more than prosperity par, he lost a diamond ring and a home at Larchmont to a movie magnate, aggregating $400,000—on the flip of a two-bit piece! . . . A honey of a title that one—for George Raft's first important flicker . . . "Manhattan Rhythm" they will christen it—and the theme will deal with a song-writer, who elevates himself—and finally winds up as a social gal's groom . . . It better be good. . . . For the same plot has been attempted twice—to anemic profits . . . And didn't one of our foremost song-fashioners prevent another play with the same plot from crashing the cinema heavens? . . . I like that description of one of the craft, who wears boisterous clothing—"What a get up for a medicine man!"

They can use my column anytime for an item like that . . . I mean about what Nick Schenck did—when he was urged to order a wage shave for his army of help . . . Instead, he ordered a two weeks' holiday with pay—which none of his competitors can match . . . And a salute, too, to L. Rosenwald of the Sears-Roebuck firm for the way he promoted a half million dollars for the unemployed . . . He was urged to give $1,000 . . . And so he told the solicitors that if they could get four other money-men to kick in with $100,000 each, he'd give the same sum . . . Which E. T. Stotesbury and G. Tyler and two other gents agreed upon—but none of the editorialists thought the combined deed rated an editorial salute . . . Now isn't Floyd Gibbons the one, though? . . . His calling cards offer his name and address in Chinese . . . They denied it once, but the rumors are persistent . . . This time, they say, that if Hoover and Curtis are re-elected that the latter and the rich widow of that famous firm will merge . . . Wonder what the lowdown is this time? . . . On J. Von Sternberg's newest misery . . . His Hollywood boudoir is practically a steel cage, plus police dog guards.

Well, there goes another of the few remaining monuments to Broadway . . . The Gaiety Theater, that grand old temple of make-believe, where such delightful plays as "Lightnin'" and "The Fortune Hunter" tenanted . . . It cradled more long-run hits than any other house . . . And now comes the mournful report that it will soon join the ranks of the Minsky burlegs group . . . The local optimists are wasting no time . . . And they are anticipating the Wet Movement by September 1 . . . So some of the wiseys are converting the old "Folies Bergere" and will pattern it after one of the Parisian joy caves and christen it "The King's Roost" . . . It will feature three bars—and dozens of beautiful barmaids . . . Goody, goody . . . I hope it comes true—I mean about the pretties, for then it will be a rendezvous for those of us who think we have to stay up all night . . . The sector certainly needs a cheerful hangout where one could promote something besides a sandwich . . . The lone restaurant where the celebrated now gather between midnight and dawning is better described as a place where the conversation is better than the food . . . No wonder the rumors about Garbo "being seen" here recently have come in bunches . . . That double of hers, Geraldine Dvorak, has been teasing shopping crowds.

It's little things like that that make big paragraphs like these . . . I mean what happened the other day to a youngster of 18, who bummed his way from the coast—and found succor among a group of Broadway fellows, who haven't much themselves . . . The group were swapping banter in front of Lindy's when they saw him ankling along—in his Joe Jackson get-up . . . "Ah-ah," one of them ah-ah'd, "there comes another touch" . . . But he didn't ask them for anything . . . He seemed embarrassed . . . "Hey, you," Lindy said to him, "are you hungry?" . . . He said he hadn't dined for days . . . And that he had just hitch-hiked from the Coast . . . Lindy gave him a hearty meal, and a job at dusting dishes . . . But not until several of the boys rushed him to their homes and outfitted him in their finery . . . One gave him a Benham suit that cost $145 . . . Another gave him underwear . . . He's wearing a pair of imported boots that cost plenty, and he has a supply of made-to-order shirts! . . . And the pay-off came when a showman let him have his limousine and chauffeur to drive him to Mills Hotel! . . . He'll be one out-of-towner who'll like New York, at any rate . . . He wasn't in town an hour—when he wound up with a home, clothes, money and a job!

"Counsellor - At - Law," established as the longest-run dramatic play in New York, will lay off for the rest of the summer after Saturday night's performance. By Elmer Rice, this play opened early in November, with Paul Muni in the leading role. Came time for Muni to fullfill a movie contract and he went to Hollywood, but the play went on with Otto Kruger in the lead. It will resume its run the week of September 5, and Muni again wil be in the role he originated.

Mary Boland Resumes Work on Picture

Mary Boland, who until a few days ago had one of the leading roles in the Pulitzer prize play, "Of Thee I Sing," will resume her motion picture work under a Paramount contract. Miss Boland starred in "The Vinegar Tree" on Broadway last season and between performances found time to appear in two Paramount pictures made at the New York studio.

Thrill Drama In Fulton

By MILDRED FILMORE

"Almost Married," the title of the film that opened yesterday in the Fulton, does not do justice to a story that actually creeps with a maniacal horror. For it is the story of a genius gone mad. The love scenes enacted by Violet Heming and Ralph Bellamy are inconsequential.

Alexander Kirkland, as the musician whose crazed mind carries him to a tragic end, is superb.

Bellamy, as an English foreign office attache, rescues Miss Heming from a dangerous situation in Russia by marrying her. It develops she already is married to the mad pianist who escaped from the asylum to haunt her.

The hate and fear experienced by the mad man is overwhelming and pervades the entire picture. In spite of numerous thoughtless scenes, Kirkland's acting lifts the picture out of the mire of "just another picture."

Zane Grey, the novelist, turns movie actor and takes his audience on a thrilling fishing trip into the South Seas, as a special added feature. Scenic beauty and action stamp this an unusual travel picture.

Stage Actor Begins Screen Career

Because he stopped in Hollywood while driving across the continent to visit his father, Arthur Hohl, one of New York's leading character actors, now finds himself launched on a screen career. Hohl has been signed for the role of Titus, Christian patriarch, in Paramount's romance of pagan Rome, "The Sign of the Cross," which Cecil B. DeMille will direct. Hohl is best known on Broadway for his work in "The Trial of Mary

BITS OF LIFE

All in a Day

By MARK HELLINGER

In Which the Customers Do the Work

"MR. COGGLESHALL was one of our best customers," writes Jack Paddock, of Chicago. "Years of steady patronage won for him that distinction along with our sales manager's appreciation. Operating the only hardware store in a small town, his orders came regularly and frequently.

"Though it was unusual, it was not at all unnatural that I should make a personal call on Mr. Coggleshall in order to thank him for his patronage and to reward him in the form of a 10 per cent discount from list price on all future orders. To avoid any misunderstandings, let me state that I was chosen only because my sales district is closest to this small town store in an out-of-the-way part of a Rocky Mountain state.

"I arrived there, and went to work immediately. It made me feel good to watch Coggleshall's expression after my prepared speech of the company's appreciation and such had been recited. And when I told him of the special 10 per cent discount he almost went into hysterics. It really tickled him so much I had difficulty in suppressing a long and hearty laugh.

"The effect was so great, in fact, that he insisted upon giving me a very large order immediately. He demanded that the order be delivered at once, and I saw that the man was acting as though he were afraid our tempting offer might be retracted. It was his wish that I send in the order over the long-distance phone.

"Smilingly, I went to the phone—one of those things that cranked like the old-fashioned flivver—and kept on inserting coins until I was forced to borrow a few from my over-enthusiastic customer. Coggleshall handed over the coins, and his eyes beamed as though he had just put over one of the most scintillating deals in all business history. The order was placed and I left.

"After I returned to Chicago, some two months went by with no more orders from Coggleshall since that first 'reward order.' Something was evidently wrong. We wrote to him. And after two more weeks went by without news or explanation, the manager decided that I should make another special trip in order to determine just what was wrong.

"I was met by a cold and indifferent Mr. Coggleshall. His mood was far different from the one in which he had greeted me on my last visit. After keeping me waiting for quite some time, he finally decided to speak to me. His speech had Coolidge backed off the boards.

"'Well?' was all he muttered.

"Here, if ever, I decided, was a case for diplomacy. I gave out my most cordial smile.

"'I must truthfully say, Mr. Coggleshall,' I began, 'that I do not understand this situation. But, whatever your trouble may be, I want to assure you that no pains will be spared to remedy the condition that thretaens to disrupt our business relationship.

"'Again I tell you that I haven't the slightest idea of what may be wrong. But I'm quite sure that, whatever it is, it can easily be ironed out.'

"The small town businessman gave me one of those darkly suspicious looks.

"'You don't know what the matter is, eh?' he barked. 'Well, mebbie I can help you out. I'm an honest businessman, an' that's the way I expect to be treated. I refuse to do business with anybody that tries ter git out of payin' 15 cents fer a telephone call!' . . .

"DEAR MARK," writes George Lehn. "I hear you've suggested a theme song for the Democrats—'Just a Cheerful Little Beerful.' There's no reason why the Democrats should monopolize the theme song idea, so here is mine for Mr. Hoover:

"'Half-Pay Days Are Here Again.' . . .

"LAWYER S. HYSTER," writes Al Schwartz, "was extremely confident as to the outcome of his latest case.

"'All you gotta do, Brown, is to follow my advice and nothing'll happen to you,' he told his client. 'Remember that, for each question I put to you, I want you to scratch your head, try to act as though you were thinking, and answer—"Sorry, but I don't remember." If you do that, a verdict in our favor is as certain as an encore at a burlesque show.'

"The colored client opened his eyes.

"'Ah gotcha, boss,' he returned. 'No matter whut yo' says, Ah replies dat Ah'm sorry but Ah does not remember. Ah gotcha.'

"The trial was short and sweet. Everything happened exactly as Lawyer S. Hyster had predicted. To each question fired at the defendant Brown, the colored gentleman scratched his head, went into a strange interlude, and answered, 'Sorry, boss, but Ah cain't remember.' And it took no time at all for the jury to return with a verdict of not guilty.

"A few days later, Lawyer S. Hyster sat in his little office with the colored gentleman.

"'Brown,' he asserted, 'we certainly pulled a fast one in that courtroom. We both know darn well that you committed that crime. You've got to hand it to me. I pulled you right out of the fire.

"'Imagine, if you were convicted, you'd to spend 10 years of your life in jail! I want you to keep that in mind and hand over the hundred bucks you promised me before we went to trial.'

"A faraway look crept into the colored man's eyes. He scratched his head.

"'Ah'm sorry, boss,' he murmured apologetically, 'but Ah just cain't remember!' . . .

"DON'T KNOW if you've heard about this case, Mark," writes Al Klein, "but, since I didn't read about it in your column, I take it for granted that you haven't. I'll make it as brief as possible for you because I know that, if you like it, you'll make it plenty long anyhow.

"A man died recently; a wealthy and highly respected citizen. Call him Mr. A, because that was the initial of his last name. The place of his death was hushed, and there weren't many who knew about it.

"All his life, as anyone in the neighborhood can tell you, Mr. A's conduct had been beyond reproach. He had worked very hard and had amassed a comfortable fortune via a thoroughly honest route. He went to church regularly each Sunday and he contributed largely to several charitable organizations.

"He married the girl of his choice and remained with her for 35 years, which brought him to the time of his death. If you were in search of the model citizen, you could stop when you came to Mr. A. A further hunt would be a waste of time.

"Maybe you can explain the rest, Mark. I can't. About four weeks ago he dropped dead of heart failure—in one of the cheapest burlesque houses in New York!" . . .

How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly—Safely

Gain Physical Vigor—Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel younger in body—keener in mind. Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any druggist in the world.

'Love Racket' In Davis

By JAMES A. BAUBIE

Three interesting occupations, or perhaps they should be called preoccupations—love, racketeering and reporting—get all mixed up with one another in "Lo Is a Racket," which opened yesterday in the Davis.

If youth, beautiful girls and excitement, not to speak of comedy, make a good picture, then "Love Is a Racket" may safely rest on its merits, because it is just packed full of these.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is the youth, a clever Broadway columnist who forgets his cleverness when it comes to women.

One of the beautiful girls is Ann Dvorak, a "good sport," who is head over heels in love with the clever columnist. Frances Dee is the girl for whom the clever columnist tumbles heels over head.

The excitement begins when Miss Dee gets on speaking terms with an underworld king who lives in a penthouse. It ends when that king is unthroned through a series of more than usually smart incidents.

The comedy is all Lee Tracy, who does the best acting in the picture.

It goes without saying that the picture fails to give an accurate picture of newspaper reporters' lives, but who wants to be a reporter?

Menjou to Plead In Girl Death Case

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(Universal.)—Charged with murder and drunk driving in connection with the death of 16-year-old Marjorie Gauthier, Harold Menjou, 20, adopted son of Adolphe Menjou, screen actor, was arraigned yesterday and ordered to return today to enter his plea.

Menjou is declared to have been intoxicated and driving his car at nearly 80 miles an hour when it crashed, killing Miss Gauthier, his companion.

DISSENSION IN COX BLUE SHIRT ARMY HALTED

POLITICS

Pinchot to Control Public Service Body.

By MARK SHIELDS

HARRISBURG, July 15.—There is little doubt in Harrisburg but that Gov. Pinchot within the next month, or as soon as the special session of the Legislature adjourns, will assume control of the Public Service Commission through having on the rate making body a majority of members whom he has appointed. It is a prospect the regular Republican organization and the utility companies do not relish, but they admit their inability to block the Governor.

Mr. Shields

The letter of the Governor to Commissioner Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, asking his resignation, was a shock which the organization and the utilities had feared, but which they hoped might be averted until next winter. It is understood regular Republican leaders have, or will, seek the influence of Collins' family to persuade him to accede to the Governor's request, as the least objectionable way out of an embarrassing situation.

If the letter of resignation is not forthcoming the forepart of next week, Mr. Pinchot promptly will prefer charges of inefficiency and neglect of duty against Collins, give him 10 days to answer, and then lay the issue before the Committee on Executive Nominations of the Senate.

Should Collins refuse to resign, and should Mr. Pinchot be unable to put his case before this special session, nothing could be done until next winter. But time runs in favor of the Governor. If the Legislature does not adjourn next week it will recess in order that it may act upon expected vetoes of its economy program. That would compel the Senate to consider the Collins matter at this session.

That the Senate does not want to do now or ever. Organization leaders, in view of an alleged inability of Mr. Collins to carry on the work of the commission, frankly say they would have little option but to meet the Governor's demands.

Organization Admits It Is Caught Off First Base

The same leaders, who would have to meet the Collins question, are engaged in forcing through an economy program. Designed to reduce the costs of government, and to remove from the picture employes whom they term useless at present. In the spirit of even that slight conception of consistency which creeps into politics, they could not well push the economy program and at the same time refuse to disturb a man who for more than two years has rendered practically no service for $10,000 a year.

The chief regret of the organization is that Mr. Collins did not step out two years ago, when he was requested to do so by former Gov. Fisher. That would have prevented Mr. Pinchot staffing the commission with a majority friendly to his views on utility regulation.

This is one instance when the executive has caught the organization off first base, and the organization admits it.

In this special session Mr. Pinchot has been pretty roughly pushed around by the organization, which has seized control of the House as well as the Senate. But, from the Pinchot standpoint, both political and on the line of utility regulation, the session will have been a complete success if he can gain control of the Public Service Commission. Had there been no special session Mr. Pinchot could not have achieved this feat so early in his administration, for the approval of the Senate is necessary in either removals or appointments.

Many Disapprove Cuts In Hospital Allocations

The Governor has not in this administration been so vigorous in speech as he was in his special message Wednesday. Yet only 40 members followed him, including only two from Allegheny, Matthew Dunn and Louis Hagmeier. It is conceivable that an executive veto deprives the opposition of 10 per cent of its strength. But, offsetting this estimated loss of 15, are 14 anti-Pinchot members who were not present Wednesday, and only 139 are needed for the necessary two-thirds to override a veto. The mathematics of the situation are plain.

When the economy measures finally get to the Governor it is improbable they will involve the approximate $23,000,000 shorn from state costs by the House. The Senate is considering a hearing on the program, and the disposition at adjournment time this week was to restore some of the reductions, particularly those in the Health and Welfare Departments.

Many Senators, including a substantial group loyal to the organization, do not approve the severe slashes made in hospital allocations.

After they finish tinkering with the series of the bills expressing the program it is probable the net reduction will be in the neighborhood of $17,000,000.

Even this sum is nearly $12,000,000 more than the Governor has said he is willing to accept, so it is doubtful if vetoes can be averted.

The interesting thing about the attitude of the House is the rough road forecast for the Governor in the regular session of 1933. If he cannot hold a substantial number now, he will not be able to increase his strength then, with his term nearer an end.

PITTSBURGH'S MOTHERS, FATHERS, SISTERS AND BROTHERS IN THE MUNICIPAL POOL IN HIGHLAND PARK AS THE WEATHERMAN LOST CONTROL OF THE SUMMER'S MERCURY

BATHERS FLOCK TO PARK POOL

The torrid weather of the last few days is sending record-breaking numbers to the Highland Park swimming pool. Thousands of persons were at the pool during its first two hours' operation yesterday. Wednesday there were more than 25,000 during the day, police estimated.

Police Inspector Bernard Kirley yesterday sent an extra police squad to the pool to keep order among the thousands who stood in line. It was necessary to close the pool a short time after vast numbers had entered, and reopen it for a new group. Police also watched the cashier's office and locker rooms.

Fall Beneath Truck Hurts Duquesne Man

George Hudgak, 21, of 53 Clearview avenue, Duquesne, is in a serious condition today in McKeesport Hospital with a concussion of the brain and severe lacerations suffered when he was thrown beneath a truck on which police said he attempted to steal a ride, late yesterday, according to a hospital report.

Man and Wife Hurt In Auto Collision

Mrs. Mollie Caplan, 41, and her husband, Harry, 42, of 1144 Morningside avenue, were in St. Francis Hospital today with lacerations suffered in an automobile collision in Perry highway near the Pines last night, according to the state highway patrol.

NET ROXIES PAL AT BALL GAME

Nothing happened in the eighth inning of yesterday's ball game at Forbes Field, so Deputy United States Marshal D. A. Goldman let his eyes rove.

The man-hunter's glance came to rest on a box occupied by Rocco DiPippo, better known as Roxie Long, and companion.

The wisecrack, "Who was that lady I seen you with?" came to mind. The reply might have been:

"That wasn't no lady. It was James Totino."

It was the same Totino who, Goldman says, skipped out following indictment with his friend Roxie and 10 others on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition act.

Totino left, as the ninth inning began, for jail in default of $2,500 bond.

Freedom of Tax Hostages Sought

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 15.—Habeas corpus proceedings for six men, arrested by Tax Collector Harry White, of North Huntingdon Township, for defaulting in their 1931 school taxes, amounting to between $7 and $8, including costs, were to be held today in an effort to have them discharged because they are insolvent.

Those arrested were Angelo Capizzi, Charles Blakely, William Blakely, Pete Colaneri, Allen Keolish, all of Larimer, and John Stein, of Trafford.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 15.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Well, let's see what was staring us in the face from the papers today. Nurmi, the great Finnish runner in the coming Olympics, ran in here from New York. The other Finns arrive by plane. Roosevelt has actually started his Presidential campaign. I see pictures all over the front page of him fishing. Are we never to get an original candidate? Well, at least he didn't stand in the creek with rubber boots on. This campaign will be settled on fish. Do you want a deep sea fisherman in the White House, flounders and cod, or a big trout and perch man?

Yours,

WILL.

Turtle Creek Woman Swallows Poison

Mrs. Anna Taylor, 40, of 523 Osborne street, Turtle Creek, was recovering today at Columbia Hospital, Wilkinsburg, from poison swallowed at her home last night, according to a police report.

TROLLEY TUBE CRASH HURTS 11

Eleven persons today were nursing injuries suffered when an outbound Arlington avenue street car crashed into two other street cars that had been stopped in the Mt. Washington tunnel late yesterday.

The injured, treated by Dr. A. W. Brown, of 418 Warrington avenue, and then taken home, were Mrs. George Stone, of 118 Millbridge street; Mrs. C. Ballinger, of 416 Beltzhoover avenue; Miss Emma Workmaster, of 949 Warrington avenue; Mrs. I. Crawford, of 8 Renwick street; Mrs. J. N. Shanahan, of 920 Industry street; Frank H. Slope, Jr., of 726 Ceres way; Mrs. C. A. Haid, of 2124 Spring street; Mrs. C. Finegold, of 1428 Hampshire avenue; Miss Madeline Carso, of 138 Amanda avenue; J. Fromberg, of 951 Freeland street, and R. R. Landsdorfer, of 1508 Fernleaf street.

The accident occurred when the Arlington car crashed into the rear of a Mt. Lebanon car, it was reported. The latter car was halted when a Castle Shannon car stopped in the tunnel after its fuse on the roof blew out, according to railways company officials.

Gunmen Kill Forest Ranger, Shoot Wife

ROSSBURN, Man., July 15.—(AP.) — Lawrence Lees, young Dominion forest ranger, is dead and his bride of five weeks lies in the hospital at Clear Lake as the result of a murderous rain on a forestry station in Riding Mountain forest reserve.

The ranger was slain when unidentified assailants fired through the window of the station. A few minutes later the killers entered the cabin as Mrs. Lees was telephoning police, and shot her down.

2 Hurt When Auto Crashes Into Pole

Two men were injured early today when the automobile in which they were riding, in Pitt drive, near Center avenue, collided with a pole. The injured, Carl Travert, of 122 Chesterfield road, and Joseph A. Glass, of 3518 Fifth avenue, were treated at Montefiore Hospital. Clarence Boren, 29, of 4 Polk way, driver of the machine, was arrested, charged with reckless driving.

Puzzle: Who Was The Gentleman In the Agreement?

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

That mysterious debt cancellation reminds us of the gentlemen's agreement between two bums.

One hokey was to steal a rooster and the other was to shoot the farmer.

Now, if America made a gentlemen's agreement, where were we at the time?

And who was the gentleman? He couldn't have been an American.

The English definition of a gent is one whose ancestors never worked for a living. We have none of these people over here.

Nope, that mysterious spirit writing on the diplomatic slate will never do. They will have to send that dumpling back to the kitchen for more sauce.

If Europe gets away with it we are going to try it on our own landlord the first of the month. After we bang his head on the floor six times we'll ask him:

"Do you remember that gentlemen's agreement about the rent?"

If he doesn't, we'll bang his bean a little more.

2 Sought for Hurting Woman in Quarrel

A rooming house proprietress and a man were sought by North Side police today for an attack upon Mrs. Alice Spaulding, 26, of 102 East Park way. Mrs. Spaulding, treated at Allegheny General Hospital, told police the woman kicked her while the man held her. She said she had gone to her former rooming house to obtain a razor strop left behind by her husband and was accused by the woman of still owing her money.

MARKET TOTALS PLOT CHARGED

Trapped, in an attempt, it was alleged, to alter financial figures distributed by a news service, J. Schwartz, who gave his address as 203 Beech street, East Pittsburgh, was under arrest today on charges of conspiracy and bribery. He was arrested by a constable from the office of Alderman Thomas Flanigan with a boy with whom, it was charged, he was attempting to arrange a plan whereby fictitious bond market sales totals supplied by him would be substituted for correct figures of the news service.

The bribery charge was based, it is alleged, on a payment of money said to have been made by Schwartz to the boy with whom he was talking when arrested.

O'HARA TO STOP SUNDAY DANCES

O'Hara Township Commissioners last night directed A. J. Neville, chairman of the police committee, to insist all dance halls in the township remain closed on Sunday night and to enforce the township building code.

The action was taken as a result of complaints received by the Commissioners of Sunday night dancing.

The order to enforce the building code grew out of alleged violations at Coxtown, a 32-acre tract in the Fox Chapel district, where the law limiting four houses to the acre is said to have been violated.

Lay Hose 3 Miles To Fight Barn Fire

Fire destroyed a barn and its contents on the farm of Robert Reiter, near Universal, last night. Volunteers from five Penn Township fire companies battled the flames from midnight until 6 o'clock this morning. The damage was estimated at several thousand dollars. Firemen were compelled to lay hose three miles over hills from North Bessemer.

RANKS AT ODDS OVER JOBS IN CANVASS

Await Priest's Return To Settle Fight Against Aide

Dissension in the ranks of Father James R. Cox's Blue Shirt Army was temporarily halted today, although scores of members of units in Homewood and Brushton still were nursing grievances against Attorney Austin J. Staley, national committeeman of the Jobless-Liberty party.

Earl J. Dean, Homestead businessman and mayor of Coxtown, said today:

"We have decided to let matters stand until Father Cox arrives home from Europe. Then those who have any complaints can take them directly to him and we are sure things will be ironed out perfectly."

COMPLAINT ON JOBS

George Ewing, also of Homestead, and adjutant in the army, presided at a meeting held last night in Old St. Patrick's Church at which the dissenters made their complaints. The complaints were to the effect that the Homestead-Brushton members had not been given consideration when Staley hired men and women for Blue Shirt Army canvassing and sent them into the East End section without conferring with those army members residing there.

Ewing told those who presented the complaints that Staley had acted in good faith when he advertised for 1,000 men and women to canvass the county, expounding the principles of the party and taking contributions. Ewing apparently convinced the men that they should drop their complaints and the canvass has been halted temporarily pending appeals taken from $10 fines imposed upon two men arrested by police.

CHARGE 'RACKET'

Dean said that there were about 65 "Blue Shirts" at the meeting and that they termed Staley's proposal a "racket." Some also hinted that Staley had taken complete command of operations during the priest's absence, although Ewing, as chief adjutant, had been designated by Father Cox to take charge.

It was denied that any action had been taken to ask Staley's removal, although one or two of the "Blue Shirts" had suggested that such action would be advisable.

Meanwhile plans for the convention to be held at Clayton, Mo., August 17 and 18, are progressing. Dean announced that at least 300 persons would go from Homestead. He has arranged to transport the group by automobile truck at a cost of $6 a round trip.

Attorney Staley today said that any dissension in the ranks was in no way injuring the harmony of the Jobless-Liberty party. He declared every member of the party and of the Blue Shirt organization was in harmony in the aims of the organization toward providing jobs for the unemployed, in sufficient numbers.

Pope Greets Father Cox And Pittsburgh Pilgrims

VATICAN CITY, July 15.—(AP.)—The Rev. James R. Cox, of Pittsburgh, bringing 50 pilgrims from that city, was received today by Pope Pius.

Before the reception, two of his younger pilgrims, Annabel Collahan, 11, and her sister, Mary Frances, 10, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Collahan, of 1731 Realty street, Beechview, Pittsburgh, were confirmed in one of the Vatican chapels by Bishop Zanpini, the Pope's vicar.

Jobless Mob Beats Mayor in Germany

WEIMAR, Germany, July 15. — (AP.)—Lord Mayor Mueller was badly beaten today by a band of jobless men who invaded his office at the city hall after having wrecked the municipal employment office.

There were unemployment riots also today in Berlin and Bueren. Several persons were injured.

HAWKS TO SHUN '13' FOR NEW SHIP

Speed King Visits City; Will Seek More Records

Frank Hawks, American speed king of the air, injured several months ago in a crash near Boston, may not be superstitious about 13's, but he's picking a new number or name for his new ship, he declared in a brief stop-over at the county airport yesterday on his way to the West coast.

Smiling through the scars of the flight which almost cost him his life, he readily discussed plans for new speed records. He confided:

"You know, in this flying business we fellows just have our ups and downs just like in any other business. But you can't keep a good man down."

That trailed off into hearty laughter and he resumed:

"I'm getting a new ship—a Northrup with a 14-cylinder radial motor. This bus will cruise around 200 miles an hour, so they tell me, but I'll find out myself what its top speed is. Lookout for a comet coming back, that'll be me."

Hawks went through Pittsburgh as a passenger aboard a Los Angeles-bound Transcontinental and Western Airplane. He said he would see the Olympic games and rest, then get back into the serious business of breaking speed records. He expects to get his new ship in September.

TYPIST HELD IN WRECK

Accused in Double Collision; Posts $1,000 Bond

Five months after the automobile she was driving was in a double crash in the Boulevard of the Allies, Bernadine L. Tuckey, 22, of 403 Castle Shannon road, Mt. Lebanon, a stenographer, was held for court. She was released on $1,000 bail, charged with violating the automobile laws.

The accident occurred February 18 at Van Braam street, and resulted in injury to two persons.

Miss Tuckey said another car bumped hers, causing it to swerve. When she righted it, she said, she collided with that of Leroy Miller, 4101 Beechwood boulevard, which in turn struck the machine of Melvin C. Finnegan, 1008 Center street, Wilkinsburg.

Mrs. Miller and her brother-in-law, Frank McFarland, of 581 Neeb street, were injured.

THREAT OF VETO FOUGHT IN ASSEMBLY

Compromises Offered To Win Support for Economy Bill

HARRISBURG, July 15.—(AP.)—Compromise tendencies were evident today after the General Assembly had adjourned for the week, almost ready to submit its $22,275,000 economy program to Gov. Pinchot for his promised veto.

Republican leaders slowed the general advance slightly as they sought to strengthen their forces by concessions. They were in position to amend and send to the Governor next Tuesday the principal measures in their state expense reducing plan and they regarded final adjournment next week possible if the Governor signs or vetoes the legislation without delay.

The concessions are relatively small, but each is calculated to make the entire program acceptable to a few more legislators. The full effect, the leaders believe, will be to insure a two-thirds majority in both House and Senate, required to override a veto, a claim contested by Pinchot supporters.

The Senate Appropriations Committee will amend the Steedle general appropriation reducer to modify the cuts provided for state hospitals, penal institutions and sanitaria. The House Appropriations Committee will decrease the $400,000 cut in the Pymatuning Dam appropriation of $1,500,000. Representative Grover C. Talbot, of Delaware, completed the third comprose today by amending his $24,000,000 appropriation to poor districts bills to permit the County Commissioners outside of Philadelphia to divert some or all of the counties' allocations to highway work relief. Each of the three measures will be on final passage re-reported by committee when the Legislature reconvenes, Monday night.

Boy Fever Victim, Mother Disappears

A state-wide search was being inaugurated today by Missing Persons Bureau detectives for Mrs. Mae Swartzwelder, 25, of 1421 Sedgewick street, who police say left home while her son William, 9, lay ill of scarlet fever.

The disappearance was reported to police by Mrs. Gertrude Ashton, 53, of 117 Sandusky street, the boy's grandmother, who said she was practically penniless and unable to continue the support of the child.

Receiver Appointed For Clay Company

C. B. McNees, of Kittanning, Pa., was named ancillary receiver of the Continental Clay Products Corporation in this district under $50,000 bond by Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court today.

The original action was started in Delaware by a reorganization committee.

The corporation, with plants at Fallston, Kittanning and Bigler, Clearfield County, is solvent but unable to meet present obligation, the court was informed.

2 NOTES CLUES IN POISON INQUIRY

Anonymous Letters to Sleuth Add Mystery To Munhall Case

Two anonymous letters concerning the so-called Munhall death plot to collect insurance, received last night by Chief County Detective George W. Murren, were being investigated today by Detective Michael McDermott on a trip to Homestead.

At the same time, Murren announced that George Allas, questioned today, could throw no light on the case of his brother, Andrew, 16, one of the deaths investigated. No trace of poison was found in the body when exhumed last May 11.

Neither could Allas give any additional information concerning the death of another brother, Stephen, who died supposedly from injuries suffered in a football game. Both cases had been mentioned in connection with the reported plot.

Detectives had planned to question the mother of the Allas youths, Mrs. Anna Allas, but she is ill at her home in Munhall.

Interrogation of Mrs. Allas and Mrs. Mary Chalfa had been planned by county detectives after Mrs. Grizella Young is said to have named them in an alleged confession which, detectives say, stated Andrew Allas and Richard Dyva, an infant, had been given poison and later died.

Mrs. Young and Mrs. Mary Chalfa are alleged to have beaten Mrs. Stella Chalfa, cousin of the latter, with a blackjack in a Mifflin Township grove on June 27. They are charged with felonious assault and battery. Detective Chief Murren said Mrs. Mary Chalfa was not at home today when a detective called, but he is not worrying about her, as she is under $3,000 bond for trial.

25 Poisoned, Blame Ice Cream at Fete

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 15.—(INS.)—After eating tainted home-made ice cream at a family reunion, 10 persons were in a serious condition here today and at least 15 others were suffering slightly from a sudden epidemic of ptomaine poisoning.

The ice cream was served at a gathering at the home of William Shell, near Winchester, O., in Adams County.

Elected Against Will, Names Man For Job

Jacob Linkauer told his friends that he did not want them to elect him constable of the Second Ward, Duquesne, at the November election, but they persisted.

Determined not to have the office, he failed to post the necessary bond or take the oath. Yesterday he joined in a petition to Quarter Sessions Court to have Thomas Gallagher appointed to the office and Judge Frank P. Patterson accommodated him by signing the appointment.

Two Banks Held Up, Robber Suspect Slain

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 15.—(AP.)—A bank robber suspect was killed resisting arrest and two banks were robbed within 20 minutes in Arkansas yesterday. Officers shot and killed Ky Coatney north of Van Buren when he resisted their efforts to arrest him as a suspect in the robbery of a Prairie Grove bank last April 1.

Two men held up the First National Bank of Paris and robbed it of about $8,100. At Beebe two men robbed the Citizens Bank of $3,100 and escaped.

"WHAT IS A TERRAPLANE?" ASKS ARTHUR BRISBANE

BECAUSE he knows people, their burdens, their hopes, their yearnings, the most widely read newspaper writer in America is quick to report the rumor of a new-type automobile and say, "What is a 'terraplane'?..."

Because he knows economics and the automobile business, he concludes, "It takes courage to start anything new just now, more particularly a new automobile. But there is always room at the top, and opportunity, for there is no crowd there to impede your movements."

Is Arthur Brisbane right? Is there a place today for a car to fit the word which he asks about? Does the man accustomed to costly, heavy car luxury and "road sense" want the same thing at a price to fit his 1932 purse? Does a generation which planes on water and in the air want the same gliding swiftness, the same fluid smoothness in land transportation? Is any motor car factory daring enough in engineering, quick enough on its feet, independent enough in executive control to produce a 'terraplane'?

One of these days Hudson-Essex will announce such a car.

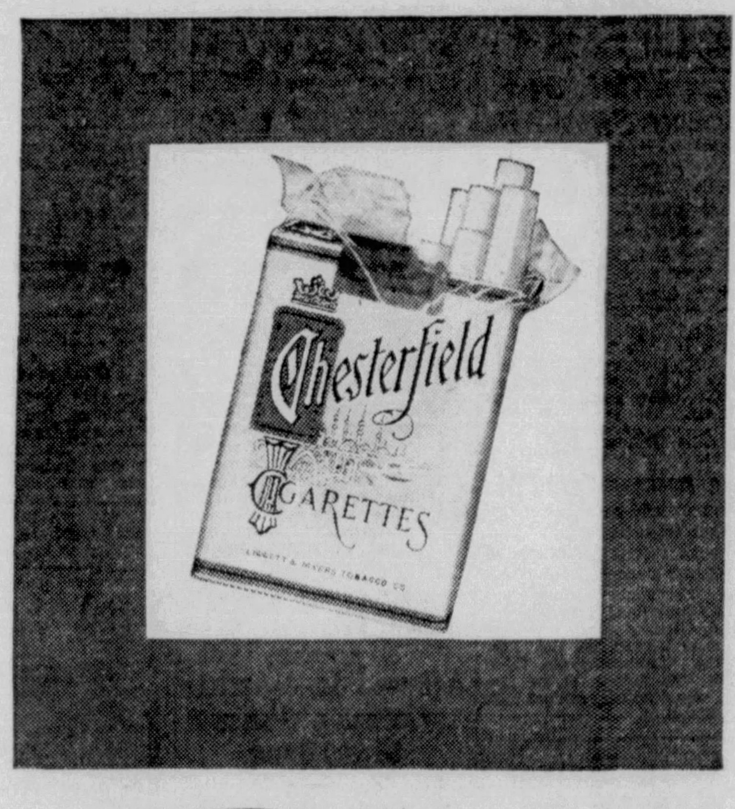
It's the Cigarette that's Milder and Tastes Better!



That's why more and more Smokers are changing to Chesterfield every day

WHEN you are smoking a lot of cigarettes every day, you naturally want a mild cigarette, and smokers try Chesterfields and find out that they are milder and taste better.

Then smokers tell other smokers—"one smoker telling another"—that they find that although they smoke a great many Chesterfields during the day, they never tire of them; and that they have found out that Chesterfield is a milder cigarette, that it is a cigarette that tastes better, that it is a cigarette with a most pleasing aroma.

Some time ago, in a Chesterfield advertisement, there was a statement, "A $90,000,000 Reason," and this means that the larger part of $90,000,000 is invested in the right kind of ripe, mild Domestic and Turkish tobaccos to make sure that Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

May we ask you to try them?

MASS MEETING SET FOR C. E.'S

By DAVE T. JONES
Staff Correspondent.

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., July 15.—The Rev. Dr. Louis Evans, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh, and Homer Rodeheaver, evangelist and song leader, will divide time as leaders of the mass meeting tonight for the young men and women attending the fifteenth biennial convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor.

Tonight's service will have a consecreation and praise program. Dr. Evans will speak on consecration while Mr. Rodeheaver will lead the singing. This morning, Arch McQuilkin, chairman of the board of the state organization, presided at the session in the Temple of Music.

The entertainment program for today included a water carnival under the direction of Clifford Harrington and Robert Atwell, two leaders in endeavor work. Yesterday afternoon the program included a golf tournament and baseball games between delegates from Western and Eastern counties. So far Allegheny County stands out as baseball champions through their victory over Philadelphia County.

Airplane Ride For Taxi Drivers

Pittsburgh taxicab drivers, numbering 750, are to be given an airplane ride on July 28, preliminary to the inauguration of service between the Parmelee System, operators of Green and Yellow cabs, and the Air Service of Pittsburgh, Inc. Pilot Jack Fife will be at the controls of the tri-motored plane.

Political Addresses Banned From Record

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS.)—The Congressional Record will be purged of partisan political addresses for the remainder of the session, Senator Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, announced to the Senate today.

He declared he would object to insertion of political addresses which are printed at a cost of $58 a page to taxpayers and mailed to the voters by individual senators under their frank.

Market Probe Turns To U.S. Tax Returns

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS.)—The basis for a new line of attack by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee in its investigation of the New York Stock Exchange was laid today in the Senate.

A joint resolution by Senator Norbeck (Rep.), of South Dakota, the committee chairman, was adopted authorizing the Treasury Department to open its income tax returns to the investigators.

Baby Uninjured In 3-Story Fall

BALTIMORE, July 15.—(AP.)—Left to play in the back room of a third-story apartment, 3-year-old Donald Gogel last night climbed in the window, toppled over the ledge and fell.

Half way to the ground he struck a telephone wire, bounced off, cleared a fence and landed in the yard next door. Horrified neighbors who saw the fall rushed him to a hospital, where he was found unhurt.

WARN OF BOGUS NEWS MEN

HARRISBURG, July 15.—(AP.)—Strangers, misrepresenting themselves as in the employ of the Associated Press, are reported to have traded good watches in Bellefonte for little money and to have approached commercial photographers in this city with offers of lucrative jobs.

Despite the fact that members of the Associated Press staff carry no badges, no general letters of introduction, and none of the customary credentials, but are able to establish their identity by other means, the badges and decorations have been in evidence.

In Bellefonte two citizens have slightly used watches as security for loans of $5 or $6 advanced to a short stocky stranger, who said he was an Associated Press employe.

In this city the stranger who approached R. W. Rupp, commercial photographer, and offered him $50 a week to take pictures of Harrisburg for the Associated Press, gave the same name and answered the same general description as the watch trader of Bellefonte.

Ocean Gives Up Message After 34 Years

DIGBY, N. S., July 15.—(INS.)—The traditional message in a bottle—34 years old—requesting aid was picked up near here by Austin Carthy, a native of Digby Neck, it was learned today.

The penciled "SOS" was written on ruled paper yellowed with age and read as follows:

"January 17, 1898: somewhere off the coast of Africa. Have just sighted land after 39 days and 40 nights. I have one loaf of bread and one pint of water. My strength is going fast, and I don't think I will reach land. Oscar Lawrence."

BRAZIL REBELS IN HOT FIGHT

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 15.—(INS.)—Federal troops captured Itatiaya Station, midway between Rio De Janeiro and Sao Paulo, headquarters of the southern rebels, today, after a bitter battle in which there were heavy casualties to both sides, according to a government announcement.

The Brazilian Red Cross rushed aid to "the front," setting up headquarters at Barra do Pyrahy, 62 miles west of Rio De Janeiro.

Jeannette Strike Settled by Raise

JEANNETTE, Pa., July 15.—A strike of 100 employes at the feed plant of R. S. Altman, at Irwin, was settled at noon today, according to Altman. He said he had granted the men an increase of 5 cents an hour and all returned to work. The men struck yesterday.

RECLUSE SLAYS BOY AT PLAY

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP.)—For two years, James W. Brown, 60-year-old recluse, who lived in a two-room shack on the southern edge of the city, had complained of the noise made by children. No one heeded his complaints.

Last night Brown fired a rifle into a group of children playing baseball in the street. The shot killed C. A. Butler, a Negro, who was watching the play, and wounded Mrs. Mamie Dobrinsky, a white woman, who was playing with the children, in the arm.

As the children and grown-ups fled, Brown continued to fire. Police arrived and after an exchange of shots, broke into the shack. They found Brown dead. He had shot himself.

PRUDENCE PENNY :-: Tells How to Make Latest Dishes :-: FINE RECIPES

Sandwiches have their own particular appeal in hot weather. But the popular sandwiches are the ones that contrive to be just a little different, just a little unusual.

Any one of these sandwiches—or all of them—with a glass of iced tea, would prove very welcome at practically any time.

TONGUE SPECIAL SANDWICH—Make a cole slaw with 2 cups of finely shredded cabbage and 1 tablespoon of chopped green pepper, and moisten thoroughly with a French dressing. Season as desired with salt, pepper and lemon juice.

Now spread a layer of toast with mayonnaise, cover with a generous layer of sliced tongue, then with a spoonful of the cole slaw and another slice of toast. Cut diagonally, garnish each section with a stuffed olive and a sweet pickle, and serve.

SANDWICH SUPREME—Thoroughly blend ½ pound Roquefort cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon chopped almonds. Add a few drops Worcestershire sauce to season. Spread between slices of bread or toast, or use for open-face sandwiches and sprinkle with chopped nuts.

FRIDAY SANDWICH—Spread crabmeat between two slices of toast, having previously moistened the canned crabmeat with a tangy French dressing. On top of the second slice of toast put a slice of Swiss cheese, and cover with a third slice of toast spread with mayonnaise.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES—Sift 2 cups flour, measure and sift twice with a teaspoon of baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon cin-

Women said:
YOU CAN'T KEEP SUDS LIKE THAT

BUT that was before they used the New Oxydol

● Maybe you've had this experience; most women have. You stir up suds in dishpan or laundry tub, only to see them ball up or fade away when you put in greasy dishes or dirty clothes.

But that doesn't happen with the New Oxydol. Sprinkle this soap in and see the amazing result. Rich—fluffy—permanent suds. Suds that soak the dirt out and keep it out—suds that don't collapse, letting the dirt fall back on the clothes. Suds that soak clothes gleaming white—that make dishes sparkling clean—that leave no scum.

Oxydol makes 50% more suds—that's why this safe, clean-smelling soap can do so much, even in the hardest water—and all water hardens when you put in dirty clothes or greasy dishes. Try the New Oxydol. You'll bless the day you learned its name.

Contract Bridge

HOW TO PLAY
and
HOW TO WIN

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

Trumping Partner's Ace

One of the major crimes charged against some types of bridge players is that they will even trump their partner's Ace. This is a grave offense, I will admit, but there are hands in which the trumping of partner's Ace is the only method of defeating the contract, and when such situations do occur, the player who is alert enough to realize them should not be condemned, but commended for his ability to see something more than appears on the surface and appreciate the factor of time in trick-taking.

Recently, in a Duplicate game in Denver, Col., the hand below was dealt:

South—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

North: ♠ Q 9 7 ♡ K Q 8 7 ◇ K Q J 10 ♣ 9 6
West: ♠ J 4 ♡ 6 5 3 2 ◇ A ♣ A K 10 9 7 2
East: ♠ 6 3 2 ♡ J 9 4 ◇ 9 8 6 5 4 2 ♣ J
South: ♠ A K 10 8 5 ♡ A 10 ◇ 7 3 ♣ 8 5 4 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♣ (1)	3 ♠ (2)	Pass
4 ♠ (3)	Pass	Pass	Pass

(1) A sound vulnerable Overcall. The hand contains a six-card trump suit and an Ace in addition.

(2) Giving all Raises at once. This is much better than bidding either hearts or diamonds, as North's hand is not strong enough for a Forcing Takeout, as it contains only 3 honor-tricks. Hence, the double Jump in a suit for which he has adequate support is to be preferred.

(3) South has a five-card trump suit and ½ honor-trick more than required for his Opening bid. He is therefore justified in bidding four spades.

Against the contract of four spades, West opened the Ace of diamonds, and then shifted to the King of clubs, upon which all followed suit. He then followed with the Ace of clubs, the Queen was played from Dummy, and East studied the situation.

Why had West first led the Ace of diamonds, which was the only honor he held in that suit, before leading a suit in which he held the Ace-King and length also? Obviously, there must be some reason, and the only sufficient reason would be that the Ace of diamonds was a singleton and thus he could ruff the return of that suit. The trump suit in Dummy and South's rebid to game made practically certain that West had no trump trick and certainly could not have held the Ace of hearts; otherwise, South would have had to rebid or, in fact, no opening bid whatever.

East, therefore, trumped his partner's good Ace in order to obtain the lead to return the diamond, which was ruffed by West and the contract thus defeated 1 trick.

By the drawing of an accurate inference and the utilization of the time factor, an apparently certain contract failed to be made.

TODAY'S QUESTION:

What is the correct response to an opening two-club bid on the following hand?

♠ A J 9 2 ♡ 7 6 ◇ 9 6 5 ♣ 9 8 6 5

Answer: Four clubs, since the hand contains adequate trump support, 1 honor-trick and 1 ruffing-trick.

Blackberries Healthful as Well as Delicious

These berries are alkaline in reaction and aid in combatting any tendency of the body toward acidity.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

We are in the midst of the blackberry season, which is good news for every member of the family. Little Johnny and his playmates welcome this time of the year, for the berry season means vacation time. Indeed, there are few individuals who do not welcome summer with its many fresh berries. One of the most delightful chores I perform is to rise early in the morning and gather a heaping bucketful of berries. A dish of these berries and cream starts the day properly.

The blackberry grows wild in many sections of the country. It has a delicious flavor and is an important food because it contains many mineral salts. It is alkaline in reaction and aids in combating any tendency of the body toward acidity. Contrary to a common belief held by many, it prevents, rather than causes, hyperacidity.

In addition to its base forming properties, blackberries are valuable because of their laxative property and vitamin content. They are particularly rich in vitamin C, an important vitamin. It is called "anti-scorbutic," for it prevents scurvy.

RICH IN IRON CONTENT

Though this fruit contains many mineral substances, it is of greatest value because of its iron content. Iron is a substance which is essential for proper growth of bone marrow and for the liberation of strong and healthy blood cells. It prevents disorders of the blood and many anemic conditions.

The nutritive value of berries is tremendously increased when served with milk or cream and sugar. During the summer months fruits and vegetables should form the major part of the daily diet. Berries are cooling and nutritious and can be eaten in salad form with other fruits, stewed or plain.

The berry contains a nutritive and thirst-quenching juice. This juice should never be wasted and may be used as a cooling and refreshing drink.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN

A recent medical report recommends an exclusive fruit juice diet for children suffering from diarrhea. In this report it is recommended that fruit juices or fruit pulp be used as the only food for two or three days. Severe cases of diarrhea have responded to this form of treatment, with improvement in appetite, sleep, digestion and disappearance of the diarrhea.

Blackberries are mainly used in their fresh form. Large quantities are used in cooking and in making jelly and jam. With the increased development of the canning industry, blackberries can now be eaten all year round. Canned berries are "tasty" and possess almost the same nutritive value as the fresh fruit.

The loganberry, or logan blackberry, is a distinctly flavored variety of the blackberry. This relative of the blackberry has only been known for a few decades and is a specie that has become exceedingly popular. Indeed, the demand for the loganberry far exceeds the supply. It is used mainly as a fresh fruit, but is also of value as a cooked or canned fruit.

NO. 203.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting unto Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees and assigns, the right to enter upon, use and occupy Sterrett street in the city of Pittsburgh with a single street railway service track crossing said street at right angles between Frankstown avenue and Felicia way, subject to the terms and conditions herein provided.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees and assigns, shall have the right and they are hereby authorized to enter upon, use and occupy Sterrett street in, on and along the following route, with the right to install, maintain and operate a single street railway track over the said route to connect with the track leading from the Homewood Shop to the Sterrett Street Operating Yard of the company:

"Beginning in the west line of Sterrett street at a point situated fifty-two feet, six inches (52' 6") south, as measured along the said west line from its intersection with the south line of Frankstown avenue, thence eastwardly and crossing Sterrett street, approximately at right angles, fifty feet (50') more or less."

SECTION 2. Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees and assigns, shall have the right and they are hereby authorized to construct, maintain, operate and use a single street railway track on the route hereinbefore mentioned, together with the necessary connections, and to operate cars thereon and to use electricity as a motive power, and to erect, maintain and use in Sterrett street such posts, poles and other supports as said company may deem convenient for the support and maintenance of an overhead system, for the operation of street cars, subject, however, to the provisions of the ordinance approved February 25, 1890, entitled, "A General Ordinance relating to the entry upon, over or under, or the use or occupation of any street, lane or alley, or any part thereof, for any purpose, by passenger or street railway companies, or by companies operating passenger or street railways, and providing reasonable regulations pertaining thereto for the public convenience and safety." Provided, however, that if at any time the City of Pittsburgh desires to make any alterations for city purposes in Sterrett street, the Pittsburgh Railways Company, its successors, lessees or assigns, will remove said crossing at its own cost and expense upon sixty days' notice thereof by the Director of the Department of Public Works.

SECTION 3. Pittsburgh Railways Company may assign any of the rights hereinbefore granted to such of the underlying companies operated or to be operated by it as it deems proper, subject to the consent of Council of the City of Pittsburgh, and subject, also, to the acceptance by said underlying companies of all the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 4. The term of this grant shall be for the period of fifty (50) years from the date of the acceptance hereof.

SECTION 5. This ordinance shall be accepted by the Pittsburgh Railways Company within sixty (60) days after its passage or approval by a Certificate of Acceptance of all the conditions and provisions thereof. Said certificate to be executed under the proper seal of the company, duly attested by the president or vice president, and the secretary or an assistant secretary thereof, and filed with the Controller of the city.

SECTION 6. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

TELL IT TO SALLY -:- -:- Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day -:- -:- By SALLY MARTIN

Don't Let Others Make All Of Your Decisions

He's mamma's fair-haired boy, and he lets her do all his thinking for him—

Including his thinking about gals.

Which sorta puts Mona in the soup. Shall she continue to be his second best girl, mamma being always first, or shall she look for someone who has, and uses, a backbone of his own?

Dear Sally Martin:

I wish you would write an article about people who let other folks do their thinking for them. I am in love with a man like that, and I just don't know what to do.

He is about 31 years old and I have been going with him for three years. Now I have almost reached the stage where I feel like throwing the whole thing up.

I am 28, not bad-looking and have loads of friends, and yet, since I've been going with him, I am getting about the worst imaginable kind of inferiority complex.

His mother, an ailing woman in the late sixties, is taking advantage of her ailments to rule him, almost to the very thoughts in his head. He never does anything without consulting her first. This hurts, as a lot of his consulting concerns me.

I don't seem to count at all, compared to her, although in many ways he is very considerate. She is referred to by a good many people as "that terrible woman," and she censors everything I do. Nothing I do suits her. There seems no way, of pleasing her, outside of being her doormat. He went with several other girls before me, and always she has managed to cause a break.

MAKES HER ANGRY

Sometimes I feel like taking him by the shoulders and shaking him. Of course you can readily understand that I can't say anything against his mother to him. The unfortunate part of it is that I do care a great deal for him, so I don't want to antagonize him.

Is it worth while to keep on seeing him? Is it simply a matter of endurance, or what? Please help me. What can I do to wake him up? It hurts me to see him like that, aside from my own feelings. MONA.

Well, personally, I'd be like those other gals. I'd get out, while the getting was good. Maybe that sounds heartless, but it isn't. For this thing is really not up to you, it's up to him; and if he hasn't the spunk and independence to use his backbone—to stand up for himself, and for you—there isn't much use bothering with him.

"But I love him!" you cry.

A BAD HABIT

Yes, I know. But supposing you did hang on? Supposing that you married him? You don't have to look very hard to see what would happen. Either you would become a complete zero, or you would go from one ugly wrangle to another.

If you think that having this particular powder puff is worth it, then go to it; but don't kid yourself about what you'd be picking off for yourself.

Letting mama do his thinking has become a pet habit with him, and you can't break that habit. No one can break it but himself, and the chances are he won't.

So I'd tell him, just as frankly as you have told me, exactly how you feel, and put it up to him that you can't and won't stand having someone stand over you and do your thinking, and that if he won't learn to stand up for himself and decide things for himself, you're through.

He will probably moan and wail, and beg you not to run out on him; but don't weaken. Make him grow a backbone or fade out of the picture.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

"Auto-Intoxication"

An individual's destiny, his happiness, efficiency and even his span of life may be dependent on the condition and action of his intestines. The welfare of this portion of the body determines largely his general welfare.

Dr. Copeland

There are about 30 feet of tubing in the human abdomen divided into two parts. The upper portion constitutes what is known as the "small intestine," a marvelous laboratory where the food is transformed into products suited to the needs of the body. The lower portion, known as the large intestine, or colon, acts mainly as an avenue of escape for waste matter.

Prompt and complete elimination of this waste matter is most important. Good health demands it.

The walls of the intestine contain muscles which contract, pushing the contents forward. When these muscles become weakened, constipation is the result.

If the character of the food offers insufficient stimulation to the bowel, or if some of the digestive juices are not of proper composition, waste matter accumulates in the colon and there becomes hardened from the absorption of the water constituents: then "auto-intoxication," with all its train of ills, comes to impair the health.

It can be readily seen that the first step in the prevention of constipation is to take regularly a diet containing foods that will encourage the intestines to do easily their normal work. These foods should be chosen with care.

Coarse breads, cereals and vegetables all contain material that is not absorbed into the system. Fruit juices incite the bowel to action, and should constitute an important part of the diet.

Proper training in elimination should begin in babyhood. Neglect in this matter can become decidedly detrimental to the welfare of an infant or older child. Drinking sufficient water during the day and taking fruit juices will help. There should be regular times for eliminations. These are precautions upon which every parent should insist.

The discomfort of chronic constipation often leads the sufferer to resort to medicines to get relief. Habitual use of cathartics for the "cure" of constipation is apt to be harmful. Certain medicines stimulate the bowel, but require increased doses to maintain their action. Mineral oil and agaragar are the least objectionable of remedies of this nature. Enemas may be used as an emergency measure, but their continued employment is not to be recommended.

Proper food, the drinking of sufficient water and regularity in evacuation are slow safe methods of curing constipation. Prevention is the important thing.

Answers to Health Queries

A. B. Q.—What are the symptoms of hyperacidity in the stomach?

Household Hints

A sleeve board would be a welcome gift for the new mother, on which to iron baby's dainty little dresses.

Most housewives are most particular about clean towels, but how many completely forget the lowly dishcloth, which really gets all the dirty work to do. It should be washed out after each meal and dried thoroughly before using again.

If your iron sticks to the clothes when ironing starched pieces, try using soapy water as the foundation for your starch. Allow one tablespoonful of soap jelly to each quart of water. Then add the required amount of starch. This will prevent the iron sticking.

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Silver at Dinner

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. A discussion has arisen about how a lady should place her napkin. A says it should be opened entirely, B claims it should be folded over once.

2. A also says that a clean dinner plate should be left and B says a little food should be left when finished eating.

3. In what order should the knives, forks and spoons be placed when serving a dinner? W.

1. The napkin should not be opened entirely. We unfold it in only one direction, laying it the long way across our lap.

2. This is just as we wish, but is no longer necessarily "polite" to leave food on the plate. The war closed that chapter of absurdity. Foreigners have always thought us, and reasonably so, most ridiculous ever to have had this silly dictum. Why in the world should we leave food on our plates "for manners' sake?" If we wish to leave food . . . all right . . . but only if we wish.

3. The silverpieces should be placed so that the guest may conveniently use the silverpiece farthest from the plate and proceed toward the plate. Silverpieces are placed for the courses to the dessert, and the dessert silver is brought in either before the dessert is served or on the dessert plate with the finger bowl. (The dessert fork is placed on the left of the finger bowl, and the dessert spoon is placed on the right.)

Knives and spoons are on the right, and the oyster fork, if one is served. Forks are on the left of the plate.

Wedding Attire

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Will you please give me the details regarding the proper dress for a male guest attending a 4:30 p. m. Sunday wedding ceremony at a hotel, with a dinner and dancing following at the same hotel? H. W.

Since the ceremony is at 4:30, the guests would dress in day clothes for this. The correct formal attire is cutaway coat and dark striped trousers. The informal attire is a dark business suit.

Heart of a Wife -:- Continuation of Love's Reawakening

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge's Efforts Win Lillian's Gratitude

There was instant comprehension in the three attentive faces turned toward me when I asked Lillian if Ronald's reaction to the pretended disapproval of his romance with Marion, which she meant to stage, might not be an abrupt leave-taking.

"I see your point, and I also see something else that we've all lost sight of. A stunt like that would be manifestly unfair to the boy. But—what are we going to do?"

I leaned forward involuntarily, but did not voice the thought which had flashed into my mind at her approval. Lillian was looking straight at her husband, and had not seen my start, but I saw interest in the eyes of both Harry and Dicky.

"You've thought of something, Lady Fair!" Mr. Underwood said; and Dicky smiled suddenly at me.

"If I know my wife!" he said, "you can safely leave this Ronald person to her. She'll have him eating out of her hand, no matter whether the food is cocoanut cake or hard tack, and liking it.

"Don't ask her what she's planning. She probably doesn't know clearly herself. But hold up the program in Ronald's direction until she gives you the signal to go ahead. You don't need to throw him and Marion together. Simply be neutral. If he's as upset over Marion's caprices as you say he is, he probably will keep out of her way without any assistance from anybody."

LILLIAN GRATEFUL

"That's giving him credit for more sense than most young fools of his age—and sex—have," Mr. Underwood commented. "But I agree with you, Dicky-Bird. The Lady Fair is our best bet in this. But you sure have your work cut out for you"—here he turned to me—"you not only have Ronald to manage, but you also have to find what Mary has been up to."

I looked at Lillian's weary face and strained eyes, and arose abruptly.

"There's only one thing vital for the next hour," I said, crossing to her and putting my hand affectionately on her shoulder, "and that is for this girl to get some rest before dinner. Come on, Dicky! We ought to be finding out whether or not Katherine is needing us for anything."

"You transparent darling!" Lillian said tenderly, looking up at me with eyes that were suddenly shining. "I am tired," she admitted, "but I couldn't have rested 15 minutes ago. Now, with the blessed assurance that you're on the job, I really can sleep, I think."

"Pretty nifty footwork, that," Dicky commented, admiringly, as we went down the hall together. "You sure ought to be able to chalk up your girl-scout-good-deed for today. Indeed, you'll have enough for several days to come."

"Unfortunately, they're not cumulative," I said, smiling. "But that's beside the point. I want to talk to you for about 10 minutes. Have you the time now, or ought you to see Katherine first?"

PLAN ABOUT RONALD

"She said she wouldn't need anybody for an hour at least," he replied. "If an emergency should arise, she can always call Katie or Jim and send one of them for us, so come into my diggings—we won't be so apt to be interrupted there—and spill what's on your mind."

I followed him into the room, and when he had closed the door he drew me down into a big chair, which, with judicious crowding, can hold two comfortably.

"Now then," he said, "what's on the well-known mind?"

"I think you've guessed part of it," I said, diffidently.

"You've some plan in your head about Ronald," he said thoughtfully. "Do you want to tell me about it?"

"Yes, I do. I think with the proper encouragement Ronald may—may——"

"Open up the tear ducts and sob his heart out on your shoulder?" Dicky asked quizzically.

"You know I didn't mean that at all," I said pettishly.

"Probably not literally, but aren't you rather counting on Ronald's confiding to you his reactions toward Owen, and his puzzlement over Marion's sudden chilliness toward him?"

"The last, yes," I said. "We don't know that Ronald knows anything about Owen."

"Well! If you're taking the advice of your Uncle Dudley"—Dickey pointed an expressive forefinger at himself—"you'll go on the assumption that Ronald not only knows all about the gifted Mr. Owen, but is suffering the tortures of the infernal regions over him."

Practical Aprons

One woman finds aprons made out of flowered oil cloth are most practical to use when doing work around the tubs or sink. She buys the materials and cuts out the apron on her regular patern, binding around the edges with a contrasting tape. When the apron is soiled it only neds a wiping off with a clean soapy cloth.

spoon soda, 1⅓ teaspoon brown sugar, 2½ cups flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon ginger, ½ cup allspice, ¾ cup sour milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon mace, 1 teaspoon nutmeg.

Cream shortening thoroughly, add brown sugar gradually while continuing the creaming. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Stir in sour milk and molasses. Sift dry ingredients together. Fold into the first mixture. Bake in layers in a moderate oven, 25 minutes. When cool put together with this raisin filling: ¾ cup raisin, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup butter, powdered sugar, teaspoonful lemon extract.

Force raisins through a food chopper. Cover with water and cook until soft. Cream butter, add one cup of powdered sugar gradually. Stir in raisins, vanilla and lemon and enough sugar to make it the right consistency to spread between the layers. Cover with caramel or white frosting.

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM—(Makes 10 to 12 servings)—1 egg, 1 cup sugar, 1½ cups milk, 1 cup cream, pinch salt, 1 quart strawberries.

Beat the egg, add the sugar and mix thoroughly. Add the hot milk and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Add the salt. Cool, add the whipped cream, pack in ice and salt in an ice cream freezer, and freeze to a mush. Add the berries which have been mashed and rubbed through a sieve and finish freezing. If the berries are very sour more sugar may be needed.

BAKED CUCUMBERS WITH SALMON—3 medium sized cucumbers, 1 pound can salmon, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1 cup stale bread crumbs, salt, pepper, buttered crumbs.

Pare the cucumbers, cut in halves lengthwise, and scoop out the soft portion. Parboil the shells in lightly salted water for 10 minutes and drain. Flake the fish and remove the bones. Cook the chopped onion and green pepper in the butter for a few minutes, add the cucumber pulp cut in small pieces, and continue cooking for 5 minutes. Add the bread crumbs, salmon and seasoning. Fill the cucumber shells with the salmon mixture and cover with buttered crumbs. Place the cucumbers in a baking pan, add a little water, and bake in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes.

BUTTERSCOTCH FILLING—Two cups milk, scalded; 1 cup light brown sugar, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, ¾ teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 egg whites, 4 tablespoons powdered sugar, 2 tablespoons butter.

Combine hot milk, stirring slowly, with sugar, cornstarch and salt. Beat until smooth. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened, about 20 minutes. Add butter, stir into beaten egg yolks and reheat 3 minutes. Add flavoring and cool. Fill cooked 7-inch pastry shells. Cover with meringue made by beating egg whites and 4 tablespoons powdered sugar to a gloss. Brown in a 325-degree oven 15 to 20 minutes.

ORANGE BAKING POWDER BISCUITS—Two tablespoons shortening, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, grated orange rind, ¾ cup milk or water, loaf sugar, juice of 2 oranges, powdered sugar.

Work shortening into sifted dry ingredients. Add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and milk or water. Roll and cut out. Moisten half as many cubes of loaf sugar as there are biscuits with orange juice. Put between biscuits. Spread tops with powdered sugar moistened with orange juice, sprinkle with orange rind. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Makes about 18 biscuits.

LEMON CHEESE CAKES—4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 whole eggs and 1 yolk, 2 lemons, baked tart shells.

Put the butter, sugar, the juice of the lemons and grated rind of one in a double boiler. Heat, stirring occasionally, until the sugar is dissolved. Add the eggs and egg yolk slightly beaten and stir until thickened. Cool, and fill small tart shells with this "lemon curd." The mixture will keep for some time in a cold place. It makes a good cake filling.

REFRIGERATOR CAKE—Allow 4 thin crisp chocolate cookies for each serving and ½ pint of cream for each 6 servings. Flavor and sweeten the cream after whipping, then spread a cookie with the cream. Place another cookie on top of this, and continue until you have a pile of 4 cookies with a layer of whipped cream on top. Place on dessert plates in the refrigerator for 4 hours, then serve.

KREMER TO PITCH TODAY

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Swift Big Buc Factor.
Dodgers Boost Pirates.
Terry Eager to Stay.
Stripp Beating Hoodoo.
Max's Earning Power.
Final Olympic Tests.

NEW HURLER AHEAD OF MINOR RECORD

IF THE PIRATES had called off the deal for Bill Swift when Brooklyn refused to waive on Steve Swetonic, they would have lost a pitcher almost as valuable as Swetonic himself has turned out to be. That is, on the face of comparative won and lost records to date. Swift, finally obtained in a new deal that sent Bob Osborn and Eddie Phillips instead of Swetonic to Kansas City, has won nine games for the Bucs, while losing only three, against Swetonic's record of 10 victories and two defeats.

Bill Swift

Swift's last six victories have come in succession, and of the last nine games which he has pitched to a decision he has won eight. Only three of his wins were scored in games started by himself, but though most of his successes have been registered in relief roles his all-around record makes him one of the outstanding young hurlers of the year. He has beaten all enemy clubs except Chicago and Philadelphia—Cincinnati three times, Boston twice, St. Louis twice, and New York and Brooklyn one each. He has lost two games to Brooklyn and one to Chicago. Bill's percentage of .750 in the big show is higher than his mark for last year in the American Association, when he won 16 and lost 7 games for a grade of .696.

THOUGH THEY ASSERTED that the Pirates had been winning on breaks, the Dodgers, before leaving town the other night admitted Pittsburgh to be the club that would have to be beaten out for the pennant. They rated the Bucs the only team in the league capable of staging anything like an extended winning streak.

Leaving themselves out of the picture, and comparing the Gibsons with possible pennant rivals, the Brooklyn players sized up the Pirates to have greater punch than the Cubs or the Braves, better pitching than the Giants or the Braves, and a more finished defense than the Braves, the Cardinals or the Giants.

IT IS DENIED that when Bill Terry was appointed manager of the Giants on June 3 to succeed John McGraw he was given assurance that he would be retained on the job for 1933.

Terry admits that he would like to receive such assurance. He is eager to handle the New York club again next year. He thinks he knows what changes are necessary and would like to get the authority to make those changes next winter.

MEANWHILE, TERRY IS confident he can get the Giants into the first division before the 1932 race ends. Since the ban is down on major league trades and sales, he must turn to the minors for help, and thinks he will be all set for a climb if he can acquire a steady pitcher or promising slugger. He is already angling for the pitcher, having sent Clarence Mitchell to Chattanooga to look over Walter Beck, a right-hander with Memphis, who has won 14 games and lost only three. As Memphis is leading the Southern Association, with a hot pennant fight in progress, the price demanded for Beck probably would be steep. Terry says he is willing to turn over Outfielder Len Koenecke, now with Jersey City, but will not make any great outlay in cash.

Joe Stripp

IN ADDITION TO playing fine ball for the Dodgers, Joe Stripp this year is living down a reputation as a china doll. He was out of the game so often as a Red that he was labeled a player who bruised easily and who couldn't stand up under the strain of daily competition. Joe missed 90 games in 1929, 24 in 1930 and 49 last year.

A collision with Art Shires put the latter out for a month, but the supposedly brittle Stripp kept right on the job. A hard drive painfully injured one of Joe's thumbs, but he stayed in the lineup. A kick in the head and a spiked hand failed to stop him for long. He has missed only 11 games, some of them merely because a substitute happened to be going exceptionally well, not because Joe wasn't eager to return.

STRIPP HAS BEEN one of the most unfortunate players in the major leagues. An appendicitis operation kept him out during the early part of the 1929 season and the after effects kept him on the bench much of the time later.

In 1930, he suffered a broken knee cap. Last year a leg injury put him out first, and soon after his return one of his ribs was broken in a collision with Babe Herman. He's still getting his share of bumps, but the fact that he has escaped serious injury in 1932 leads him to think he has got the hoodoo licked at last.

DESPITE THE ASSERTION by Nels Stewart that he will not consent to the deal that transfers him from the Montreal Maroons to the Boston Bruins, hockey fans in the Hub are confident that the famous center will be in there winning games for the Bruins next winter. By acquiring Stewart and Billy Burch, the Boston club has bolstered a weak department with two experienced, capable and aggressive forwards. Stewart is one of hockey's standouts, a rare stick handler who can do plenty of things with a puck, always keeping in a position to make a shot or to pass to a teammate. In six seasons in the National League he has made 151 goals and 60 assists for a total of 211 points. He has spent a total of 528 minutes in the penalty box.

THOUGH JACK SHARKEY believes an exhibition tour will prove profitable and figures that his proposed bout with Jim Maloney at Boston in September will yield a handsome gate, boxing men are of the opinion that Max Schmeling's chances for making money during the next 12 months are brighter than those of the new title holder.

Schmeling has three paying engagements in sight if he cares to accept them. He can, if he so desires, fight twice in September and once again next June against the winner of the proposed heavyweight elimination tournament in New York. It is estimated the three bouts would aggregate close to a quarter of a million.

NOW COME THE final tests that will determine the make-up of America's Olympic team. While the swimming trials and the women's qualifying events are being held elsewhere, the deciding tryouts for the track and field squad will hold the center of the stage today and tomorrow at Palo Alto, Cal.

Ralph Metcalfe

Judging from the earlier performances of his athletes, this is one time when Uncle Sam can sit back and await the outcome with less worry than usual. There is such a wealth of top-flight material that the team made up of the tryout winners will look like a sure-enough world beater.

IF ONE FEATURE of the Palo Alto trials may be said to hold greater interest than another, it is the battle of speed among the sprinters. A classier field was never known in this country than that which will fight it out for the right to represent the United States in the 100 and 200 meters—Ralph Metcalfe, Frank Wykoff, Bob Kiesel, Emmett Toppino, Eddie Tolan, Hec Dyer, George Simpson and James Johnson. The honors will hinge on form at the time of the test, but in advance the best prospect appears to be Metcalfe, the Marquette University Negro, who adds to his rare speed qualifications the fact that he is the strongest man in the lot. But regardless of the results of these and the longer races, Uncle Sam can hardly go wrong this time with the speed array that comes out of the trials. The class of his runners is so high this year as to warrant the confidence that they will be able to beat all opposition in the Olympics.

PLATT BEATEN IN UPSET AT OAKMONT

By TOM BIRKS

George Flinn, Jr., of the Fox Chapel Golf Club, and Chris Brinke, of the Aronimik Club, Philadelphia, were playing 18 holes at the Oakmont Country Club this afternoon with the Pennsylvania State Amateur golf championship as the prize.

Flinn attained the final by scoring a surprise victory over J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia veteran, 3 and 1, in their semi-final round duel this morning. Brinke gained the ultimate round by eliminating Joe Royston, long-hitting star from the Highland Country Club, 6 and 4.

Brinke shot the best golf in the semi-finals, and ruled the title favorite as play in the final round got under way. He carded a 39, only two over par, to lead Royston, 1 up, at the turn, and he finished with successive birdies—a 2 and a3—on the thirteenth and fourteenth holes. The Brinke-Royston semi-final math cards:

Brinke—
Out ..... 5 4 4 6 4 4 4 4 4—39
Royston—
Out ..... 6 4 5 5 4 4 5 3 4—40
Brinke—
In 5 4 5 2 3
Royston—
In 6 5 8 3 4

PLATT'S PLAY FAULTY

It was Platt's faulty play, rather than his own brilliance, which enabled Flinn to gain the final. Although five over par with a 43 on the out nine, Flinn was even with the Philadelphia veteran at the turn. The Fox Chapel shotmaker showed improved form as he recorded 4s on five of the eight holes played on the homeward route. Only on the sixteenth hole, where he bagged a 3, did Platt hit a tee shot after rounding the turn. On all other holes of the second nine he was either trapped or wofully short. The cards:

Platt out.. 5 4 5 5 4 4 4 5 6—42
Flinn out.. 5 5 5 5 3 6 4 5—43
Platt in... 4 5 6 5 4 6 3 5
Flinn in .. 4 4 6 4 4 5 5 4

BRINKE CONSISTENT

Brinke has flashed nothing other than good golf since the first round of match play yesterday. He was three under par for 11 holes as he swamped Jack Benson, of South Hills, 9 and 7, in the initial round, and he was close to par all the day as he downed J. T. Lappan, of the Pittsburgh Field Club, 3 and 1, in the second round.

Royston had gained the semi-finals by defeating Sid Carson, Jr., of Greensburg, 5 and 4, in the first round, and Will Gunn, Jr., of Philadelphia, in the second round.

Flinn mowed down Maurice Le Bosquet, of Highland, 5 and 3, in EXPLANATION OF RIPLEY'S CARTOON OF YESTERDAY: A LITERARY MARVEL—Joseph Conrad, whose true surname is Korzeniowski, was a native of Poland, whence he wandered to Marseilles, France, to enlist as a seaman at the age of 17. Until 1878, when he came to England, English was a tongue totally unknown to him. He was more than 21 when his lips uttered the first English word. But this Polish youth was destined to attain to so masterful a command of matchless English prose as was only rarely attained by a native English author. He published his first novel at the age of 39.

TOMORROW: THE SHORTEST FIGHT ON RECORD.

M.-A. GENERALS ON BLOCK

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 15.—(AP.)—Citizens of Clarksburg sought, through a Boosters' Association, today to save the city's franchise in the Middle Atlantic League.

Charles Clark, president and owner since 1928, last night surrendered the franchise to President Elmer M. Daily, of the league. Clark declared he had lost $2,500 last year and was steadily going further into the red this year.

Daily said players have $2,000 due and that if adjustments cannot be made by nightfall they may apply for releases, one month having elapsed since they were paid.

Daily said this morning that the outlook seemed "very good" for retention of the franchise in Clarksburg, but that nothing definite had been arrived at as yet and that a formal statement on the situation would be made by him late today.

South Hills Legion Nine Scores Win

The South Hills team enhanced its chances in the round-robin tournament for the Allegheny County championship in the American Legion junior baseball tournament by defeating East Liberty, 13 to 6, at Dormont yesterday.

The victory boosted South Hills' standing to two won and one lost, while East Liberty has won one and lost two, and Swissvale and Curtisville each has won one and tied one.

Mrs. Vare Wins Shenecossett Golf

EASTERN POINT, Conn., July 15.—(INS.)—For the sixth time, Mrs. Glenna Collett-Vare, of Philadelphia, today won the annual women's invitation golf championship at Shenecossett, inflicting a sound defeat on Miss Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, 7 and 6.

BOWL PROGRAM COMPLETED

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Milton Krompler vs. Pablo Blanco and Danny Rosen vs. Lou Pampalone, 5 rounds each, Queensboro Stadium, New York.

Ben Jeby vs. Billy Kehut, Sammy Binder vs. Pasty Rubinetti, Roces Vigna vs. Solly Ritz and Jack Rose vs. Johnny Kirkpatrick, 6 rounds each, Long Beach, L. I.

Mike Esposito vs. Carmine Naechio and James J. Rice vs. Ralph Cerra, 6 rounds each, Brooklyn.

Jack Rosenberg vs. Eddie (Kid) Whalen, 10 rounds, Coney Island, N. Y.

The card has been completed for the reopening boxing show at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, next Monday night, with the signing of Jimmy Vaughn, of Cleveland, managed by Jimmy Dunn, to oppose Jimmy Thomas, local Negro bantamweight, in the eight-round second bout and Jerry Clements, of Jeannette, to box Dominic Mancini in the six-round opener.

Battling Gizzy, of Donora, meets Lew Feldman, of New York, in the 10-round main bout, and Marty Gornick, of Whitaker, takes on Johnny Hayes, of Philadelphia, in the first 10-round bout.

Between Rounds

Davy Grove would like to get a return bout with Tiger Joe Randall, of Elizabeth, who stopped him at Greenlee Field a few nights ago. He says he never got over the effects of the blow that knocked him down in the second round, and is anxious to redeem himself.

Buddy McArthur's scheduled bout with Bruno Sala at Akron tomorrow night has been called off. Meanwhile Buddy, who has lost only one bout in the last year, to Martin Levandowski, is anxious to box either George Panka or Frank Novak here.

John J. Romano would like to show his two Rochester (N. Y.) lightweights here. They are Johnny Burba, who has boxed Phil Verdi, Ray Collins and Joey Manuel, among others, and Johnny Bedini, who has boxed Frankie Bojarski twice and Wesley Ramey.

Humbert Fugazy, who resumes promoting activities at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, next Wednesday night with a return bout between Jack Gross and Primo Carnera, is trying to sign Jack Dempsey to meet Carnera this summer.

A card of 14 star amateur bouts will be offered in the Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, tonight, for the benefit of the Red Cross. A band concert is an added attraction.

Dick Shikat meets Gus Sonnenberg in an inter-clique wrestling bout in Philadelphia tonight.

Ted Yarosz and Lope Tenorio have been matched for the main bout at Hickey Park, Millvale, next Thursday night.

Fight Results

At Buffalo—Maxie Rosenbloom, light-heavyweight champion, defeated Lou Scozza, 15 rounds; Charley (Trader) Horn defeated Harry Fuller, 6 rounds; Snowflake Wright knocked out Dick Wiss, 4 rounds; Fred Haveriak defeated Frankie Garcia, 5 rounds; Joe Gerace defeated Johnny Perrine, 4 rounds.

At Fairmont—Willie Davies defeated Sammy Paris, 10 rounds; Benny McArthur won by a technical knockout over Dave Davies, 5 rounds; Frankie Reilly defeated Pete Sherman, 6 rounds; Dick Woodward defeated Mike Terry, 4 rounds.

At Elizabeth, N. J.—Bucky Jones defeated Sid Silas, 6 rounds.

At Grand Rapids, Mich.—Martin Levandowski defeated Willie Oster, 10 rounds.

At St. Louis—Davy Abad defeated Phil Zwick, 10 rounds; Johnny (Pee Wee) Kaiser knocked out Elmer Heitzman, 2 rounds.

At New York—Pietro Corri defeated Salvatore Ruggirello, 10 rounds.

At Paterson, N. J.—Al Diamond defeated Jackie Shupack, 10 rounds; Roy Lazer and Frankie Quinlan drew, 10 rounds; Rudy Wrinkler defeated Louie La-Page, 6 rounds.

MAXIE WHIPS LOU SCOZZA

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 15. —(AP.)—Buffalo's bid for the second half of the disputed light-heavyweight championship has failed and Maxie Rosenbloom, the Harlem Clown, still rules the 175-pounders as far as the New York State Athletic Commission is concerned.

One Buffalo star, George Nichols, already held the National Boxing Association, light-heavyweight crown, when Lou Scozza, another tough Buffalo 175-pounder, entered the ring last night and attempted to dethrone "Slapsie Maxie."

But for Scozza it was a vain, if gallant, attempt. He took a bad cuffing from the Harlem Harlequin through the first 10 rounds and a closing rally could not pull him home in front. Rosenbloom won the decision and there were no legitimate protests. Scozza was floored by a hard right in the seventh and Rosenbloom took a nine count in the fourteenth.

VOIGT STARS IN METRO

LONG BEACH, N. Y., July 15.—(AP.)—George Voigt apparently is back in form again, and that may be bad news for the British Walker Cup golf team.

The New York amateur, troubled for several months by an injured leg, subdued the trick Lido Country Club layout in 70 strokes yesterday to tie three professionals for the lead in the opening round of the metropolitan open championship.

Voigt went out in 36 and then came home in 34 to clip two strokes from par and share the temporary lead with Willie Klein, Walter Kozak and William Malcolm, the latter a little-known pro from West Orange, N. J.

Tied for fifth place at 71 were Willie MacFarlane and Wild Bill Mehlhorn, while the 72s included MacDonald Smith, defending champion; Joe Turnesa, Johnny Golden, Wiffy Cox, Victor Ghezzi and Robert Lay, the latter an amateur from Greenwich, Conn., who used to play football for Yale.

Johnny Farrell posted a 73; Leo Diegel, 74; Bobby Cruickshank and Olin Dutra, 76s, and Phil Perkins, 78.

SWIM ENTRIES MOUNT

More than 100 entries already have been received for the swimming meet to be held in the Willows Pool, Oakmont, Saturday afternoon of next week. Miss Mae Cutnell will defend her A. M. A. 220-yard senior backstroke title in a feature event. Entries close Monday night.

SWIFT TRIMS BRAVES FOR NINTH WIN

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

A first-year rookie having slowed down the ambitious Braves, Manager George Gibson this morning decided to send his Buccaneers into action this afternoon behind the dean of Pittsburgh pitchers—Remy Kremer.

Gibby was hopeful that Kremer would synchronize with the kids in the lineup in a successful effort to catch up with the Tribe in the series. The invaders copped both ends of Wednesday's doubleheader, hence the Oaklanders must land the decision today to get on an even footing with the foe. Another doubleheader is slated for tomorrow.

BETTS MAY HURL

There is some little doubt as to Bill McKechnie's slab selection. Walter (Huck) Betts is due to perform, but the Pirates will not be surprised if Southpaw Hub Pruett goes to the slab. The veteran who has drifted in and out of the majors is now a member of Skipper Bill's entry. Betts, after an extended stay in the minors, is one of the league's standouts this year.

The same lineup that copped yesterday's contest is set to operate for the Pirates this afternoon. Lloyd Waner and Pie Traynor are not ready to return, the feeling in the Pittsburgh camp being that Lloyd is to be out for something like a week or more.

Bill Swift was the toast of the Pirate family today as a result of his four-hit victory over the Braves yesterday. The Kansas City graduate pitched nine rounds after the fashion of a veteran. Only one Boston player reached third base and he scored on a long fly. The score was 6-1.

In recording his ninth victory of the year, Swift had a fine sidearm fast-ball on display and his judgment and control were excellent. Opposed to him was Harry Seibold who allowed only eight hits. Seibold was the victim of a muff by Fred Leach in the sixth that paved the way for four Pirate runs.

FORD HITS TRIPLE

The Braves scored on Ford's triple and Worthington's fly in the fourth. Vaughan opened the home half with a single and after he swiped second he scored on Suhr's triple. Thevenow put the Pirates in front with a single.

Manager McKechnie ordered a pass for Suhr after the Leach muff had put runners on third and second. Piet resented the move with a single, scoring two runs, and before the Buccos were retired two more runs went over.

A back-handed one-handed stop by Rabbit Maranville was the fielding feature of the game. The great little veteran had to move like a flash and show remarkable cleverness in making the stop which robbed Grace of a hit.

CHILLYSAUCE

Swift gave the fans a display of his resourcefulness as quickly as Ford tripled in the fourth. He fanned Walter Berger, the rookie forcing the star hitter to chase a wide pitch for a third strike.

Bill is swift in more ways than one. He owns a nifty "swifter" and he is a fast worker on the mound. The game was over in 1 hour and 37 minutes.

Umpire Bill Klem is a strong advocate of fast workers. Says Bill:

"Show me a great pitcher and I will show you one who doesn't stall around."

Maranville's backhand stop was a thing of beauty. It spoiled a Pirate run, but the tally went over a moment later on a duke hit.

Maranville's best clowning is done when the Braves are ahead. Rabbit is a tough loser.

The Knothole Gang will prowl again this afternoon.

POLO GAME BOOKED

The Pittsburgh Polo Club, which meets the South Park team at South Park at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow afternoon, has booked a game with the crack Columbus riders at Fox Chapel, Saturday of next week.

MANY LOCAL STARS IN OLYMPIC TRIALS

TEAM BERTHS SOUGHT BY ATHLETES

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor

The Pittsburgh district is heavily represented in the final Olympic trials now being decided.

At Palo Alto, Cal., this weekend, Reginald (Pete) Bowen, former Pitt quarter-mile star, will run against the best in the land for the right to compete in the Los Angeles games beginning July 31.

At Evanston, Ill., in the women's track and field trials, Miss Frances Kanzius, of Burgettstown Union High School, will compete in the discus and baseball throws against Babe Didrikson and other stars. Miss Marie DeMay, of Turtle Creek, also is entered.

MANY IN SWIM EVENTS

At Cincinnati, in the men's swimming trials, are Russell Lindberg, Albert Ledbecida and Stephen Yermak, all of the Homestead Library; Andy Swaney, of Uniontown, and Henry Stanton, formerly of the P. A. A.

At Jones Beach, N. Y., in the women's swimming competition, are Misses Lenore Kight, Louise Clark, Anna Mae Gorman, Mary Hager and Mary Cosgrove, all of the Homestead Library; Miss Mae Cutnell, of the Keystone A. C.; Miss Mary Louise Miller, of Uniontown, and Miss Lulu Stilley, of Carrick.

Derland Johnston, of the P. A. A., National Junior A. A. U. low board diving champion, will participate in the diving trials at Pasadena, Cal., next week, and Johnny Birek, of the Pittsburgh Lyceum; Dominick Buffalino, of Ambridge, and Charley Crovatta, of Uniontown, will take part in the boxing trials at San Francisco next week.

Willie Davies Wins Over Sammy Paris

FAIRMONT, W. Va., July 15.—(AP.)—Willie Davies, 120, of Charleroi, won the judges' decision over Sammy Paris, 121, of Pittsburgh, in a fast 10-round bout here last night.

Benny McArthur, 140, of Fairmont, won over Dave Davies, 140, of Charleroi, on a technical knockout in the fifth round.

Abe Martin Signs Book Contract

Abe Martin, lanky southpaw, who played with Dormont in the first half championship of the City League, has signed a contract with Books for the second half battles.

Nick Altrock
Baseball's Humorist
Says:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—A few hecklers in my newspaper audience ask why our Washington club isn't up there quarreling with the Yanks for first place, like I claimed. In rebuttal, I will repeat what the poet said—that the best laid plans of Mickey Mouse and men often go astray.

Nick Altrock

We've got the best balanced team in the circuit. All we need is a couple of pitchers. That's all Mrs. O'Leary needed to put out that Chicago fire. Try and get 'em.

And we're not yet out of the race in a wild year like this. With big league players being shot by bullets and getting jaws broken this season, something is liable to happen to the Yanks, like sleep-walking off the end of a pier or stabbing themselves eating peas with a knife—and we are all living in hopes.

SPORT VIGNETTES

"Tell Gizzy to go and get a reputation." . . . That was the answer today of Charley Jones, manager of Charley Baxter, when approached by the local promoters about signing Baxter to oppose the Donora Whirlwind in what has assumed the proportions of a great local "natural" match on a par with the Buck McTiernan-Jimmy Belmont bouts of last year. . . . "I have been trying since last winter to make a Baxter-Gizzy match, confident that Charley will knock out Gizzy," Jones continued . . . "I even went so far as to agree to take 50 per cent of the gate at Motor Square Garden and guarantee Gizzy $1,000 for his end, but he was not interested. . . . Since then a number of other offers have been made, but Gizzy's manager, Abie Witz, always has fallen back on the old saw, 'Go and get a reputation,' and we have not been successful in luring Gizzy into the ring. . . . Now that Baxter has stolen the spotlight away from Gizzy by knocking out Sammy Dorfman, of New York, the other night, the first time Dorfman has been stopped, incidentally, I think the shoe is on the other foot. Let Gizzy go and get a reputation. . . . Let him beat Lew Feldman in their bout at the Meyers Bowl first; if he can't do that, Baxter will."

Jones is all filled up with statistics on the respective merits of Baxter and Gizzy . . . He points to four men both have fought to show that his Baxter is a better ringman . . . Gizzy got a decision over Andy Andrucci and Baxter knocked out Andrucci. Gizzy got a decision over Benny McArthur and Baxter knocked out McArthur. Gizzy got a win over Dorfman and Baxter knocked out Dorfman. Gizzy defeated Eddie Brannon and Baxter all but knocked out Eddie.

"Let me tell you something you perhaps don't know," Jones continued. "It is that Baxter is absolutely sold on the idea that he will wind up being the lightweight champion. . . . He is just past 20 years old, married and the father of an 18 months' old son. . . . His wife is the former Alice Clark, daughter of Grant (Kid) Clark, former Columbus middleweight, who boxed George Chip, Harry Greb, Bob Moha, Kid Graves, Greek K. O. Brown and other good ones. . . . Charley and Alice went to school together in Columbus. . . . Charley was born in Memphis, but his folks moved to Columbus when he was only four years old. . . . He played football and basketball at Central High School in Columbus until he received a broken collar bone. . . . Then he went in for boxing at the age of 16, and he has had 72 bouts, all of them as a professional, of which he has lost only four, and his record includes 42 knockout victories.

"For a long time I would not let Charley box more than four-round bouts, then six rounds, then eight and finally 10 . . . When I brought him to Pittsburgh, last summer, he met Frankie Bojarski in his first start and was knocked ont in the second round . . . It was only the second 10-round bout for which he was signed . . . He never has refused to box anyone offered him by the promoters, having been in there with Johnny Dunn, Eddie Lord, Eddie Brannon, Danny Delmont, Joey Thomas, Andy Andrucci, Benny McArthur, Len Sheppard, Jimmy Dean, Johnny Willis and Dorfman . . . You'll have to admit that some of those fellows are tough to make a showing against . . . He can make 130 pounds easily and has given away a lot of weight. He staked Dorfman to an edge of almost six pounds and a lot of experience.

"When Charley first came around here he was almost strictly a right hand puncher. . . . Now he has developed a hard, straight left with which he first cuts up his opponents before knocking them out. . . . He is at his best in the late rounds, is very strong and believes he could fight all day. He likes the sport, and that's a big item for a young fellow who believes he is destined to become a champion. . . . Look at the progress he has made at the age of 20. . . . I leave it to you to consider where he'll be in another year or two."—HARRY KECK.

LENORE KIGHT GAINS SWIM FINAL

JONES BEACH, STATE PARK, NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—Three women's national swimming and diving champions today proved their right to the laurel wreaths as they led a crack field of the United States' swimmers into the finals of the first three events on the two-day program of the Olympic trials.

George Coleman, without a peer in ths country at the dive, led seven other qualifiers into the final of the springboard dive, from which will come the three to year the United States' shield at the Los Angeles Olympics; and Helene Madison, 100-meter free style champion, and Katherine Rawls, 1931 winner of the 200-yard breast stroke, easily qualified in their events.

Heats were necessary in both the swimming races, with semi-finals also in the 100-meters event, while 19 graceful divers competed in two flights from the 10-foot springboard for the eight qualifying places in that event.

The first three in the finals of each event will qualify for the Olympic games while two and perhaps three other girls will be picked from the 100-meter field to make up a 400-meter relay team.

Miss Lenore Kight, of Homestead, Pa., won her first trial heat in the 100-meter free style in 1:10 1-5, and qualified for the final by finishing second to Miss Madison in her heat in the semi-finals.

Miss Anna May Gorman, also of Homestead, survived the first test in the same event, but was eliminated in the semi-finals.

The summary:

100 meters free style, first heat—Won by Lenore Kight, Homestead, Pa. (1:10 1-5); second, Helen Johns, Brookline, Mass. (1:11 2-5); third, Marjorie Lowe, Hollywood, Cal. (1:12 1-5).

Second heat—Won by Josephine McKim, Los Angeles (1:10 1-5); second, Dorothea Dickinson, New York (1:12 1-5); third, Marlys Lapin, Chicago (1:13).

Third heat—Won by Helene Madison, Seattle, Wash. (1:12 2-5); second, Helen Hendrix, New York (1:13 3-5); third, Helen Lee Smith, Indianapolis (1:15 2-5).

Fourth heat—Won by Eleanor Sayville, San Francisco (1:09 4-5); second, Edna McKibben, Seattle (1:11 3-5); third, Anna May Gorman, Homestead, Pa. (1:14 3-5).

Fifth heat—Won by Jennie Cramer, Los Angeles (1:12 2-5); second, Gloria Sciglione, San Francisco (1:13 1-5); third, Alice Novak, Miami Beach, Fla. (1:14 4-5).

100 meters free style, qualifiers for semi-final—Kight, McKim, Madison, Sayville, Cramer, Johns, McKibben, Dickinson, Lowe, Lapin, Sciglione, Hendry, Gorman and Alice Bridges, of Whitinsville, Mass.

200 meters breast stroke, first heat—Won by Margaret Hoffman, Kingston, Pa. (3:16); second, Jane Caldwell, Detroit (3:20 2-5); third, Genevieve Scully, San Diego, Cal. (3:26 1-5).

Second heat—Won by Anne Govednik, Chisholm, Minn. (3:15 4-5); second, Katherine Rawls, Miami Beach, Fla. (3:18 2-5); third, Barbara Norris, Worcester, Mass. (3:25); fourth, Mildred Greene, Chicago (3:30 4-5).

Qualifiers for final, 200-meter breast stroke: Govednik, Hoffman, Rawls, Caldwell, Norris, Scully and Greene.

100 meters, free style (all qualified for final), first semi-final—Won by Josephine McKim, Los Angeles; second, Eleanor Sayville, San Francisco; third, Edna McKibben, Seattle, Wash.; fourth, Dorothea Dickinson, New York. Time, 1:10 4-5.

Second semi-final—Won by Helene Madison, Seattle; second, Lenore Kight, Homestead, Pa.; third, Helen Johns, Brookline, Mass. Time, 1:10 1-5.

BERG IN COURT

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—Jack (Kid) Berg, British lightweight, yesterday was ordered to appear before Judge Edward S. Dore, of Supreme Court of New York County, Monday, to show cause why he should not be restrained from fighting Kid Chocolate, Cuban Negro, in a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden Bowl that night. The action is being brought by Leo Tendler, former lightweight contender and now a Philadelphia promoter. Tendler claims he has Berg under contract to fight Young Firpo in Philadelphia Monday night.

FAIR GOLFERS PLAY TODAY

A women's one-day golf tournament is being staged at the Pittsburgh Field Club today. Approximately 150 ladies were to leave the first tee.

Manager Leo Heyn, of the Summit Hotel and Golf Club, announced today that the 72-hole tourney scheduled for Sunday and Monday had been called off, because the pros were unable to get away from their clubs on Sunday.

As a substitute for the tourney, Vincent Eldred, state open champion; Ted Luther, of the Valley Heights Club; Sam Parks, Jr., of the home club, and Horace Brand, of the Uniontown Country Club, will play an 18-hole exhibition match at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

John Graham and Mrs. S. E. Donald led the field in the mixed foursome tournament at South Hills yesterday with a low gross of 91-12—79. J. P. Lewis and Mrs. W. J. Weldin had thte low net of 92-20—72.

In a mixed foursome event at Edgewood, Dr. W. L. Thunhurst and Mrs. L. G. Riley took low net honors with a 77, one stroke better than the score of Dr. H. H. and Mrs. Sargent.

Mrs. Frank Campbell, of Stanton Heights, with an 87, carried off the honors in the one-day invitation tournament for women at Youghiogheny. Mrs. J. H. Throm and Miss Edith Mansmann, both of Stanton Heights, tied for low gross honors.

Playing at Alcoma, Dr. R. E. Miller sank his tee shot in the 140-yard No. 2 hole to register an ace.

Warren Brown won the low gross prize with an 83, and A. A. Colvin won the low net trophy with a 72 in the tourney of the Traffic Club of Pittsburgh at the Field Club yesterday.

A 72-hole medal play tournament for the J. W. Butler trophy will be staged at the Buena Vista Club tomorrow and Sunday. Entries will be received at the starting tee.

STARS TO AIM FOR OLYMPIC RECORDS

By LAWSON ROBERTSON
Head Coach American Olympic Team

PALO ALTO, Cal., July 15.—This the day when the greatest athletes in America swing into action for the chance to represent the U. S. A. in the Olympic duels that begin in Los Angeles the latter part of the month.

Something like 300 stars of track and field events are quartered here and will get their chance this afternoon and tomorrow to demonstrate their greatness. From this group, which will take part in the 19 contests, there will be chosen close to 60 men who will wear the shield of the U. S. A. in the Olympic battles against the greatest performers in the world.

POWERFUL SQUAD

During all the years that I have been connected with Olympians, either as participant or as coach, I have never seen a squad so brilliant as that which will go into competition this afternoon. We have men capable of smashing all the existing records on a good track and under favorable conditions, and I am glad that selection of the team is to be made according to where they finish in the battles of today and tomorrow rather than have the selections forced upon me.

About the most difficult task that could confront anyone would be to pick three men for the 100-meter dash, three for the 200 dash and three athletes for the two different hurdle events. We have on each of these contests so many truly great performers that no man could choose three without doing a seeming injustice to all of the others.

MARKS IN DANGER

Owing to the condition of the track at the Stanford Stadium, I hardly expect that any records will be made, but I do look for some of the most spirited contests I ever have known. The dash men are so evenly matched that it is more difficult to choose among them, and with every athlete trying with the last ounce of energy within him, the contests are certain to be of superlative kind.

The same is true of the field contests. We will have in competition today and tomorrow the greatest band of high jumpers, pole vault men and weight tossers ever gathered together and I look for some new marks to be hung up.

HICKS, REED GAIN DOUBLES SEMI-FINALS

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

McCook Reed and Paul Hicks crack Edgewood pair and 1930 Western Pennsylvania dual champions, eliminated Tom Robinson and Joe Dilworth, brilliant veterans of the home club, 6-8, 9-7, 6-0, in bitterly contested quarter-final tussle yesterday to round out penultimate quota in the first annual Fox Chapel Golf Club turf court invitation men's doubles net tournament.

Dr. Dave O'Loughlin and Dr. Billy McElroy, P. A. A. stars; Sam Harbison and Charley Lockhart, Allegheny C. C.-Pittsburgh Golf Club luminaries, and Frank Broida and Irvin Goodman, Westmoreland County titleholders, had entered the semi-final bracket by dint of Wednesday triumphs.

There will be no hostilities at Fox Chapel this afternoon. Semi-final action is slated for tomorrow, with Reed and Hicks meeting Broida and Goodman at 3 p. m., and O'Loughlin and McElroy encountering Harbison and Lockhart at 4:30. The final joust is billed for Sunday at 4 p. m.

A grand total of 49 entries graces the book of Chairman H. M. Rinehart, of the Western Pennsylvania junior and boys' championships, scheduled to get under way on the Carnegie Tech clay courts next Monday at 10 a. m.

Thirty-two lads aspire to junior honors, while 17 are listed in the boys' division. Numerous talented scholastic performers have signified intent to compete and there seems every prospect of an exceptionally large and well-balanced conclave. Names will be received by Chairman Rinehart until noon tomorrow. He can be reached by telephone at Grant 6675, or by mail at 3116 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh. The following entries have been received within the past two days:

JUNIORS.
John Bald, Ralph Bald, Robert Beltz, J. G. Brincke, Robert Brown, Robert Burnett, Edgar Carson, Paul DeJohn, Robert C. Villa, Byron Dillon, Robert Engel, William Goodrich, Fred Killmeyer, Robert Madden and Emerson Hess.

BOYS.
John Ahlson, Robert Bald, David Bogdan, William Villa, Robert McMorran, Robert Madden, Brainerd Schaal, Irvin Sobel and Dudley R. Weiss.

STOCKS AGAIN PUSH QUIETLY UPWARD

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.) — The stock market lapsed into its familiar quiescence today, and as it has in so many recent sessions, worked quietly higher, after a slight sag in the morning.

The share market was helped by a better tone in principal commodities, a fair bond market, and fresh indications of an early adjournment of Congress, despite the deadlock which developed yesterday between the conferees on the relief measure.

The midday buying started in the tobaccos and soon spread to other groups. Advances of 1 to 2 points appeared in such issues as American Tobacco B, Liggett & Myers B, Lorillard, Allied Chemical, Case, International Harvester, Eastman, B-M-T, Peoples Gas, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, White Rock and Homestake, while such issues as United States Steel, American Telephone, American Can, Consolidated Gas, General Motors, United Aircraft, Woolworth, Southern Pacific and New York Central, showed fractional gains. The packing stocks ran into considerable realizing, and failed to recover with the rest of the list. American Telephone sold down more than a point in the early dip.

In connection with the strength of tobaccos, Wall street understood that the June cigaret consumption figures would make a more favorable comparison with a year ago than May did, and that earnings of the principal companies were being well maintained, despite some shrinkage in business. The rail group was generally steady to firm, possibly in anticipation of favorable results from next week's meeting of executives, when it is expected efforts will be made to effect economies through elimination of duplication of services. Earnings statements of the carriers continued to point to the urgent need of further reduction of expenses, in want of a pickup in traffic. Santa Fe's complete statement for May showed a loss of $886,290 after all charges, and Baltimore and Ohio, a loss of $1,078,159.

American Telephone earnings statement for the first half attracted considerable attention. Net of $4.02 a share was 48 cents short of the current dividend rate, and it was also pointed out that subsidiary and associated companies paid out $8,000,000 in dividends more than they earned. Had they not dipped into surplus to maintain dividends, American Telephone's net would have been about $3.60 a share. It was notable, however, that the Bell System companies apparently did somewhat better in the second quarter than they did in the first, since they fell only $3,000,000 short of dividends in that period, in contrast to $5,000,000 in the first quarter. American Telephone's earnings in the first half of 1931 amounted to $4.89 a share.

The weekly bank statements showed a reduction of $61,000,000 in currency circulation. This was small, in contrast to the $270,000,000 jump in the preceding fortnight, and may have been largely due to a return of currency after the July 4 holiday, but it was at least a start in the right direction. An increase of $12,000,000 in brokers' loans was also interesting, presumably indicating some revival of speculative interest in the market. It was the first increase in this item in four weeks.

COTTON PRICES QUIET, UP

NEW YORK, July 15.—Cotton futures opened steady, 2-4 higher on steadier Liverpool cables than expected and on a fair trade demand with offers comparatively small.

Copper sold up from 5.68 to 5.74, and the general list showed net advances of about 4 to 7 points at the end of the first half hour. There appeared to be some rebuying by yesterday's sellers and although the South was credited with moderate selling here during the early trading offerings were comparatively light.

The market fluctuated irregularly within a comparatively narrow range later in the morning. The early advance was followed by reaction to about or a shade below yesterday's close under local and wire house selling, but the market steadied again on covering and trade buying. At midday October was holding around 6.71 with the list about 4 to 5 points net higher and trading quiet.

MISSISSIPPI'S CREDIT AIDED BY NEW TAX

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service
(Copyright, 1932, Universal Service, Inc.)

JACKSON, Miss., July 15.—Academicians in their writings are wont to reduce the problems of making a living to the elementary terms of Robinson Crusoe economics, illustrated by the simple adjustments made by the lost adventurer on a deserted island.

In somewhat the same manner, economic realities stand out more nakedly in this simple agricultural commonwealth than in our complex northern urban centers. With cotton, the staple income producer of the state, at prevailing low levels, the general tone of economic life here is highly depressed, especially since livestock and lumber—the secondary products—are likewise in the dumps.

Mr. Rukeyser

On inquiry, I find that the conservative, substantial merchants in the rural sections have voluntarily pulled in their belts, and contended themselves with a very small volume. Many have been reluctant to exchange fresh merchandise for questionable promises to pay of impoverished farmers.

EFFECTS WIDESPREAD

Accordingly, to a large degree the farmers and farm hands are going without the products which they normally buy. This situation has its ramifications in the great industrial centers, where factory workers are thrown out of employment.

For a time the only crop which stood up here against the depression was the crop of political plums. Influential citizens, as never before, were importuned to get jobs for their acquaintances. But since the units of government merely take a fraction of the incomes of the citizenry, they, too, after a time-lag felt the pinch. Counties lacked cash to pay school teachers and other employes—and gave deferred paper instead.

Even the state government last November had difficulty in meeting a maturity, and was saved from default only through the patriotism of local institutions and investors, who provided the funds. The short-term paper had to be extended on the due date, but on May 1 last cash was on hand to meet the obligation.

SALES TAX ADOPTED

Gov. Mike S. Connor came into office in January, and has already done heroic work toward restoring the credit of the commonwealth. Under his leadership, the state has adopted a 2 per cent consumers' sales tax, which I have come down here to study. Mississippi is the first state in the Union to adopt a general sales tax. After completing my survey later in the week, I shall report my findings in this column.

Holders of bonds in the Mississippi Delta region will be interested to learn that the agricultural district around the Mississippi-Yazoo Delta has staged a striking comeback since the waters of a great flood swept through the rich valleys only a few months ago.

The area is now covered with fine feed crops and cotton. In March the same fields were three feet deep in yellow flood water. Homes, from which families were driven by high waters, are again occupied, and the gardens adjoining them are cultivated as usual . . . and the Wall street brokers think that they face obstacles and hardships!

But the relief from the flood is only temporary, and local observers fear that the menace still hangs over the district. T. M. Hederman, editor of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger, pointed out:

"The flood menace in the Yazoo delta cannot be permanently removed until a better drainage system is provided, which means until some of the outlets closed in recent years are reopened. This project could very properly be included in any list of public works to be undertaken by the federal government as a part of the 'relief' program championed by President Hoover. We venture to suggest that Mississippi Republican leaders interview the proper official to see if a delta flood-relief program could not be incorporated in this federal program this year."

Transamerican Air Sells Ocean Route

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Transamerican Air Lines Corporation which has been pioneering surveys into the far north for an air route across the Atlantic to Europe has tranferred all concessions and other operating agreements procured along the northern route to Pan-American Airways, according to R. C. Marshall, president of Transamerica Air Lines. Pan-American as an international operator recently became interested in the project of establishing a northern route to Europe.

Increased Efficiency Will Be Important In Future Years

—By GEORGE H. SNYDER—

EARNINGS OF LEADING corporations may be expected to increase much more rapidly than the volume of their sales when business recovery starts. This theory is based upon the thorough house cleaning which has taken place in practically all outstanding business organizations.

Dead wood has been eliminated. Stuffed shirts among the officers have gone. Non-essential minor employes are no more. Remaining workers are producing at the utmost of their ability. A curb has been put on needlessly large expense accounts. Wasteful practices of every kind have been stopped. It is probable that business never before has been on a basis of such high efficiency.

These economies are not apparent in earnings. The curve of profits has declined steadily and in many cases has terminated in large losses. This is quite natural in view of the extreme slump in production. Industry working at 20 per cent of capacity or less can hardly carry the overhead of plants and an organization designed for five times the present volume of business.

United States Steel Saves $200,000,000

WHEN BUSINESS DOES regain a satisfactory volume, however, the reduction in operating costs and overhead will be readily apparent in earnings. The United States Steel Corporation offers an outstanding example of operating economy. The program was started in 1927. It continued through 1929 and has since been accelerated by the influence of the depression.

These savings will have brought down operating costs by about $200,000,000 a year. It is obvious that these economies will make it possible for the United States Steel Corporation to show greater earnings than ever before when production is again at 80 or 90 per cent of capacity.

Results Similar in Other Corporations

While the savings made by the United States Steel Corporation are outstanding in their magnitude because of the fact that the program was started before it was forced by the ravages of business depression, other corporations have been making similar efforts and will show similar economies.

This increase in efficiency is one of the all important factors to be taken into consideration in judging the investment position of common stocks when the present period of hysteria comes to an end.

BANK REPORTS REASSURING

NEW YORK, July 15.—Those who have been watching banking figures the past several weeks, can find much of a reassuring nature in this week's reports. The $61,000,000 decline in currency circulation, $52,000,000 expansion in member bank reserve balances, $10,000,000 increase in gold holdings and the upturn in Chicago demand deposits, are all extremely encouraging indications that the worst features of preceding reports had in large part spent their force.

It will be interesting to watch the results of Federal Reserve Board policy during the next several weeks now that some of the outside factors, such as unsettling congressional proposals, and the great gold export movement, have ceased to nullify reserve bank efforts to expand credit. The past week the reserve banks purchased $20,000,000 of government securities, not a large amount in itself, but added to the $61,000,000 released by currency return and the $10,000,000 gain in gold, of considerable magnitude. It had the direct effect of increasing excess reserve balances sharply at both Chicago and New York.

TRADE FEELING SUMMER LULL

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—Promise of improved purchasing power in the agricultural districts on the rise in livestock prices, and generally favorable harvest indications, afford a more favorable basis for trade forecasts, although the business of the week in retail and wholesale markets and in industry, was on a restricted scale, the weekly mercantile reviews said today.

Bradstreet's said that industrial centers, commerce and trade are feeling acutely the seasonal lull, although the past week's retail transactions held up fairly well.

According to Dun's, trade is more restricted than is generally the case at the opening of the mid-summer season, and wholesale markets in practically all lines are extremely quiet. This review, however, regards the prospect of prolonged summer slackness less disconcerting because of the improved agricultural outlook.

'Gentlemen's Pact' Reported at Oil Meet

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 15.—It is unofficially stated that the oil conference at Paris has reached a gentlemen's agreement for a period of 10 years by which Rumanian oil production will be reduced by 15 per cent conditional upon an increase in wholesale price of gasoline by 30 per cent. Oil men here deny the reported agreement, by pointing out that such a plan would not be effective unless the Russian oil interests were included in the proposal.

Brokers With European Clients Reported Buying Stock

Those who keep close tabs on the origin of buying orders contend that houses with very substantial British and European clientele have been active on the buying side of American stocks. Demand from this source was reputed to have been of quite substantial proportions during the early trading yesterday, when one firm with unusually large London and continental European connections was an active buyer of such stocks as Atchison, General Electric, National Biscuit, Steel common and preferred and Drug, Inc. Considerable part of such buying, it is understood, represents the employment of funds derived from sales of Sterling exchange which it is contended have been quite liberal of late.

Although Wall street was doubtless a little disappointed that stocks were unable to carry through another advance yesterday, brokers thought the list had done reasonably well in view of the absence of stimulating news. The market's hopes have recently been based mostly on the performance of leading raw materials; but is being pointed out that after three years of deflation it can hardly be expected that commodities will make an abrupt about face and some quarters prefer to wait awhile before deciding that a real turn has come. It appears, nevertheless, that a better undertone in sentiment is developing.

The formal offering today of $30,000,000 Consolidated Gas 5 per cent debentures by the National City Company is the largest piece of public financing by any corporation for a long time. The debentures were priced at 94, to yield 5.44 per cent. With this offering utility financing in the past few days has mounted to more than $70,000,000, and the response of investors is said to have been gratifying to the sponsoring bankers.

A survey of this year's outlook for some forty-odd railroads, completed by one statistical service, cannot be regarded as offering much encouragement. It is indicated that only 12 roads are likely to fully cover fixed charges for the year. But one road, the Bangor & Aroostook, is expected to cover fully its common dividend requirements, while it is believed that only eight others now on a dividend basis will show anything earned for their junior shares.

There is a vein of better feeling apparent in speculative circles with regard to the outlook for railroads operating in the Northwest, such as Great Northern, Northern Pacific, the Burlington and Union Pacific. The idea is that the promising outlook for spring wheat this year vastly brightens the prospects for roads operating in that territory. Last year's crop failure brought the smallest spring wheat yield in many years, only 86,411,000 bushels of spring wheat and 18,000,000 bushels of durum, an exceptionally hard grade, this year on July 1 calculations the prospect is for a spring crop of 250,464,000 bushels and a durum yield of 54,574,000 bushels.

According to the trade hopes of some improvement in the copper price situation lie in the fact that sellers are unable to avoid losses in selling in the highly competitive market here and abroad. Talk is spreading that something in the way of a truce may be established in the near future. Domestic copper is quoted at 5¼ cents a pound and abroad some metal is reported available at as low as 4¾ cents.

BROKERS LOANS UP $12,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Loans on stocks and bonds to brokers and dealers by reporting Federal Reserve member banks in New York City increased $12,000,000 during the week ended July 13 to $345,000,000, comparing with $333,000,000 in the preceding week, the record low total, and with the high record of $6,804,000,000 on October 2, 1929.

Crew Levick Paying 10c Premium on Oil

OIL CITY, Pa., July 15.—(AP.)—The Crew Levick Company, of Titusville, announced today it will pay the posted price plus 10 cents a barrel for crude oil to producers on its lines until further notice.

The new order affects several hundred producers in the Oil City, Titusville and Franklin districts. The posted price now is $2.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, July 15.—After some hesitancy at the outset, the Curb developed a steadier tone today, although volume of trading slipped back to the recent low levels.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded 100 omitted in sales column of stocks; list 000 omitted in sales column of bond list:

Tom Is Questioned About the Leakage of Information Concerning Merger

CHAPTER XXXII.

"You're going on working?" gasped Lynn.

"Sure. Why not? I'd go goofy sitting around all day alone, with nothing to do but cut coupons and shine up the diamonds," Jennie said.

"I'll never understand you! You said it was because you didn't want to work—"

"Check!" agreed Jennie. "Not when work was all I had to look forward to. But if you have a side line"—she cocked an eyebrow at her friend—"then the sort of stuff I strut is fun. Besides, it won't hurt Jake. I can tip him off, you know, when the hot numbers come in."

"But Mme. Fanchon?"

"It works both ways. She'll know, but she'll never say so. She'll be glad to keep me on. She'll think I'll keep the home fires burning as far as Jake's firm is concerned. She'll be right."

"When are you leaving?" asked Lynn forlornly.

Jennie said hesitantly, "I thought you'd want me to go—at once. I figured on taking a room in a hotel, but Jake's got to go West. He said after he came back we'd fix it up about the apartment."

Lynn said stubbornly, "I don't want you to go, until—"

"Thanks," Jennie looked down at her untouched plate. She asked, "When are you going on vacation?"

"September."

"Going home?"

"I suppose so."

"Before you go," said Jennie, "maybe you'll find someone to live with you. When you come back, I'll be gone."

SOMETHING WRONG

And all Lynn said was, "I'll miss you so, Jennie."

But back at work her mind was on anything but the blue cards. Jennie, how wrong, how mistaken, how entirely mad! Jennie, how rockbottom decent. What was the matter with her, anyway, what did she lack? Moral sense? Could it be a lack of moral sense in a girl who was so integrally true to her friends; who had her own inflexible code? It's economic, Lynn thought; it has to be, somehow, with the entire economic system. I don't know. I can't understand.

Other girls like Jennie, hundreds of them, thousands of them, good fellows, brutally frank, brutally on the make, willing to pay for what they wanted. Other girls, not like Jennie, struggling alone, earning their living . . .

Something awfully wrong somewhere.

Lynn's head ached. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it; that she was oppressed, burdened, hemmed in. There was no way to get free, to soar upward spiritually with the defiant and escaping towers . . .

Tom came that night, repentant, Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm a fool. Why shouldn't you go to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you; hot, no chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon, "That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so self-conscious about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"I do love you so much, Tom."

"Enough to—do something for me?"

"Of course! Anything. You know that." She looked at him, eager, radiant, gray eyes shining.

"It isn't doing anything exactly. It's agreeing with me. Lynn, I can get forty-five a week at U. B. C. I know it's not much; I know you won't think there's as much future in it as there is in the bank. But Lynn, I hate the bank! I want to work at something I'm keen on. Would you be terribly disappointed if I gave up my job with the Seacoast, and went upstairs?"

ASKS ABOUT RAWLSON

She said, "No," slowly. She would be; she had counted on Tom's making good in the banking business. But if he was unhappy? "No," she said again; "you must do as you like, of course."

If she was not enthusiastic, it was because she was thinking, Why now? Why is he suddenly so eager to leave?

She said, on the heels of suspicion, "Tom, you did see Rawlson, didn't you?"

That was a sore spot. He mumbled awkwardly, "Oh, sure; I saw him. That's all right. We fixed it up."

Never let Lynn know the humiliation he had undergone. The remembrance of it shifted his eyes.

Lynn looked at him, terribly uneasy.

He said hurriedly: "I—gee, Lynn, I hoped you'd see things my way. I took out my license, you know. I—gosh, I'm glad. I'll go to see Hank's buddy tomorrow."

His subsequent embrace was all boyish, if bearlike, gratitude. In his arms she thought, confused: He has seen Rawlson; he said so.

He had seen him. But someone else was to see him in a day or so. For there was Dwight, talking with Sarah over a luncheon table: "It was good of you to come with me, Sarah, to prove that if you haven't forgiven me, it's at least armistice. I've been a fool," he confessed insincerely. "I'd do anything rather than quarrel with you. We've been through so much." His eyes were wistful, imploring her to forget, forgive.

DISCUSS TOM

Her heart tightened. She couldn't believe, she couldn't trust, and yet . . . She told herself angrily, sorrowfully, it's like a spell; I can't get away from it.

"People of my age," he said lightly, "dream in impossibilities. Let's talk of other things. Or, rather, of young Shepard. I really have Lynn's welfare at heart. This boy—you approve of him?"

"I didn't at first," she replied, reluctant, yet forced to say it, "I have been anxious for Lynn to make a career for herself. Not that that matters, after all," she said. "Marriage is bound to interfere. But if they love each other——"

"Of course, if they love each other," he agreed instantly. "But has the boy any future in the bank? Has he influential friends? Or any friends, in fact? I know very little about him."

Sarah answered readily enough, telling him all she knew of Tom Shepard. No, so far as she knew, Mr. Norton was his only friend of "influence." As for friends his own age—had David meant that? She knew he traveled with some of the U. B. C. men, lived with a couple of engineers his own age.

"He appears to be a boy who would make friends everywhere, as well as in his job," Dwight said thoughtfully.

"Not in the job," she told him, "as much as outside of it. Except for young Rawlson, one of the salesmen in our department. They are together a lot."

She went on talking, thinking only on the surface of what she was saying; thinking, instead, how pleasant this was, how Sunday night seemed a nightmare that could not have happened. Yet it had happened. But she should have known better; to force Dwight into a corner was always to make him say things he couldn't possibly mean. And he had given her his word of honor Lynn was safe.

Dwight listened, but he, too, was thinking, beneath the surface. Rawlson, eh? It should be easy to meet him.

There would be some delay, Tom found, in assuring himself of the U. B. C. position, so he said nothing to Mr. Norton about resigning. It was several weeks before his application and interviews bore fruit. But when it was finally settled that he was to have the coveted place, he approached Mr. Norton.

"Could I have a moment of your time, Mr. Norton?" he asked.

Norton had just returned from a luncheon conference. His austere but usually pleasant features were troubled. Tom realized that this was hardly a propitious time to approach his superior. His gay heart sank. Norton had taken an interest in him. To pull out of the association gracefully would be harder than he had anticipated.

QUESTIONED BY EXECUTIVE

Tom was standing beside the desk. Mr. Norton looked up.

"I wanted to tell you sir—" Tom began.

"That can wait," Norton said abruptly. He launched the bolt. "Tom, have you been so indiscreet as to talk over affairs of the bank with outsiders?"

Tom answered quickly, without thinking, "No, sir."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes," he said, and then he recalled Rawlson.

Norton, watching him, saw the hot color stain the lean cheeks. Lying?

"Better think again."

Rawlson? Rawlson was not an outsider. Lynn? He had talked to Lynn. Lynn was not an outsider.

Tom said painfully, "I haven't talked outside. That is, other people in the bank know, Mr. Norton: they have spoken to me about it. I haven't said a word to anyone else."

"Someone has." Norton's voice was low. "There are indications on the Street, in brokers' offices. Indications of a leak somewhere. You have been in my confidence more than anyone not actually concerned in this matter."

Tom thrust his chin out. He looked belligerent. He also looked guilty, and felt it—because he might have been the means of a "leak." In another sense he was actually guilty; but he did not know that.

"Do you mean that I—?"

"What am I to think, Tom?" asked the older man. He added, under Tom's stare and gasp, "There's no one else. Unless it's someone you've talked to. Do you think anyone in the bank—?"

Tom shook his head stubbornly. He thought of Rawlson. But no, Rawlson had intimated that he would "do nothing further."

Norton had not been unaware of Tom's and Lynn's attachment. He spoke of Lynn now, hesitantly.

"There is Miss Harding. You are, I know, close friends. If through something you said to her——? Oh," he added hastily as Tom's eyes grew brilliant with anger, "she might talk outside inadvertently, not realizing the mischief that she would cause."

"You can leave her out of it," Tom told his superior truculently.

Norton didn't care to be spoken to truculently. He was, he assured himself, making every allowance for the lad. The information which had come to him in the last few hours had caused him to lose a good deal of face. Someone very weighty had said, "What about that confidential secretary of yours, Norton?"

He had replied, "What about yours, Wright?" But it so happened that the other confidential secretaries were time-proven and tested. Tom was the newest in the bank.

Synopsis

Lynn Harding, young and pretty clerk in the Sea Coast Bank and Trust Company, loves Tom Shepard, secretary to one of the bank's vice presidents. They cannot marry on Tom's salary, so Lynn plans to hold her position. She learns, however, that the bank does not want married women. She seeks the aid of David Dwight, prominent lawyer, whom she met through Sarah Dennet, her chief at the bank. Dwight had been Sarah's sweetheart years before, but gave her up to marry wealth. David, attracted by Lynn, offers her a position, but due to Tom's objection, Lynn rejects it. Later, Tom informs Lynn he has an opportunity to become rich by taking advantage of secret information relative to the bank's merger and buying stock. Lynn disapproves on the ground that it is dishonest and Tom reluctantly promises not to speculate. Shortly after, Tom is offered a position at a radio station. Anxious to tell Lynn, he asks if he might call only to learn that she is going away for the week-end with Sarah. Lynn and Sarah visit Dwight's place for the weekend. Dwight is very attentive to Lynn. Sarah pleads with him to let the girl alone.

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

Members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club turned out in full yesterday for the frolic at Kennywood Park. Although one of the hottest days of the year, it was an ideal day for a picnic and this annual event of the Warner Theaters for their young patrons broke records at this amusement park for kiddie attendance. Nothing was left undone for their comfort, safety and entertainment. There were free rides, free shows and free "eats." What more could the children ask?

Residents of the East End, particularly the East Liberty section, are going to see some strange sights tomorow morning. Many of them will think that Noah's ark has just landed.

The reason for this is the fact that Manager Bill Zellor is staging a "pet" show for members of the Enright Chapter of the Junior Komic Club. For two weeks the boys and girls of this big chapter have been grooming their pets for this show and, in many instances, where they couldn't find pets of their own they have borrowed them from friends and neighbors and relatives. Consequently East Libertyites will see some strange sights on the streets tomorrow morning.

FREE RODEO TICKETS

Where is there a youngster, boy or girl, who doesn't get a thrill out of a real rodeo. That's why the Sun-Telegraph has made special arrangements for every member of the Junior Komic Club to go to the Father Cox rodeo and circus at Exposition Park, North Side, Monday afternoon as the guests of Father Cox, the Sun-Telegraph and the Warner Theater management.

Every member of the Junior Komic Club who attends his or her chapter meeting tomorrow will be given a free ticket to the Father Cox Rodeo and Circus, which will present a program of thrills by real Western cowboys and cowgirls, fancy and trick riders, calf ropers, mustangs and bulldoggers. It is to be given under a big circus tent. Remember, get your free ticket for the rodeo tomorrow when you go to your chapter meeting.

OH YES. NOW AND THEN.
WHEN HE DISAPPEARED SHE DASHED OUT AND BOUGHT ENOUGH MOURNING OUTFITS TO DO TEN WIDOWS. THEN PARADED AROUND TOWN TRYING TO LOOK AS IF LOSING ONE MORE HUSBAND MEANT SOMETHING TO HER. DID YOU SEE HIM TOO?
HIM? OH NOW AND THEN.
HER ATTITUDE NOW, I HEARD IS THAT HE, MR. WAMPUM, HAS SORT OF RUINED HER LIFE BY DARING TO COME BACK ALIVE. I BELIEVE THAT TOO. A WOMAN LIKE HER LOOKS ON HUSBANDS IN THE SAME WAY THAT THE AVERAGE PERSON LOOKS AT TAXICABS.
WELL ANYHOW I'M GLAD HE'S BACK. IT PROVES — WELL, WHATEVER IT DOES PROVE.

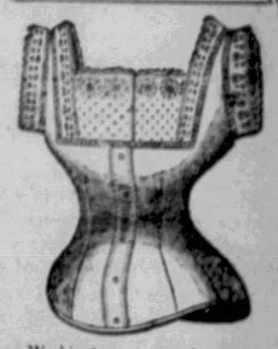
HERE'S CHANCE TO START COLLECTING



Washington papers tomorrow will say that the London Times quotes the Honolulu Star-Bulletin as saying that the Des Moines Register has it on authority of the Daily Racing Form that Horace Walpole Frisby, pinched by financial reverses, will place on sale his entire collection of fine old armour. The Frisby collection contains many of the rare old corset covers (see catalogue above) worn by Mrs. Frisby in the Metropolitan Museum from time to time. "I hate to part with the more popular numbers," says Frisby, "and would not do so had I not lost heavily in weight lately due to financial worries and how've you been?"

Another Way to Save

City Uses More Employes Than Are Needed for Operation of North Side Market House.

A man on the city payroll does about one-fourth as much work as if he were privately employed. At least this is the deduction we must make from a study of the operations of market houses under municipal and private management.

The city is using 13 employes to operate the single building of the North Side Market. The Market House Association, which leases the four connected buildings comprising the Diamond Market, operates the properties with seven men.

Before the Diamond Market was leased to a private organization for $10,000 a year, the city needed 26 employes to operate the property and it was losing $23,000 a year. It is now getting a clear profit and presumably the deal is also profitable to the Market House Association.

It must be explained that one reason for the sharp drop in the number of employes is the fact that a contract for cleaning the buildings has been awarded to an outside organization. But the cost of the cleaning on this basis is less than the amount formerly paid to the city workers.

The South Side Market also has been leased and is showing the city a profit of $1,000 a year against a loss of more than $8,000 a year under municipal management.

The city could show large savings throughout its many departments by the substitution of common sense business methods for political favoritism.

Governor Justified

Pinchot's Threat to Veto Economy Bill Is Based On Knowledge of the Facts.

Gov. Pinchot appears to be justified in the firm stand he has taken against the economy bill. The Governor is not opposed to economy. He believes it to be one of the essential remedies for the present emergency.

But the $23,000,000 slash in appropriations is being proposed by the Legislature without taking into consideration all the consequences of such drastic action.

The Governor points out that the cuts would reduce the appropriations of some departments by an amount greater than the funds still remaining for their operation. Such "economies" would be ridiculous. In other cases needy individuals depending on institutions receiving state funds would be thrown back upon overloaded private charities. It is difficult to understand how this could help the situation.

Real economies are essential in the operation of the state government but they must be undertaken with intelligence.

Mother-in-Law Coming

State Investigating Committee Will Look Into Corners To See How We Keep Our House.

From time to time local civic organizations have been telling the City of Pittsburgh and the County of Allegheny the cost of government here is too high. This has occurred principally at budget hearings, but at other times, too. Both the Council and Board of County Commissioners have heard from bodies representing taxpayers that burdens placed in the way of taxation were becoming too heavy, and suggestions have been made as to savings possible through more efficient administration.

We do not know how much attention was paid to such suggestions. The intent of the budget makers seemed to be to make the estimates from departments equal a total that would balance the estimated income from a pre-determined millage rate. And if it transpired that there was no increase in millage over the previous year, or there was a possible decrease of a half a mill, great was the jubilation thereat.

Whatever attention suggestions from the public received, it is quite likely that it will be overmatched by that to be given to a legislative investigating committee that will probe the cost of government here, such action being promised as soon as the special session of the Legislature is concluded.

It is not gratifying, nor complimentary, to think that there is possibility of the state telling us that we shall have to clean house, when we, ourselves, have been telling our servants about it for a long time. But perhaps we need a lesson in how to do it.

Having Saved Army, House Should Purge Leadership

To its everlasting honor, the House of Representatives has finally repudiated, rebuked and overthrown the tyrannical rule of its most fanatical pacifist—Congressman Collins, of Mississippi.

Upon reconsideration the House has refused to reduce the commissioned strength of the Regular Army by the summary retirement of 2,000 competent and highly trained officers.

This wise and patriotic action on the part of the House purges the War Department appropriation bill for 1933 of the most iniquitous of all the jokers in that measure as Pacifist Collins first reported it to the House.

The House itself refused to abolish the citizens' military training camps, the reserve officers training corps camps and military training in the land-grant colleges designated by Abraham Lincoln for that purpose for which the Collins bill provided as it came from committee.

Then the Senate, by an overwhelming vote, eliminated from the House bill the Collins provision to reduce by 2,000 the commissioned strength of the Army.

After deadlocking the Army bill in conference for three weeks, Congressman Collins was forced to report his indefensible attitude to the House, with the result that he was again overruled, and the Regular Army saved from disruption.

This bitter experience ought to be a lesson to the Democratic leadership of the present Congress. And the lesson which this experience teaches is that the patriotic party of Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson and Cleveland should no longer permit a pacifist minority, of which Congressman Collins is the ringleader, to have charge of the Army appropriation bill at the next session.

Not only has Mr. Collins proved his unfitness for his present responsibility, but Congressman Byrns, of Tennessee, who, as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, aided and abetted this sapping expedition against American defense has obviously disqualified himself for the leadership of that great committee at the next session.

And the Democratic leadership of the House will betray the Democratic party and the American people if it permits the great committee on appropriations to remain in control during the next session of unpatriotic legislators of the type of Collins, of Mississippi, and Byrns, of Tennessee.

Burning His Bridges Behind Him -:-

By Nelson Harding

This firm bridge, so long uniting
Nations in good faith and honor
By its stout and sturdy structure
Seems at last doomed to destruction.

For the torch of vandalism
Now is thrust beneath the timbers
And applied with little conscience
To the span between the nations.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, July 15.—Thoughts while strolling: Sam Harris, heavily tanned, suggests a rusted bite in an apple. How Tallulah Bankhead has changed lately! But still easy on the eye. Lucy Virginia Long has a swell name for a pair of goldfish. "Touch and Go." The avenue window trimmer who carries a milk-white cane.

Lots of Indians in vaudeville these days. One-word description of Julius Glaenzer—jumpy. Leon Erroll, a Sydney (Australia) boy who made good in the city. That Negro bootblack, with a mile-wide grin, called "Lasses." Somehow I always think of Grenville Kleiser as Glenville Kaiser.

Maj. Fortescue, of the Honolulu affair, looks like Roland Young. Young Morgan's voice has a slate-pencil screech. One of my favorite people—George Armsby. Gone are the professional Southerners with wide hats and shoestring ties. Harry Silvey could dye his hair and pass for Clark Gable.

A Sealyham linked to a mastiff. Suggesting Justice Hughes and Wilton Lackeye. Overheard: "History will record this horror as the bankers' blunder." Jim the Penman Flagg. Broadway's witchfires of illusion. I always think of the James Stillman home as Heartbreak House. It's the sob sister in me.

Helen Menken's coppery toss of hair. That book-seller's placard: "You may find money in one of these books." The Empire has several more ground floor tenants. Sir John Harrington wrote a version of Chic Sale's Specialist in 1596. Nothing new under the sun.

Nobody can do a whirlwind rush along the streets like Bernard Sobol. You'd think Ziegfeld was after him in person. Smith and Dale. They say Dale has every cent of his life savings in safety box cash, the lucky mug. The sort of day I'd like to sit in a rumble seat and do the hot dog stands.

A friend called on Sing Sing's Warden Lawes recently. Before leaving he pulled out an autograph book and asked for the official's signature. "I'll sign yours if you will sign mine," he offered. And did his visitor "off to Buffalo!" Lawes, incidentally, has become a prominent literary figure, what with authoring a sudden best seller. He also scored a bull's eye at a Dutch Treat luncheon as guest speaker.

Six of the remaining horse-drawn hansom cabs have driven into the endless night this summer. The white-haired coachers with glazed cockaded hats surrendered their licenses and turned their nags out to pasture. Most of the jehus are rheumatic from night air and the few fares picked up now and then did not pay for horse feed. In the clumsy swarm of traffic, the hansom stood out as a symbol of the dignity of those prideful days.

In my first view of New York atop a swaying green omnibus, lumbering northward on Fifth avenue the most vivid impression was the enormously two-wheeled hansom with driver perched high in the back. There was a confusing kaledioscope, too, of the diners at the windows in the old Waldorf, the blended shine and smudge of the library lions, the mighty traffic crush at Forty-second street, a brass dressmaking sign, "Madam Louise," and that still fashionable soda fountain incongruously named "Hicks." But in the confusion of the uncertain surmisings that July night, in the furnace blast of an attic room in a West Seventy-second street boarding house, I could think of nothing but that hansom. It is still more of a symbol of New York than anything I know.

One of the town's rich and furious debutantes, shoving off for Europe recently, explained to a group wishing her bon voyage the reason for her parents not coming to say farewell. She had cut their allowance. The debbie inherited the vast fortune of her mother, and when her father married again she could not run a fever over stepmamma. Finally she decided they were both spending too much. So she put on the brakes. And sailed away.

J. C. Flippen's dentist, whose practice has not slowed up during the depression, but who sends out bills without results, was asked how business was the other day. He replied: "Fine. I've been so busy I haven't had time to go out and borrow my rent."

LISTEN, WORLD -:-

By Elsie Robinson

Having a hard time to get along these days, aren't you, friend?

And these constant demands for help get your goat, don't they?

Normally you're a generous creature, always willing to help, but now—it's different. You resent these dreary, ragged creatures who stand on every street corner with outstretched hands. You listen sourly to their whines of discouragement, their mumbled tales of "bad breaks."

You don't really believe those tales. You feel that they're largely to blame for their own bad luck. Why didn't they save when times were good? Why didn't they use their brains and get ahead? Why do they give up so easily now when, by using some gumption, they might hold on?

You turn your head away from the outstretched hands. You harden your heart against them, and you defend yourself by saying: "All men are born free and equal. This is a free land with equal opportunities for all."

But you're wrong.

That old declaration about freedom and equality was nobly conceived and sincerely uttered—

BUT IT NEVER WAS TRUE.

We are not all born free.

We are not all born equal.

We are not all born into equal opportunity, and we never can hope to achieve it.

Millions of people, even in America, are born handicapped and shackled. They are handicapped and shackled in many ways by bad environment during the plastic years, by defective bodies, by the weak or vicious training of unfit parents.

THEY ARE HANDICAPPED, ALSO, BY THE HEARTLESSNESS, STUPIDITY AND CONFUSION OF THEIR FELLOW CITIZENS AND THE GOVERNMENT UNDER WHICH THEY LIVE!

LIBERTY IS STILL A NOBLE DREAM IN AMERICA, BUT IT IS NOT, AS YET, A SPLENDID REALITY. JUSTICE IS A BEAUTIFUL IDEAL, BUT OUR PRACTICE OF IT IS A TRAGIC TRAVESTY.

Struggle as they may, those handicapped millions can never overcome their initial handicap; can never hope to be free or powerful, happy or successful. The dice were loaded against them before they were born!

If you have money in your pocket today, while your neighbor begs, be glad for your good fortune—but do not give yourself all the credit. He may be somewhat to blame for his condition, but rarely is he entirely to blame.

You pride yourself on your spunk. You despise him for his spinelessness. But you did not make your own spunk. Before ever you were born, your forefathers built it for you. It was part of their gift to you. You inherited it, along with certain chemical conditions in your blood, with the health of your tissues and the strength of your bones.

And though your neighbor may seem as healthy as you are, though he may weigh as much, eat as much, attend the same schools, live on the same street, there is a lack in him which is not in you. He is not deliberately a failure or a fool.

You have made much of your own good luck, partner, but you also have inherited and acquired much of it without any effort on your own part. AND BECAUSE OF THAT YOU OWE A DEBT AND YOU OWE AN OBLIGATION.

YOU OWE A DEBT TO THOSE WHO WENT BEFORE, WHO BY THEIR STRUGGLES AND SACRIFICES MADE YOU WHAT YOU ARE TODAY. AND SINCE THEY PASSED THOSE GOOD GIFTS ON TO YOU, YOU ARE UNDER OBLIGATION TO PASS THEM ON TO OTHERS LESS FORTUNATE.

CHARITY IS NOT A GRACIOUS GESTURE. CHARITY IS MERELY THE PAYMENT OF A DEBT. THE FACING OF AN OBLIGATION.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Modernistic Love

Hope springs eternal in the feminine breast as long as a woman has enough enthusiasm to have another "permanent" and buy an indelible lipstick.

Summer has been called the season of romance; but more romances are wrecked by the revelations of the sunlight on the beach than are born of the magic moonlight on the water.

The styles change in everything—Clothes, manners, furniture and diseases. But, in nothing have they changed so radically as in the art of love-making, which has become so modernistic that you'd scarcely recognize it as the same old emotion.

First, woman sets up social standards and moral conventions for man to live up to—and then she sues him for alimony when he tries to dodge them.

* * *

The latest popular method of spiting your last husband, appears to be to go back and marry your first one.

It always astonishes a man to discover that a girl has an old-fashioned, red-flannel conscience underneath a fluffy, pink-georgette personality. And that underneath her saucy beach-pajama manner, there is a lot of solid, cotton-hose common sense.

Love is not actually over until a man stops making daily excuses for calling you up and begins making bi-weekly apologies for NOT calling you up.

Long after she has forgotten the kisses of a man's lips, a woman can recall the caress in his eyes—and sigh.

A "quitter," according to Reno Ruth, is a woman who stops getting married after the first two bad breaks, and just concludes that all men are a headache and not worth the aspirin.

Isn't It So?

Woman is not a part of speech; she's all of it.

If a woman doesn't show her age her dear relatives will tell it.

A woman's idea of a man's listening to reason is merely listening to her.

A man is in a terrible fix if he has water on the brain and liquor on the stomach.

King Veto; and 'Wet' Republicans

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

It will be reported with much glee in the partisan press that Mr. Hoover has "won his fight" with Congress in the matter of relief. But nothing could be easier than to win it. He has not been able to carry his own party strength for his relief ideas; he has not been able to dominate the legislative branch at all, for it has passed a measure of its own; but anyone in his position can veto a measure, and it requires two-thirds to override the veto.

When Mr. Hoover vetoed the relief measure passed by Congress he not only vetoed a Democratic bill, but he vetoed the bill that had the support of more than 30 Republicans in the House, including some of the most conservative and thoughtful among them.

He has been against the use of a penny of federal money to prevent starvation, and here King Veto had stood him in good stead.

He has been against an adequate public works program to restore a vast army of the jobless to the purchasing class, and here King Veto has been his ally.

And he is he is against the loaning of federal money, which is the money of us all, to any business enterprises able to give adequate security, because he proposes to confine his banking to a select few; and King Veto triumphs over Congress and public sentiment.

Smaller Businessman Classed with Unemployed

For an executive to triumph over a legislative body of a politically hostile character is an evidence of resourcefulness and strength when he is able to mobilize its members finally behind his plan. Al Smith did that repeatedly when Governor of New York.

Herbert Hoover's sole strength has been in the veto.

And so the congressional relief measure was killed by Mr. Hoover's veto. It was impossible to muster two-thirds of the members of the House and Senate to override the veto.

So far as the Hoover administration is concerned, the smaller businessman with adequate security, in need of money and unable to get it at the banks regardless of the fact that federal money turned over to the banks was supposed to be used for that purpose, must take his place with the unemployed.

Mr. Hoover Is Against Modification

A new measure to meet Mr. Hoover's views was introduced and passed—because it was said Congress dared not adjourn "without doing something." All that can be done that will satisfy Mr. Hoover will amount to little. However, a drop in the bucket is better than nothing; and the country will know why nothing more is possible under the shadow of Mr. Hoover's veto.

And this shows the absurdity of attempting a modification of the Volstead act at this session. That is one of the issues of the campaign. It is a matter on which the people will vote in the autumn.

Mr. Hoover is against modification and the Democrats in their platform are for it. Some of the wet Republicans in Congress, embarrassed by the uncompromisingly dry attitude of their presidential nominee and the dishonesty and mockery of their prohibition plank, are demanding that Congress modify at once.

These men do not speak for their party, for their party spoke against them in their convention; they do not speak for Mr. Hoover, for Mr. Hoover has let it be known that he stands against anything that goes beyond his platform.

The answer that should be made these wet Republicans who have been repudiated by their own party and who lack the courage or consistency to go over to the Democrats in the election, is this:

"Bring to us the assurance that your President, who is your nominee and your choice, will not veto a modification measure before you make your gesture."

Everyone knows Hoover would veto such a measure.

Everyone knows it would be impossible in the present Congress to muster the two-thirds necessary to override the veto.

And if politics is all these distressed gentlemen are thinking about, the parties are on record in their conventions and platforms, and the issue has passed to the people.

There would be some point and less hypocrisy in this move to confuse the public mind if Franklin D. Roosevelt were in the White House to receive the measure passed, instead of Herbert Hoover.

For Roosevelt openly is pledged to the signing of the modification bill, and Herbert Hoover is pledged to veto one.

If the people want modification and repeal, and if these "wet" Republicans, playing politics to confuse the people in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League and Bishop Cannon, who has come out for Hoover, want it, they know how to get what they pretend to want.

Put in power a party pledged to these things and a President who will approve the bill and put out of power the party pledged against them and a President who will veto them.

Bishop Cannon Tells Them

Lest these "wet" Republicans may really be as ignorant of the present line-up on prohibition as they seem, let us illuminate their darkness by citing the analysis of the situation by Bishop Cannon, with whom, consciously or unconsciously, they are working hand in glove.

The good Bishop tells them where their candidate, Mr. Hoover, stands in a speech delivered Sunday. Here it is in Mr. Hoover's own words:

"The (Wickersham) commission by a large majority does not favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment . . . I am in accord with this view."

And Bishop Cannon tells them where Mr. Roosevelt stands in the same speech:

"Mr. Roosevelt's election would place in the White House an outspoken enemy of the Eighteenth Amendment, who favors immediate repeal."

Bishop Cannon sees clearly enough the meaning of the pending campaign; and so do these "wet" Republicans. The latter are seeking to give Bishop Cannon's candidate an opportunity to confuse the people in liberal centers as to the issue. This was done in 1928 in New York.

Only a moron is burned twice on the same stove.

A Trick That Cannot Be Turned

Meanwhile, without making any headway with the American people as a whole, the propaganda to rush this country into the agreement to transfer the debts of 14 nations to the backs of our own taxpayers is on.

It is such an amazing attitude that Europe is taking that there can be but one of two possible explanations. One is an almost incredible audacity on the part of the debtor nations; the other is that some one high in the councils of this country has secretly given them assurance that the trick can be turned.

It is a trick that cannot be turned. But it would be interesting to know where these European statesmen got their confidence in their capacity to turn the trick.
